Mrs. Halter was married this summer while she was away from Riverton. Her husband is in the armed forces. Many lovely gifts were received and opened during the afternoon. Those attending the affair were: Mesdames Kronsteiner, Creager, Anderson, Kemp, Holbrook, Cody Carlson, Lillie Hepler, Aletha Robison, George Stewart, Wilda Clausen, Mettie Peterson, Perna Brault, Stratton, Bernice Clausen, Wm. Church, Grant Hartwell and Mrs. Conard Bogard, who arrived just as the affair was ending. Several ladies sent gifts but were unable to attend.

The Women's Club of the Riverton district met last Friday. The next meeting will be the first Friday in October and will be another potluck affair. The club expects Mrs. Bishop to be present at their next meeting and ask that all those who are interested in the Home Demonstration work attend the meeting. This club was organized with the idea of being helpful to the many women of the district and it depends on your cooperation for its survival. We assure you that many helpful ideas will be derived from these meetings and that your time will not be wasted if you attend.

SMALLPOX

Still A Menace

Before vaccine that protects against smallpox was discovered, the disease was one of the worst scourges of mankind. Gradually, since vaccination has become so universal, smallpox is being stamped out.

However, smallpox is still with us and is unexpectedly bobbing up from time to time. Wide travel and crowds that bring people into such close contact, make it necessary to be protected.

Today vaccination is simple, practically painless, and ill-effects are extremely rare. The vaccination should be done by a reputable physician and the same care exercised against infection as with any other skin abrasion.
