Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Church Honored With A Party

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Church, whose marriage took place October 10, were honored Sunday evening, after the church service, with a party sponsored by the Cornerstone and high school classes and the Christian Endeavor society of the Church of Christ. The group announced their arrival with a vigorous honking of horns and beating of tin pans, then the honored couple was invited to the Glen-Hutton home next door, where the party took place.

A delightful evening of Christian fellowship and fun was enjoyed, with refreshments of ice cream, cookies and punch. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Glenn Church, Fred Christensen, Ralph Harry, Levi Wilson, Irvin Woodward, Donald Farr and little son, David, Allen Rhy, Liston Parrish and Glen Hutton; Mesdames Martha E. Mulkey, Elwyn Nosler and little daughter, Peggy; Paul Simpson and Doris Schaer; Misses Marjorie Baumgartner, Lynne Culver, Mary Borell and Janice Osterhout; Messrs. Clarence Fiser, Earl Benham and Wilton Willey.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Watson entertained Friday evening for their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Corser, of Hillsboro. Mr. Corser, who, the last of the month, goes into the Army, was given special attention when his hostess served a red, white and blue frosted cake decorated with military insignia. Guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Wayne Watson and Elsie, Charley Watson, Francis Arrell, LeRoy Starr and Barbara and Mrs. J. W. Starr.

Surprise Farwell Party For Miles Hartwell Last Friday

Miles Hartwell was pleasantly surprised at his home in Riverton by a group of young people of the Methodist Church last Friday evening. The group was made up of Epworth League young people and was accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Walter Oerding, and by the Rev. and Mrs. Chas. G. Brown, the Methodist minister and his wife. Cherie Mae Hartwell, a Coquille teacher and sister of the guest-of-honor, also accompanied the group. The evening was spent playing games and refreshments were served by Mrs. Irene Hartwell, Miles' mother. Miles has recently enlisted in the Navy Reserve of the U. S. Maritime Service and is waiting for his call to service.

Those attending the affair were: Geraldine and Jane Oerding, Phyllis Lehmanowsky, June Collins, Edward Stevenson, Tommy Newton, Milton

Tyrrell, Donald, McLarrin and Rex Taylor, of Coquille; Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hartwell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, Cleo Kight, Ernest Kight, and Micky Smith, all of Riverton. The evening was very much enjoyed by all and the entire group wish Miles lots of luck and a "Happy-Homecoming."

Mrs. Ralph Hurlbutt entertained her Pinochle club Monday evening. After dessert, the games started. When the scores were tallied it was found that Mrs. McLarrin had both first prize and pinochle prize. Mrs. Loal Hickenbottom won the second prize. Members present were Mesdames William Gaffey, Jack McLarrin, Ed Yarbrough, Loal Hickenbottom, Pete Norton, Van Spores and Ralph Hurlbutt. Mrs. Fred Ball substituted.

Mrs. Van Spore is giving a triple birthday luncheon today for Mrs. Hobart Schaer, Mrs. Lorene Chard and Mrs. Claude Lemon, all of whom are celebrating their birthdays this week.

Roger McCune, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McCune, celebrated his ninth birthday Saturday at a party given by his mother. Roger's friends came to his home for 12:30 dessert. After eating their birthday cake, trimmed with yellow frosting and ice cream, the youngsters went to the matinee. Roger's guests were Donnie Taylor, Keith Johnson, Delores McLeod, Lolita and Etheleen Robinson, Eddie Howe, Sandra McCurdy, Nonie Travis and Donald Christensen.

A big box of gifts went north this week to Mrs. Marshall R. Kennedy at Bremerton. The presents were brought by Mrs. Kennedy's many friends here to a shower given Thursday evening by Mrs. U. E. McClary. Mrs. William Candlin, Mary Margaret Kennedy's "other mother" opened the packages so that everyone could enjoy seeing the presents. After dessert, there was bridge with Mrs. Don McEniry, winning first prize and Mrs. Frank Thrift, second.

