Dorothy Watson
Bride of Milton Roth

A quiet but impressive wedding ceremony took place last Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Watson in Myrtle Point when Dorothy Watson, their daughter and old child, became the bride of Milton Roth, of Coquille.

The Rev. Hugh T. Mitchelmore officiated and the ring ceremony was performed in a setting of ferns, marigolds and zinnias in the presence of the bride's parents; Mr. and Mrs. William Roth, parents of the groom; his sisters, Maxine and Lucille, and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Tully.

The bride wore an emerald green jacket dress with brown accessories and a corsage of orange blossoms and fuchsia. Mrs. Roth graduated from the Myrtle Point Union High school in the class of 1941. The couple received many lovely gifts.

Following the ceremony the couple left on a short trip to outside points. Mr. and Mrs. Roth will make their home near Coquille, where Mr. Roth is employed at the Smith Wood-Products plant.

Those coming for the reunion were: Mrs. Myrtle Pollock, of Saginaw, Oregon; Mrs. Lester Beckles, of Sonora, Calif.; Mrs. Chas. Stallsmith, of Edmonds, Wash.; Mrs. Clarence Wood and son of Sutherlin, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mooney, of Bandon, and Miss Ann Mooney, who is a teacher at Sonora, Calif.

Men Are Needed In Lumber Industry

During these times of national emergency, our government is calling on everyone to do his or her part in the war effort. Men are needed in all industrial plants throughout the nation, to produce material so vital to the war effort. Many men are engaged in lines of endeavor that are not essential and it is to these men that attention is now focused. It is our patriotic duty to ourselves, our community, and our county, to adjust ourselves that we may contribute in some way to assure the ultimate victory for which we are fighting.

Men are needed to fill the vacancies created by those who have joined the armed forces. There is a serious shortage of lumber to meet the demands made by the army and navy, and we are asked to step up production.

This is a request to all able-bodied men to answer the call of industry. If your work is not essential, drop it for the duration, and help fill the gap in the woods or the mills.

Good wages are being paid and the hours are so regulated that much work can be done before and after your shift in a mill. This is your chance to become a part of "a Nation at War."

Will Speak At High School Next Wed.

The Coquille schools faculty will hear a discussion of social hygiene education by Dr. Adolph Weinzirl, director, and Mrs. George Moorhead, field secretary, both from the Division of Social Hygiene Education, University of Oregon Medical School.

On Wednesday afternoon, September 16, at 3:45 p. m. at the Coquille High school, Dr. Weinzirl and Mrs. Moorhead will discuss the two divisions of the subject, namely venereal disease and sex education, particularly as they relate to science and health education in the schools. Two sound motion pictures will be presented both dealing with scientific data related to reproduction. These films are new on the Pacific Coast and have been shown only once before in Oregon.

Dr. Weinzirl, who is also Professor of Public Health and Preventive Medicine at the medical school, is well qualified to discuss social hygiene because of his fifteen years' experience in health departments in Seattle, Baltimore and Portland. The Coos County Public Health Association and Coos County Health Department are arranging speaking engagements in Marshfield, Powers and Myrtle Point.

On The Sidelines

(By LOUIS GILBERT)

On Tuesday, September 7, with the beginning of school, 38 grid aspirants turned out under "Spike" Leslie's supervision to begin his fifth consecutive year in the capacity of athletic director of Coquille High School.

With lettermen as scarce as hairs on Il Duce's gourd head, Leslie is confronted with the stupendous task of molding a "showable" eleven out of the motley array of material presented on Tuesday afternoon. No special drill was slated for the Red Devils on their opening night for practice, so the enthusiastic turn-outs proceeded to hold a rough and tumble scrimmage between the equally divided squad; guaranteed to produce some very sore boys within the next few days.

What has become of Coquille's Turf—A close inspection of the same, disclosed a few patches of weeds here and there, and bare expanses of dirt elsewhere. It seems there is something sorely lacking in some department of the High School Administration. When the Turf was first proposed, money was raised to have the field plowed, disced and seeded. After a few weeks, the entire field showed promise of a passable facsimile resembling a turf—but a turf cannot care for itself. If the field had been watered, as it should have been, the entire summer, Coquille could have boasted one of the best athletic gridirons of the county, but I repeat, a turf doesn't just spring out of the ground and wave gaily in the air without any sort of attention whatsoever. The only feasible answer is—neglect, and indifference.

Another thing I have noticed is the sad turn-outs for football by the boys of Coquille High School. With "Physical Fitness" the most-screamed slogan in our war effort, it seems as though all boys who are anywhere near physically able, should turn out, because it not only helps the individual and High School athletic organization—besides being the most fun a boy can have—but helps Uncle Sam to train his young men in their fight to "stymie the Heinie," "Wop the Wop," or "Slap the Jap" like they've never been "waxed" before.

With almost four weeks of drilling in preparation for the Marshfield bout the first week in October, the Red Devils should have their offensive and defensive defects pretty well ironed out and running smoothly for their first game. There are quite a few new prospects out for football this season among which "Spike" should find enough suitable material to fill in the line and backfield vacancies.

Whatever the case may be, or situation that arises during a game, Coquille fans can count on seeing some scrappy, fighting games no matter who the opponent is.

Chickens—Ready for the Pan

Paul Maxwell, Safeway Meat Market in Portland, proudly displays a flock of the cleaned and drawn Pan-Ready chickens now being offered Safeway customers. Selling pre-dressed poultry is a new Safeway service just recently introduced. The chickens are dressed in a central eviscerating plant right after being killed, and rushed to the markets daily. Besides saving time and work for both customers and the market men, consumers can be assured that the cleaning and drawing has been done expertly, that flavor is always tops, all possible danger of any off-flavor contamination having been removed with the waste. Prices are quoted by the pound and are all based on actual net weights. Legs, head and entrails are not paid for as is the custom when buying undressed (known as New York dressed) poultry. In many instances, Safeway Pan-Ready (pre-dressed) chickens, though naturally selling at a higher per pound price, when compared on an equivalent basis with "New York Dressed" actually cost less. Safeway believes selling poultry the Pan-Ready way is an all-around improvement over prevailing methods and one which benefits the consumer in every way. All Safeway markets are featuring them this week.—Safeway Stores.
