

Married Here Last Thursday

Edward Herbert Cadman, known as Teddy when he attended the Coquille schools, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Cadman who now live on a ranch near Langlois, was united in marriage to Miss Gloria Delores Daniele, of Langlois, at the St. James' Episcopal church here at 5:30 last Thursday evening, Rev. Robert L. Greene officiating.

The bride wore a brown wool suit with blue accessories and her corsage was of white gardenias.

Her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hagen with whom she has made her home at Langlois, were best man and matron of honor respectively. Mr. Hagen is principal of the Langlois school.

Only the immediate families of the contracting parties were in attendance.

After the ceremony they went to the Cadman home for a wedding dinner and then left on a short wedding trip.

Saturday morning they left for the south, Mrs. Cadman to resume her studies at the Southern Oregon Normal at Ashland which she has attended for two years, and he for the U. S. Marine Corps base at San Diego where he is stationed. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in January, 1942, and is now a corporal.

Mrs. Cadman, who was born and grew to young womanhood at Keewatin, Minn., is a graduate of Langlois high school, and her husband, who is well and most favorably known in and around Coquille, is a graduate of the Port Orford high school.

April 24 Is Date For $10,000 Luncheon

Probably the most important affair coming off this spring is the Bond Luncheon next Saturday at 12:30 o'clock in Marshfield at the Chandler Hotel. On this occasion Coos county women are to hear Mrs. Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, who happens to be the District Head of Sales in Women's Organizations for United States War Bonds and Stamps under direction of the United States Treasury Dept.

Coquille chairmen within the different organizations are making record sales of both stamps and bonds. The following women are serving here: Coquille Woman's Club, Mrs. Fred Houston; B. P. W., Mrs. Viola Newton; Rebekah Lodge, Mrs. Florence Hallock; Social Club of Eastern Star, Mrs. M. F. Pettit; W. C. T. U., Mrs. W. P. Laws; County Extension Club, Mrs. Alma Halter; Junior Women's Club, Mrs. Hazel Scharfer; Women's Society Christian Service, Mrs. Eva Stevens. Local chairman is Mrs. R. A. Wernich and Mrs. Albert Powers, Jr., of Marshfield, is county chairman.

Red Cross Needs Help Of Ladies

The Coquille Red Cross unit is in need of ladies to cut garments and to make them at this time. As Mrs. Alborn is out of town, anyone wishing to knit in the future will please register with Mrs. Gano, phone 100.

Because of lack of knitters it was necessary to return yarn to Marshfield which had to be finished at a certain date. While it is uncertain just when there will be another supply of yarn in, if those who can help will register, it will be possible to determine about how many garments can be placed on the next issue.

Three Birthdays Celebrated At Collier Home

A family birthday celebration was held last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Collier. The three brothers, Clyde, Jim and Pats Collier, all have birthdays falling in the same month. Reason enough for a picnic lunch with each family participating and a gathering of friends later in the afternoon.

'U.S. in a New World' By Mrs. Sackett

Members and friends of the Business and Professional Women's Club at their meeting on Monday night at Guild Hall turned out well to hear Mrs. Sheldon Sackett speak. Her subject, "United States in a New World," or as she added "The subject of United States after the war is of course a fascinating one." Mrs. Sackett was modest in her statement that she did not profess to be an authority and was basing her remarks only on what she had read.

Predicating the discussion on a victorious ending for the Allies, the speaker proceeded according to what she chose as the three precepts to consider. Namely, that under precept, number one, we have some medium of collective security and that America will be as good as the public demands. The race for armament and colonizing, conflicting interests must go—in order to group the nations together for whatever the peace may be.

Under precept, number two, came the economy of abundance, free interchange of material wealth, an equitable distribution and a full production, perhaps to be gained through a combination of socialism and capitalism.

Precept, number three, would call for a better people, better men and women, improved citizenship at home, a more enlightened attitude toward the rest of the world. We need to understand the nations better, China, Russia, England and our allies, besides as well we need to understand our enemies. In concluding, the speaker referred again to points made in her opening remarks, about the importance of a national alertness and vigor, of what the nation as a whole thinks, thereby resulting in our economic responsibility.

Mrs. Martha Mulkey, chairman of B. P. W. International Relations Committee, arranged the program, assisted by Gladys Gano, Georgia Richmond and Idyl Godard.

Mrs. Sackett confessed to have left a small son at home, coming down with the measles, in order to fulfill her promise to appear Monday evening before the B. P. W. club. This together with the splendid talk given, was greatly appreciated by all present. Mrs. Sackett is pleasantly remembered here for an appearance once a number of years ago on a Woman's Club program.

Mrs. Chas. Stauff led group singing, accompanied on the piano by Inez Rover, both at the beginning and close of the program.

Following this a short business meeting was called by Ida Oerding. Mrs. Hanna explained the Playground Project, contemplated for Coquille this summer and a vote was taken to sponsor the movement.

Several dates of coming events during May were announced by the president: May 3rd, at the first regular meeting of the month, the club will act as hostess to members of the Marshfield B. P. W. club. May 15-16, Saturday and Sunday, are the dates for the State Convention at Eugene. May 17th, second regular meeting day, will be the annual Mothers' Day banquet.

P. W. Laird Gives Library to Myrtle Pt.

In his will the late P. W. Laird provided the funds for a $10,000 public library in Myrtle Point, the bequest being two city lots and $8,000 in cash for the building which he requested be completed within a year.

The bequest was made as an honor to the memory of his deceased wife, Flora M. Laird, who until her death was one of the most active supporters of the Myrtle Point library. The name of the municipal institution is to be the "Flora M. Laird Memorial Library."

While the library cannot be built during these war days, it is most probable that the estate administrator, Frank Heath, will waive the time set for the building's construction until after the war's end.

WHY DOESN'T HE ANSWER?
If Your Party does not answer immediately don't hang up and call again; let the telephone ring SEVEN TIMES before you hang up. Give him ample time to get to the phone, — the faint buzz indicates that the phone is ringing.

Unnecessary extra calls take the time of telephone operators who are busy speeding defense work, and ties up telephone equipment. There is a shortage of operators as well as of telephone materials.
Telephone service is vital to National Defense; please use it considerably.
