

Minor Mention

Mrs. L. H. Hazard left by Tuesday morning's bus for a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Adrienne Sercombe, and family in Portland.

Mrs. J. A. Fitzpatrick came down by bus from Newport last Saturday and Monday morning left again, driving the car of her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. A. Machon, and taking Mrs. Machon home with her for a few days. She says that she and Fitz have to put in 18-hour days in order to keep up with their cleaning and pressing business.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Belieu, who formerly lived here and in Marshfield, he being with the telephone company, were Coquille visitors last Friday after being over on the Bay. They now reside at Fort Klamath, Oregon.

Mrs. Jean Bryan and Miss Eunice Howe spent last week-end at Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Child, who came over from Grants Pass on Tuesday, left again yesterday. Mr. Child, who spent months and months on geological surveys in Coos county and whose original reports were what caused the Phillips Petroleum Corporation to send its geologists to Coos county and which is now about to result in a well being drilled on Davis Slough, is now making similar surveys in other parts of Oregon.

Miss Betty Emery, who reigned as queen over the July 4th celebration this year, was here over the week-end from Eugene, where she is attending the university. She said she had to come in to see the Red Devils' opening home game.

Ben Lawrence Is Named As Publisher

Ben F. Lawrence, brother of K. P. Lawrence of Coquille, and E. G. Lawrence of Oakland, Calif., who made his start in the newspaper business as publisher of The Bulletin, a predecessor of the Sentinel, is now editor and publisher of the Indianapolis, Ind., Star, the paper with which he has been connected for many years. He was placed in this position by the terms of the will of John C. Shaffer, owner of and newspaper and the Muncie, Ind., Star, who passed away Oct. 5. With Mr. Shaffer's attorney, Judge Walter Brewer of Chicago, Mr. Lawrence was made one of the two trustees of the considerable estate left by Mr. Shaffer. Mr. Lawrence had been for some time vice-president and general manager of the Star Publishing Co. His designation as publisher of the two influential Indiana newspapers is a deserved recognition of his ability and faithful interest in Mr. Shaffer's affairs.

Cranberry Pickers Still Needed

A real need for cranberry pickers still exists, according to Sam Lehman, manager of the Employment Service office in Marshfield. The results of the latest survey of the bogs show that five or six extra pickers would in most instances enable the grower to bring in his crop while the berries are in prime condition.

The County Agent's office and the Employment Service are working closely to aid the growers. Either agency can direct pickers to the bogs where their work is needed.

Several growers report that they have had family parties arrive on Sunday to spend the day picking berries. Just one day of picking by a carload of people may enable a grower to harvest his berries while they are still in top condition. A Sunday outing can, according to Mr.

When Bob Kline's order to report to Camp Buckley in Colorado came recently, he was out hunting with his father. As soon as they returned Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kline took him to Portland at once and from there he went by plane to Denver. He is in training as an aviation cadet.

George Maiden, one of the workmen captured on Wake Island when the Japs took that spot a year and a half ago, was one of the men transferred recently from the Jap prison camp in China to another on one of the Japanese archipelago.

Miss Ethel Jean Cain, of Grants Pass, attended a retreat for the Methodist Youth Fellowship officers, of Coos Bay area, held last Friday and Saturday at the Richmond cottage. She spent the remainder of the week-end, visiting at the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Brown home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Foote returned Monday evening from Sacramento, where he has been on the police force for the past year. He had to resign his position and come up and look after their property here on North Coulter. Mrs. Foote is now recovering from the effects of a second operation she underwent recently in Oakland, and they may decide to remain in Coquille.

Erwin O. Waite, of Toledo, Oregon, drove down to spend the week-end with Mrs. Waite's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Brown. Mrs. Waite and children, who had been visiting here, returned home with him on Monday.

Henry Bryant Buried Tuesday

Edell Bryant, of the Coos Electric Co-operative, was called to Portland last Wednesday by the wire that his father, Henry Bryant, was not expected to live. Mr. Bryant passed before Edell's arrival.

A former logging operator in Coos county, the deceased, a brother of the late Geo. W. Bryant, had been working for some months in Portland.

Funeral services were held there Tuesday afternoon and interment was in the Portland Mausoleum.

Mr. Bryant was born at Yoncalla, Ore., Dec. 12, 1889, being two months less than 54 years of age.

Besides Edell he is survived by two other sons, Ernest of Myrtle Point, and Austin in the Army, and a daughter, Roberta of Waldport; also by two sisters, Della Bryant of Hood River, and Mrs. Albert Arnes, who resides in Hawaii.

