What Soldiers In England Think Of The Coal Strike

Floyd Marney, son of Mrs. Bessie Marney of this city, who was a C. H. S. student and at the time he entered the Army nine months ago was employed at the plant here, writes his mother something about England, where he landed in May, and says that the U. S. boys there receive on an average fourteen letters a week each from the U. S. Extracts from his letter read:

"I'm getting along O. K. and feel good. Oregon's weather in the winter time has nothing on England's summer weather. It rains quite a bit. I've been in the service nine months. It seems like a life time. If I could only have had a furlough I would be a lot happier."

We got our radio working and we get programs from the States just about any time, by short wave. It is just about all the contact we have with American life. I go into town every once in a while. England is just thick with small towns and villages and we can go any direction and hit a town within five miles. We have ten bicycles in the company and we ride them to town. Hardly anything to do when we get there though. I am still working as a sort of clerk and doing messenger service. There are a few WAACS here but all I have seen are officers.

"The chief topic of conversation here is when the invasion is going to start and how soon we'll be able to go home.

"The fellows are really hot about the coal strike. I heard a second lieutenant talking about dodging bullets on a raid over Germany and came back to find that the coal miners at home had gone out on a strike! I wouldn't have wanted to be Lewis if the lieutenant could have got hold of him right then.

"We work seven days a week, getting up at six o'clock. We can go to church Sunday morning if we want to. I went a couple of times in the camp back in the States, but it just had no life in it like your church and I found it an ordeal instead of an enjoyment. I think I would enjoy going to Sunday school and to church once in a while with you.

"I figure we will be lucky to be back in the States a year from this coming Christmas.

"I'm getting to know the English people a little better. They are slow in everything they do and I've found out we are way ahead of them in machinery and in about every way you can think of. They are friendly and hospitable though, and that helps us a lot."

Two Coquille Boys At San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center

The latest class of cadets entering preflight pilot training at the San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center included 44 from Oregon, of whom two are from Coquille. They are Aviation Cadets Virgil H. Arrell and William L. Ray.

C. G. Caughell received a V-mail letter from his son, Ralph, on Tuesday this week, which was mailed from somewhere in England, July 1. Ralph said the weather was beautiful there and was all the way across—and that no one on board his vessel was seasick. The convoy had landed there late in June.

George Wasley Laird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Laird, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army on June 30 and is now stationed at Quantico, Va., for ten weeks more training.

Corp. Leaman Lane Here From Florida Last Week

Corporal Leaman Lane, formerly an employee at the Smith Wood-Products plant, who joined the Air Corps last October and was in Denver for a time before being sent to Florida, where he is stationed in the mechanical department of the Air Corps and helps train air crews, came in on a two weeks' furlough last Wednesday evening and left Friday for Portland to visit a sister.

He doesn't seem to think much of the weather in Florida, as compared to Oregon's, and says that most of the Florida bases and camps were built in the swamps.

Oscar Homenyk Graduates From Armored Force School in Ky.

Private First Class Oscar P. Homenyk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Homenyk of this city, has been graduated from the Armored Force School at Fort Knox, Ky.

The soldier students received thorough instructions in the theory of automotive mechanics and fundamental shop practice in the school's Wheeled Vehicle Department. They studied actual engines, skeleton vehicles and visual aids of many types.

Carl Johnson A Sergeant-- Brother Leaves For Texas

Carl Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Johnson who has been at Geiger Field near Spokane, since last year, the first of this month was promoted to the non-com post of sergeant in the 102 Engineers Aviation Battalion.

His brother, Burton, left last night for Wichita Falls, Texas, where he will take training in the Air Corps.

Two other Coquille boys who are leaving this evening for a training field in Texas are Willford, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wasson, and Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stone, of Johnsons Mill.

Tallant Greenough Made A Corporal

Word from Camp Beall, near Marysville in California, is that Tallant Greenough, city attorney here who is on leave for the duration, has been made a corporal in his infantry company. Mrs. Greenough writes that it is terrifically hot there, above 100 degrees at eight o'clock in the evening.

Excess Income Tax Comes to Coos Co.

