OUT OF THE WOODS!

Who says this is the age of metals? " ... you can't fight a war, much less carve out ultimate victory, without wood," states Rear, Admiral C. H. Woodward.

Literally thousands of Naval craft are framed, planked and decked of WOOD . . . fighting craft like the famous PT's . . . mine sweepers that lead sea-borne invasion fleets . . . sub chasers . . . floating dry docks! Altogether at least twelve well-known standard Naval craft are in the all-wood class. Add to this the vast quantities of wood needed for battleship and aircraft carrier decking, docks, storehouses, pulp for explosives and packages, crating and thousands of other items of war!

MORE WOOD IS DESPERATELY NEEDED. There's a shortage of sawlogs. This shortage can slow up our Navy and Army 'round the world. Loggers! Don't let 'em down! Keep swingin'! The road to victory is clear. But it takes that extra punch!

FREE BOOKLET-"WOOD AT WAR." Rear Admiral C. H. Woodward tells the fascinating story of the part wood plays in building and supporting today's Navy. Just send postal to this newspaper asking for "Wood at War." No cost or obligation.
