Felt The Earth-Quake In Lima

In a letter to her aunt, Mrs. Marian D. Grimes, Mrs. Carol Dunshee writes from Lima, Peru, that she felt the earthquake they had down there on Aug. 13—she slept through the first one a few weeks before:

Experienced my first earthquake here yesterday and I was wide awake! It happened at 2:35 and I was sitting on a chair in the hall of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. offices, calmly waiting for my husband. It was on the sixth (top) floor of the tallest building in Lima, and I felt the building swaying to and fro. I looked in the office and could see Mr. Hawkins sitting calmly in his chair, although looking around, and I thought, "I'll sit here as long as he sits in his chair." The seconds seemed like minutes; my heart was in my throat and I broke out in a cold sweat. Looked again at Mr. Hawkins and saw him jump out of his chair and start for the doorway—likewise did I.

Just then "Doc" (Win Dunshee) came rushing toward me saying: "Did you feel the tremor?" I could have shaken him. I assured him I did and I guess he could tell as much when he took hold of my arm. By this time the doorway was full but, in a few moments, some one said: "It's all over." Everyone sort of laughed, rather a nervous relaxation, and went back to work, while I returned to my chair, to get hot and cold, hot and cold, and shiver. Some fun! I really didn't enjoy it a bit, though I don't believe I'll feel so nervous another time. And had we been on the street, we probably wouldn't have felt it enough to speak of.

She adds that she and Mr. Dunshee were going to Guayaquil, Ecuador, last Thursday, by plane, where they would enjoy some warm weather. Being south of the equator, spring is just around the corner at Lima, as is fall here. They will be in Ecuador and Bolivia until December.

Belle Knife Hospital

Mrs. Kate Sanford, who entered for treatment last week, is doing nicely. A ten pounds, eight ounces baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Erickson of Coquille last Saturday.

H. S. Cadman, former Coquille valley rancher, now operating a ranch near Langlois, entered last Sunday for treatment.

Glen Cox was brought in Sunday, from Myrtle Point, for treatment of back injuries.

Arden Maiden entered Monday for treatment of a badly cut hand, received at the McKinley mill.

Mrs. C. Osborn, of Sitkum, underwent a major operation on Monday and Barrow W. Crowell, Jr., of Roseburg, entered for treatment of a leg injury the same day.

Arthur Hickenbottom, who suffered a cut knee injury at the Morris Ray camp was brought to the hospital Tuesday.

The eight months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Steinmetz was brought to the hospital Tuesday suffering from serious burns.

Mrs. Earl Griffith underwent a major operation on Tuesday.

Mrs. Zoe M. Shields, of Bridge, entered yesterday for chest treatments.

This morning Mrs. Lois Hawkins, of Coquille, underwent a major operation, Mrs. B. L. Tracy a minor one, and the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Barklow, of Myrtle Point, a tonsilectomy.

Dismissals the past week were Jim Gaffey and Miles M. Bonnel, both of Coquille, and John Bretzel of Myrtle Point, all last Saturday.

Importance of fire prevention as a war measure is noted by statistics which show that 95 per cent of Oregon's timber production is used for military purposes. It takes 5,000 board feet for each man in uniform.

Fiber from a common mallow plant that grows wild in the West Indies, Central and South America, is being substituted in large quantities for East Indian Jute in making hatting and cord.

Hitler is reported to have created a special decoration for inhabitants of occupied countries who collaborate with the Nazis. Called, no doubt, The Double Cross.

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

NUMBER 58 ★ How to fool the fuss-budget ★ A list of foods that save you money early in the week, too ★ A timely story with a moral

Have you a fuss-budget on food in your house?

Here's how to fool him!

In which the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau presents five sensible tips.

1. Determine just why he or she is finicky. If he's sick, or has a sensitive stomach or an allergy, or remembers unpleasant associations about certain foods, you have to take these things into consideration.
2. Give the fussy eater more foods rich in B vitamins, because these vitamins promote healthy appetite, good digestion, and general well-being.
3. Disguise foods that are disliked. For example, serve milk in custards, milk shakes, cream soups, and other milk-rich dishes, or instead serve cheese.
4. Combine disliked foods with others that are well-liked. For example, mash turnips with potatoes, season with milk or cream and butter, and the turnips can hardly be tasted.
5. Don't talk too much about nutrition, or tell the fuss-budget how good a certain food is, or urge him to eat, or you'll surely invite rebellion. Just make the food as attractive and good-tasting as you can, and watch what happens.

More ways to disguise foods

Read the article "Fooling the Fuss-Budget" in this week's Family Circle for ways to disguise foods, for substitutes and recipes. Family Circle is out every Thursday, free at Safeway.