Withholding Tax Must Be Remitted Before October 31

J. W. Maloney, Collector of Internal Revenue, today called to the attention of all employers who are required to withhold Income Tax from the wages of their employees that the returns of this tax are now due and must be filed with the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, Portland, Oregon, not later than October 31, 1943.

Mr. Maloney said that unusually severe penalties are imposed under this new act for any failure to file the return in time to reach the Collector's office within the time specified above. There is a minimum addition to the tax of $20.00 for failure to file return and pay the tax when due. Collector Maloney urges employers to avoid this penalty by mailing their returns in time to reach his office not later than October 31, 1943.

W. R. Krantz Sells Home Here To Chas. Butler

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Krantz, who are now living on the ranch across the river, next above the Geo. Gilman ranch, have sold their home at 190 East Fourth in town, to Chas. Butler, who is employed in the Purkey Furniture store. Their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Manley (flap) Matney, who had been occupying the Fourth street home, have moved to the place adjoining the Krantz ranch.

Lehman, be profitably and patriotically employed by helping the cranberry growers. If necessary, gasoline coupons may be secured from the O. P. A. office by cranberry pickers.

Must Be Sold At Once

Four large lots, with orchard, berries, grapes and garden. Lot contains two houses—one three-room with bath; one six-room equipped as two three-room apartments. Full price $3500.00; can be handled for $2000.00 down and easy time payments. This place has a potential income of $75.00 per month.

Mrs. E. A. Gross Buried Tuesday

Mrs. E. Mabel Gross, beloved wife of E. A. Gross of this city, passed away at her home in the Nosler Apartments last Saturday. She had been ill for several years and had returned home six weeks ago from a hospital at the Bay.

Rev. Robt. L. Greene officiated at the services held at the Gano Funeral Home at 10:30 Tuesday morning and interment was in the Masonic cemetery at Roseburg.

Mrs. Gross was born in Reading, Penn., Sept. 18, 1881, and was 61 years past 62 years of age. Her entire life, until 12 years ago, was spent in Reading. She had lived in Roseburg for eight and one-half years before coming to Coquille early in 1940. Her marriage to Mr. Gross occurred Jan. 21, 1932.

She is survived by her husband and his two daughters, Mrs. L. W. Claver and Mrs. O. L. Wood, who gave her the respect and affection and kindness which ones own mother enjoys. A surviving sister is Mrs. Gertrude Hickman, of Reading, Penn.; two brothers, Arthur Merget, of Reading, Penn., and Jacob Merget, of Newcastle, Penn., besides other relatives in the east.

Mrs. Gross was a life-long member of the Lutheran church.

One of Coos Oldest Pioneers Passes

Mrs. Mary J. Elrod, mother of Iris A. Elrod of this city, and one of the oldest pioneers on the Bay, passed away at her home in Marshfield last Sunday.

Interment was in Sunset cemetery there on Tuesday following the services at two o'clock at the Thuerwacher Funeral Home, Rev. J. T. Lewis officiating.

She was born at Westville, Nova Scotia, in 1861 and accompanied her parents to Coos Bay while still a young girl. In 1878 she was united in marriage to Wm. F. Elrod, now deceased.

Besides her son she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Frances McLeod and Mrs. Etta Sacchi, both of Marshfield; a sister, Mrs. Caroline Harris, of Marshfield, and six grandchildren, of whom Gwen Elrod of this city is one, and three great grandchildren.

She was a member of the Episcopal church and one of the oldest, if not the oldest, member of the Coos-Curry Pioneer Association.

Return From A Five Weeks Stay In Portland

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fortier returned last Friday from Portland, accompanied by Mrs. Fortier's sister and niece, Mrs. R. G. Whidden and Helen Whidden, of Calgary, Canada. During their visit and Mrs. Fortier's convalescence they are all at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. McCurdy out on Cunningham.

Following is a news item concerning Mrs. Whidden's son, who is somewhere in Italy:

One of the most familiar sights on the Canadian sector in Italy is "Bill". "Bill" has traveled the mountain roads, battled in the most difficult spots, was shot at and mortared a dozen times but kept right on going.

His fight is a fight against German demolitions because "Bill" is a sturdy Canada-made bulldozer with his name painted in white behind a driver's seat which is occupied by L/Cpl. Gus Whidden of Calgary or Spr. Mickey McGuire of Ottawa who have taken turns at the controls.

"Bill" performed the usual job of cutting detours around demolished bridges. Important work takes the caterpillar-tracked machine close to the front and within range of the Germans when they are not on the run. "Bill" has traveled nearly 400 miles from Reggio and has been working all the way.
