

B. P. W.'s Mother-Daughter Banquet

Among the mothers and foster mothers attending the Business and Professional Women's club 15th annual Mother and Daughter banquet, was one foster mother, Mrs. F. G. Leslie, who has attended the banquet each year since the custom was inaugurated. Mrs. Leslie has each year been the guest of Mrs. James R. Richmond.

The banquet was held Monday evening at Guild hall. Members of St. James Guild prepared and served dinner. Decorations followed the year's most popular color scheme, red, white and blue. At intervals along the table were groups of small flags interspersed with bouquets of Spring flowers which carried out the color scheme. Blue tapers highlighted the decorations.

Ellen Braxton, president of the club and chairman of the executive committee, the body that planned the affair, presided. During dinner, Miss Braxton introduced the various people who appeared on the program.

For club members, Miss Braxton greeted the mothers, who chose Mrs. F. G. Leslie to respond for them. Ruth Bayers, accompanied by Maud Skaggs Woodyard at the piano, led group singing. Florence Hallock, who played her own accompaniment on the auto-harp, sang "Mother, Oh, My Mother" and "Pal of My Cradle Days." Mrs. Roy Barton, accompanied by Mrs. M. O. Hawkins, sang "In an Old Fashioned Town" and "Sweet Maggie." Two readings were given by Mrs. R. E. Boober. The first was light and humorous and the second was that well-known favorite "The House Beside the Road."

Patriotic plaques, gifts for the mother guests, covered numbers to determine the winners of a drawing for bouquets. This drawing is a banquet custom started some years ago. The mothers who won bouquets were Mesdames Minnie Herman, Vivian Fish, Ed McKeown, R. V. Ames, Annie Rooney and F. G. Leslie. Two mothers of 12 children drew to determine which one would receive the gift for the mother of the largest family. Mrs. R. V. Ames and Mrs. Mary Alice Newton vied for the prize, which Mrs. Ames won. Mrs. F. G. Leslie was given a prize for having attended the most B. P. W. Mother and Daughter banquets.

The guests, who were mothers, foster mothers or daughters, of club members were Mesdames Martha Young, M. S. Coker, of Seattle, Vivian Fish, Phoebe Harry, Annie Rooney, Irene Hartwell, Emily Hersey, Halie Leach, Ruby Cousins, Susie Martin, R. B. ### SOCIAL NOTES

The Aaron Wilsons, who for the past few years have been living in Myrtle Point, where Mr. Wilson manages Eaton's Feed Store, recently bought a small ranch in Stringtown. Friends from here gave the Wilsons a surprise house-warming Friday evening. The party was planned by Mrs. Ralph Harry, Mrs. Paul Simpson, Mrs. V. L. Bailey and Mrs. Levi Wilson. Presents and party fare were taken to the new home. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Ralph Harry, Willard Sloan, Art Towne, John Widmark and Elson, Levi Wilson, John Sander, Paul Simpson, E. H. O'Dell, Aaron Wilson, Mesdames Della Towne V. L. Bailey and L. C. Gammon of Bonners, Ferry, Idaho.

Mrs. D. G. Ireland entertained members of the Charta club for luncheon Thursday. During the entire afternoon, no one held a hand containing 300 pinochle, so Mrs. Ireland awarded a second prize in place of the customary traveling. Mrs. Ted Snyder held high score, Mrs. Ernest Pagel, second and Mrs. Ernest Whereat, consolation. Mrs. Hobart Schaefer was a guest. Members present were Mesdames Jay Carter, Val Harless, D. G. Ireland, Ernest Pagel, Ted Snyder, Edna Stewart and Ernest Whereat.

The Three "S" club met Wednesday evening with Mrs. John Fisher for pinochle. Mrs. Leonard Ensele won first prize, Mrs. John Shoemate, traveling prize and Mrs. Woodrow Jones, consolation. Two substitutes, Mrs. Ensele and Miss Wilma Roth, were invited for the evening. Members present were Mesdames Orville Hughes, Glen Jones, Woodrow Jones, O. E. Larson, John Shoemate and John Fisher.

Mrs. Roy Wheeler entertained her pinochle club at luncheon Tuesday. About the rooms were fragrant bouquets of white carnations and pink roses. Prize winners were Mrs. Charles Lewis, high score; Mrs. George Burr, second; Mrs. John Kaufman, traveling and Mrs. Al Burch, guest prize. Club members wished Mrs. Jack McLaren "Happy Birthday" by giving her a towel shower. Guests substituting for absent members were Mesdames George Burr, Al Burch and John Kaufman of Astoria. Members present were Mesdames Charles Lewis, Ernest Whereat, Jack McLaren, Roy Wheeler, A. A. Kyle, Loal Hickenbottom, Ralph Hurlbutt, Ben Leatherwood and Ralph Menning.

Mrs. Arlin Elliott entertained her card club at dessert and bridge Wednesday evening. Club members, who discovered that the party was held on Mrs. Elliott's birthday, gave her a surprise handkerchief shower. Mrs. Harold Dey won first prize and Mrs. Dennis Wagner, second. Two guests, Mrs. Irving Larson and Mrs. Darrell Brodie, of Long Beach, Washington, were present. Members there were Mesdames Ray Dellefsen, Harold Dey, Arlin Elliott, Harold Stevens, Tom Stevens, LeRoy Swinney and Dennis Wagner.

Mrs. Frank Schram and Mrs. Wm. Peart gave a birthday party Wednesday afternoon at the Peart home for Mrs. Miranda Way who celebrated her 78th birthday. Guests were all members of Mrs. Way's Sunday school class. They brought her lovely gifts. The hostesses served strawberry shortcake and, for a birthday touch, lighted small candles held in gum drop candleholders. Among the gifts Mrs. Way received was a beautiful bouquet of roses, which added to the party decorations. Those present were Mesdames Cora Wimer, Augusta Stromquist, May E. Bates, Showalter, Ella Nelson, Ella Law, Mabel Gray, Florence Rogers, Blanche Davis, Miranda Way, the guest of honor, and the two hostesses, Mrs. Peart and Mrs. Schram.

The Tanda Group of Campfire girls gave a party Thursday evening at the Leland Peart home, for teachers at the Washington school. The girls planned all details of the party. Each teacher received, a carnation corsage when she arrived. Five Campfire girls, Sally Bonney, Rose Marie Peart, Joan Savage, Betty Lou Dalton and Ann Harbison, received their Woodgathers' rank. There were games and refreshments. Teachers attending the party included Vesta Miley, Inez Chase, Edith Walton, Alberta Tyrrell, Hazel Moffett, Ruth Towne, Bessie Christensen and Ethel Roop. Mrs. Chas. Meyers, a former Tanda guardian, was also present. Tanda members were Ann Harbison, Estelle Mae Howe, Dorothy Jean Hughes, Betty Lou Dalton, Joan Savage, Rose Marie Peart, Sally Bonney and Carol Jean Gray.

Buzzy Oerding, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Oerding's young son, celebrated his ninth birthday at a circus party Wednesday afternoon. His birthday cake looked like a miniature merry-go-round. Each boy's place was marked with an animal cracker bearing his name in frosting. Circus trucks, filled with cookies and candies were favors popular with the youngsters. Buzzy's guests were Wallace Liechty, Bobbie Oerding, Douglas Liechty, Dick Cooper, Dickie Harry, Joe Berg, Edward Peterson, Jack Sieck and Billy Johnson.