The guest list included Mesdames J. S. Barton, Clarence Barton, Ed McKeown, Lucille Livingston, L. B. Gould, Dee Richardson, George Maynard, Frank Thrift, H. W. Pierce, Andy Anderson, Don McEniry, Talant Greenough, William Barrow, E. L. Peterson, J. D. Rankin, J. A. Berg, Don Estes, Walter Litzenberger, George Chaney, Stanley Ayres; J. K. Henninger, T. K. Foss, Harold Stromquist, Sarah Margaret Anderson, William Candlin, L. H. Hazard, Fred Hudson, D. E. Ruckeliff, Elton Schroeder, A. B. Collier, L. L. Bonney, E. D. McCune and the Misses Ann Barton, Norene McKeown, Ellen Braxton, Lydia Holstein and Helen Landes.

After the many lovely gifts were unwrapped and admired there was a program consisting of a solo, "Love's Old Sweet Song," by Mrs. Elmer Goodpaster, accompanied by Mrs. Neil Kyne at the piano. A reading, "To the Bride," by Miss Margaret Steward and a mock wedding. Wayne Schroeder played the part of groom, Melvin Steward, with much rouged cheeks and gowned in a pink calico dress and blue smock and straw hat and carrying a bouquet of sunflowers and a bag of pop corn, was the hill billy bride, Rosebud. Oscar Wafford in blue crepe and kerchief headgear was a most attractive bridesmaid, while Arthur Hensley was best man. The bride was given in marriage by Wm. Van Fleet who entered leaning heavily on a cane and wearing boots and straw hat and having his trousers upheld with rope suspenders.

Becomes Bride Of Missoula Man

Miss Kathryn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Flannery, at a quiet wedding at 7:30 o'clock last evening, became the bride of Gerald Edward Kaiser, of Missoula, Mont., where they will make their home.

Rev. Chas. G. Brown spoke the words which made them man and wife and they were attended by the bride's sister, Marian, and Charles Adams, both of this city.

Following the ceremony a reception in their honor was held at the Flannery home, to which twenty-five of their friends had been invited.

Virginia Van Fleet Paul Pinkston Wed

Last Thursday evening beneath an arch of autumn leaves in the lower auditorium of the Assembly of God Church, Virginia Van Fleet became the bride of Paul Pinkston at a quiet ceremony witnessed only by immediate relatives and a few close friends. The bride in a gown of pale blue chiffon over pale pink, was given in marriage by her father, Wm. Van Fleet. Her bridesmaid was her sister, Winifred, who was gowned in navy blue crepe. John Pinkston acted as his brother's best man. Neil Kyne acted as usher and Mrs. Kyne played the wedding march. Mrs. Persing sang, "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Kyne at the piano.

The guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Elmer Goodpaster, O. M. Potter, Oscar Wafford, Neil Kyne, Ben Knife, Elmer Knife, Orval Newton, C. C. McCurdy, Oren Coy, A. B. Schroeder and Wayne, John Pinkston and baby, M. W. Pinkston. Mesdames Harry Cooper, Johnny Cooper, Raymond Cooper, Richard Daugherty and Patty, Joe Surrell and Mary, Inez Pinkston, Alice, Allen and Lee, Charles Byrd, Bruce Owen, Delpha and Wilbur, Mrs. Bessie Marney, Ruby, Faye, Betty, Carl, Nancy and Kathleen Marney, Mrs. Glen Church, Mrs. Leona Swindall, Misses Carol and Rebecca Pinkston, Naomi, Winifred and Shirley Van Fleet, Helen Hickam, Irene White, Messrs. Louis Pinkston, Arthur Hensley, Claude Van Fleet, Jerry White, Glen Heath, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Van Fleet and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pinkston.

Reception For The Newlyweds

Saturday evening at the Assembly of God church a reception and bridal shower were given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pinkston. The room was beautifully decorated with autumn foliage, silver bells and blue streamers.

After the many lovely gifts were unwrapped and admired there was a program consisting of a solo, "Love's Old Sweet Song," by Mrs. Elmer Goodpaster, accompanied by Mrs. Neil Kyne at the piano. A reading, "To the Bride," by Miss Margaret Steward and a mock wedding. Wayne Schroeder played the part of groom, Melvin Steward, with much rouged cheeks and gowned in a pink calico dress and blue smock and straw hat and carrying a bouquet of sunflowers and a bag of pop corn, was the hill billy bride, Rosebud. Oscar Wafford in blue crepe and kerchief headgear was a most attractive bridesmaid, while Arthur Hensley was best man. The bride was given in marriage by Wm. Van Fleet who entered leaning heavily on a cane and wearing boots and straw hat and having his trousers upheld with rope suspenders.

