Spent 15 Months On Guadalcanal

Jim Murphy, nephew of Ray Jeub who left Coquille in March last year to enlist in the Seabees, after working several months at the Smith Wood-Products plant, came in last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Jeub meeting him in Eugene.

Jim was on Guadalcanal for 15 months, his outfit moving in just after the Marines had landed and started to clean out the Japs at Henderson Field and elsewhere on the island.

The Seabees went in while Jap guns were dangerous on the island and they were taken from Tulagi by fishing boats at night.

Jim was a football player on one of the professional teams in the east before coming to Coquille. He says he wouldn't take anything for his experiences of the past 15 months, but once is enough.

He will leave Saturday for San Diego and from there will be sent to some college for training as a supply officer.

Julia says— It's a shame to waste food

I OFTEN wonder how many of us realize the vast quantities of good food we normally throw away each day. Yes, it's literally so; most of us waste enough in a month to feed our families for days!

War-time conditions make it more necessary than ever, of course, that each of us cut food waste to an absolute minimum. We all know that, in a practical sense, it's impossible to avoid having some leftovers. But they can be used, tastefully! Meats, macaroni products, gelatin and desserts stand up well as leftovers, and many times they can be dressed up in casseroles, soups and similar dishes, with fresh vegetables added to give new nutritional strength.

On the whole subject of wasted food, here's a check list that has a practical value:

- Here's a Quiz for YOU, on Kitchen Economy
- Do you cook meats carefully, to avoid shrinkage and to avoid burning the fat? Yes No
- Do you strain the fat from your meat cooking, and use it whenever you can in place of shortening? Yes No
- Do you regularly take used fats to your meat man, so they can be turned into ammunitions? Yes No
- Do you use vegetable "cooking water" in soups and sauces? Yes No
- Do you take leftover meats and vegetables, and turn them into savory stews, salads, etc? Yes No
- Do you plan the exact amounts of food you'll need and buy them accurately? Yes No
- Do you put fresh vegetables away so they'll stay fresh and nutritious? Yes No
- Do you avoid serving each member of your family more than he can comfortably eat? Yes No
- Do you make sure, each day, that your garbage pail is not sabotaging your food plan? Yes No
- If your answer is "Yes!" to each of these questions, you're all right! If not, my suggestion would be: start today to look for food waste in your kitchen!

RECIPE FOR FASTER SHOPPING

There! There! All this time for the busy busy! This lets you down in the store and get out shopping done in a hurry. All ready, aren't you?

Oh, yes! I'll be sure to match goods with my money now! How long will this take today?

I thought you said they get out shopping done in a hurry. Following that woman's lead is the quick stand forever!

Isn't it a nuisance? Some people are so thoughtless!

Do you know, I believe it took almost as long for me to be checked out as it did for that first woman! I wonder why?

Well, now you've asked for it, I'll tell the answer. Is that both of you? Had to fumble around for your ration books, after you got up there to the cashier's counter.

Oh, you get the idea, it's so easy to plan now! Many groups you're going to need, and have them all. A day after the time comes to make them in. Saves a lot of time for yourself and for the store people, too!

Sorry, that's something I never thought of. Guess I'll be right!