The sum of $142,293.38 is the amount allotted to Coos county through the State School Support Fund. This amount will act as an offset on school district tax levy.

These quotations were received yesterday by County School Superintendent Martha E. Mulkey, from State Superintendent Rex Putnam.

The amount per days' attendance is slightly below 18c, being 17.98209213 cents. The total number of pupils days' attendance for Coos county during the school year 1942-43, upon which this distribution is placed, is 791,305.5.

The total amount which is being used as tax offset in Oregon is five million dollars. Coos county's allotment ranks ninth from the top as to amount in the 36 counties.

The money for the S. S. S. F. comes from the surplus in the income tax as provided by a law which was passed in November, 1942, election, having been proposed by an initiative measure. This law was further amended to its present form during the last legislature. All money in the income tax in excess of $7,750,000 is placed in this fund.

After the close of the period for filing budgets, the county school superintendent shall proceed to work out the amount which should be cancelled from each school district's budget and submit same to the county assessor, Charles Forrest.

The amount to be deducted from individual audits cannot be ascertained at this time since a few districts have no levy and a few others have made such a small levy that all the days' attendance of those districts need not be applied. Since some school districts will not need the full offset, the unneeded amount will go toward an increased offset on the budgets of other districts.

Jack McCue Married Early In July

Mrs. Louise Harrison became the bride of Jack O. McCue at a ceremony held Saturday, July 3, at the home of Mrs. J. T. Monahan. Rev. Lloyd T. Anderson read the service at 8:00 o'clock in the presence of a group of relatives and intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Kennedy attended the bride and groom.

Mrs. Monahan was hostess at one o'clock for members of the bridal party, and a reception was held immediately after the ceremony.

Attractive arrangements of blue delphiniums and regal lilies were used in decoration of the rooms and of the table where the two tiered and decorated wedding cake was served. Mrs. Lester Neal of Gales Creek, sister of the groom, cut the cake and Mrs. Mabel Smith served the ices.

The couple left for a short wedding trip to Portland, after which the groom returned to his duties at Fort Lewis and the bride to her work as chief clerk of the selective service board at The Dalles, Oregon.

Mrs. John McCue who sent the Sentinel the above item from Gales Creek, Oregon, did not say whether the wedding took place at Gales Creek or elsewhere.

Warm weather thirst quenchers

When that old, red mercury starts climbing toward the top of the thermometer, be ready with thirst quenchers that will buoy up your spirits! Simple to plan, simpler to make. Casual coolers... special occasion beverages... nourishing milk drinks that serve as part of a meal—any one of them will prove to be a welcome pickup when energy seems to be at low ebb. Don't let Mr. Mercury catch you unprepared!

SUGAR SYRUPS—One of the first requisites of cool beverages is the sweetening that can be added instantly. It stretches the sugar supply, too, because it blends with the drink completely. Have some on hand. Combine 1 cup sugar with 2 cups water, stir until dissolved, then boil rapidly for 10 minutes. Cool and store covered in the refrigerator until needed.

FRUIT ADRES—Oranges, lemons and grapefruit are tops among thirst quencher ingredients. But don't forget other fresh fruit, too. Press the juice from ripe plums, peaches, apricots, nectarines or berries by forcing the fruits through a food press or coarse sieve. Mix the juice with water... or for that added sparkle, mix it with plain carbonated water. Add sugar syrup to taste, and serve frosty cold.

MILK SHAKES—HOME STYLE—When a light snack is in order, serve it in the form of a nourishing milk drink. Mix chilled milk with sugar syrup and flavoring, or with molasses, honey or corn syrup. A dash of plain carbonated water will give it that "ice cream soda fizz," and a bit of nutmeg dashed on top will add just enough spice.

At Your Service

It is a pleasure to announce that I have become associated with the Great Northern Life Insurance Company, as District Agent. This Company is an old line legal reserve company with a long record of service to policyholders. It writes both Life Insurance and Accident and Health Insurance (income protection). I shall be glad to consult with any one on his insurance needs, and recommend a Great Northern Life policy to fit the situation. There will be no obligation, of course, and I am—at your service.
