Auto Licenses in Oregon, 36 Years Old

Thirty-six years ago, on May 19, 1905, Oregon started registering motor vehicles when the secretary of state issued registration certificate number one to Helmus Thompson, of Eugene. At the end of that year, a total of 218 vehicles was registered in this state.

On the 36th anniversary of that date, May 19, of this year, there were 381,150 motor vehicles registered in Oregon and by the end of this year, registration is expected to exceed 425,000, according to Earl Snell, secretary of state. Registration last year was just 187 vehicles short of 400,000 and to date, the number of vehicles licensed in Oregon is eight per cent ahead of the registration for the same date a year ago.

The Oregon legislative assembly of 1905 adopted an act requiring that owners of motor vehicles in this state must register each vehicle with the secretary of state, paying fee of three dollars. This fee was not an annual license, but was good for an indefinite time. It was not till 1911 that annual registration of motor vehicles was required.

In 1905, the owner received no license plates, but was required to display the number of his certificate on his vehicle. The numerals could be painted on, or the owner could purchase a number plate somewhat similar to the plates now in use. Records of the descriptions filed for automobiles registered during 1905 indicate that many of them were tiller-steered and some even were home made.

There were 32 cars registered the first day the law was operative in Oregon, 12 from Portland, ten from Salem, four from Eugene, three from Grants Pass and one each from Woodburn, Arlington and Silverton.

Oregon at present has 313,859 private vehicles registered, or one such vehicle for every 3.4 persons living in the state. Fees for motor vehicle registrations for the first four months of this year amounted to $2,806,943.

"Blondie" Goes Latin—And How!

In a merry medley of mirth and melody, the Bumsteads return to the Liberty Theatre Saturday and Sunday to prove themselves inimitable swing-singing-dancing stars as well as the nation's favorite family of funsters! Hailed as one of the most enjoyable comedies with music ever filmed, Columbia's "Blondie Goes Latin" is said to be a sensational, fast and furious piece of screen entertainment, which compares favorably with the best the year has offered!

Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake and Larry Simms are featured, with Tito Lary and Ruth Terry heading the stellar supporting cast. Famous on Broadway as a musical comedy star, Miss Singleton's screen fame has hitherto been derived from the effectiveness with which she portrayed Chic Young's newspaper comic strip character "Blondie." Lake, a vaudeville song-and-dance star until he turned to acting, has also achieved success as Blondie's harassed husband Dagwood; but now Lake breaks loose—to prove himself as versatile an entertainer as his screen wife. "Baby Dumpling" Simms embarks upon a musical comedy routine with equal efficiency, and sensational effectiveness! Guizar is world famous as a Mexican singing star; Miss Terry is the young screen starlet who achieved success in the night club world for the catchiness with which she "puts over" her routines! Their numbers include "Querida," "You Don't Play a Drum (You Beat It!)", "Brazilian Cotillion," "I Hate Music Lessons" and "You Can't Cry on My Shoulder," all by Bob Wright and Chet Forrest.

Action of "Blondie Goes Latin" takes place aboard a South American-bound passenger liner, with Blondie and Baby Dumpling helping Mr. Dithers, Dagwood's boss, to "escape from it all." Dagwood is supposed to be back at the office, minding his own business, but he blunderingly manages to get aboard the vessel as a stowaway. Posing as a member of the ship's band, he attempts to evade Blondie and Mr. Dithers. The complications ensue when he becomes involved with the girl singer with the band.