Elmer Goodpaster as the hill billy parson was very realistic in his long tailed coat, black hat, black beard and spectacles.

After the fun, Miss Violet Howard, on behalf of the young people of the church, presented a lovely fountain pen to the groom, who leaves Thursday to enter the armed forces of his country. A large three-tier wedding cake and punch were served the guests by Mrs. Harry Cooper, assisted by the Misses Naomi and Shirlee Van Fleet and Carol and Rebecca Pinkston.

Those attending were Messrs. and Mesdames Oscar Wafford, Elmer Goodpaster, A. B. Schroeder, M. W. Pinkston, J. M. Pinkston, John Pinkston, Oren Coy, Glen Church, Lloyd Persing, Wm. Van Fleet, Mesdames Bessie Marney, Bessie Cooper, Marie Cooper, Frances Holmstrom, Eva English, Leona Swindall, Virginia Kyne, O. M. Potter, Ada Howard, Alice Allen, Joe Surrell, O. L. Service Clubs To Meet Hereafter In Coquille Cafe

The Coquille Lions Club and the Rotary this week began holding their Thursday and Wednesday noon sessions in the Coquille Cafe. Chinese restaurant on Front street. The change was made necessary by the abbreviated meals service which Mr. and Mrs. Lufe Compton have been forced to by the help shortage. The hotel will continue to serve house guests in the cafe, but no one else.

Organize Douglas-MacArthur Relief Corps Here

A group of patriotic Coquille women met in Eagles Hall Tuesday, Oct. 20, to organize a unit of the National Woman's Relief Corps. Mabel Zedwick, of Corvallis, past president of the department of Oregon Woman's Relief Corps, was delegated to supervise this work. Members of the Bandon Corps came up to assist and to wish them well. A noon luncheon was served in the basement and the business session was conducted in the afternoon.

The name unanimously chosen was Douglas MacArthur Corps No. 58. Officers elected were: President, Mabel Von Pegert; Senior Vice President, Ida Roth; Junior Vice Pres., Dora Burr; Treasurer, Mary Hatcher; Chaplain, Clara Wheeler; Conductor, Mattie McGuffin; Guard, Mary Schroeder. Maude Bean was appointed secretary and patriotic instructor is Flora Dunne. Assistant conductor is Eula McIntee and Assistant Guard is Leona Foley.

Field Officer Edna Rike, of the Bandon Corps, acted as installing officer. She was assisted by Wretha Tucker, musician; Anna Truman, conductor, and Maryette Morse, Emma Larson, Mary Wagner, Ella Sell, Lena Hunt, June Danielson, and Gertrude Danielson. The Bandon Corps president, Emma Larson, announced their inspection for Wednesday, Oct. 21. Their corps meets in the Bandon Masonic hall.

The Douglas MacArthur, No. 58, Woman's Relief Corps of Coquille will meet the first and third Wednesdays of each month.—Press Cor.

Wool Clippings Will Help Red Cross

Mrs. Gano now has on hand, to be made for the Coos county Chapter of the American Red Cross, some men's pajamas and soldiers' kits. Anyone wishing to sew for Red Cross may get the material from her.

Wool clippings are to be gathered in and sent to Marshfield soon. These will be sold and the money used for Red Cross work.

Besides the stores which have been saving these clippings, there are no doubt many local women who have small scraps of wool that are not large enough for any other purpose, which could be turned in.

Marshfield has gathered in 100 pounds. What can we do here in Coquille? Besides getting rid of something that you have no need for you are helping a good cause.

These clippings are also to be turned in to Mrs. Gano.

Eagles Lodge News

There will be no meeting on Friday night so lodge members will be free to attend 4th bond drive at the Community Building.

On Oct. 24th the Eagles and their friends will dance at the F. O. E. hall. The Auxiliary will serve lunch in the basement at a small charge.

The Auxiliary Sewing club meets on the 28th for a potluck dinner at the hall.
