Legion Conference Hears Good Talks By Commander McDade

tion of the Child Welfare program. The national department of the American Legion went on record at their convention held in Omaha last September by denouncing socialized medicines as a hindrance to the medical profession.

The Rehabilitation program of the American Legion is not as yet thought out in detail for the post war conditions. The program will need to dovetail with the programs of other organizations and the actions of the states and nation. However, the men at the head of this department are far-sighted and have a general picture of what conditions will be after this mess is cleaned up and the men begin to return home and assume the routine of civilian life. We are not trying to kid ourselves nor are we hollering Boogy Woogy. This old democracy of ours will pass through a crisis after this war which has not been paralleled before. Every sane thinking man and woman is going to have to sit tight and hold on until things readjust themselves, which will be a gradual and discouragingly slow process.

The legislation program of the Legion is misunderstood by too many folks, who look upon the American Legion organization with a narrow view. They see us as a national organization and cannot comprehend the Legion as individuals of their own communities and territories. We do try and care for the men of the organization and the veterans in general but nearly ninety per cent of all the legislation that the Legion gets back of is a direct help to the communities and states, but you are made to think by the crocodile tear weepers that the Legion is a selfish, un-American opportunist bunch of men who flourish by the fruits of others' labors. There were a lot of flag-wavers during World War Number One, who loudly proclaimed that "there is nothing too good for our boys over there and they shall have their own when they get back." Well, there are a lot of flag-wavers in this war and it is easy to spot them. The American Legion is determined that the men who return from this war shall not endure and suffer what we did when we returned. Insofar as it is in our power we will render harmless the glib, smooth harpoons which will be shot at the men returning to civilian life after this war.

The Legion is the most democratic organization in existence. All post, state and national officers are elected from the floor; every piece of legisla-tion, every resolution has its birth in some individual post and it is passed on through the post, the state and then up to the national conventions where it is either fa-vorably or unfavorably acted upon by the legislative body chosen by the individual states.

Membership in the American Leg-ion cannot be bought by any one nor can it be inherited. It can be ob-tained only by the honorably dis-charged veteran of the United States of American armed forces himself.

It is the object of the Legion to step in and assist the men who are return-ing to civilian life to adjust them-selves to the environment and con-ditions which they knew before they left. Their war experiences have put them into a different world; things at home will not be what they dreamed they would be; their ideas, their dreams, their anticipations will all get a mighty set-back when they return home. Mothers, wives and children will be almost strangers to them; they will need a mighty flood of morale builder. If they need mo-rale builder while they are in the service in the mud and grime of India and Japan, in the stink and slime of Europe, they will need a double dose of it when they come back to take their rightful places at home.

The Department of Oregon of the American Legion should go far this year with a man like Commander McDade in the chair. His personality is pleasing, his judgment is sound and commendable, his determination to make the Department of Oregon something to shoot at for the other state departments is quite contagious. He does not command you to do this or do that; his slogan is "we will do it together." To be on the alert is not just a phrase, it is a predetermined factor, a condition created by the commander's sense of duty and the seriousness with which he has taken his duties as state commander.

The present rate of discharge from the armed forces of the United States of America is about seven thousand a month, with the number being gradu-ally increased until the rate of dis-charge will be about one million a year by 1944.

Clarence Osika Addresses B. P. W.

Mr. Osika always does, he opened up many channels of thought most in-teresting to his listeners.

"Music on the Home Front," was the subject of an excellent paper prepared by Chairman of Music, Inez Rover. In her absence, it was read by Clara Stauff. It told of the importance of music in these thrilling, vital, every-day hours, in building morale and inspiration for our fight-ing men at home and abroad through use of the radio. Also of the millions the government has spent installing Hammond organs, pianos and other instruments in the camps to keep up the spirits of the boys during drastic training of the present war period. "Factories long ago discovered how music refreshes the spirit and even the body of the worker."

Volunteers to solicit funds for the War Chest were listed. The club voted a donation of $25.00 to the War Chest. Two new members voted into the club were Carolyn Huff and Mar-garet Snider.

A visitor present was Mrs. Sarah Wertz, in town for two weeks on business as field supervisor for Farm Securities. Mrs. Wertz taught Home Economics in the local high school in 1923 when she was Sara Hunting-ton. She was at that time a member of the B. P. W., although it had not yet been federated.

Coquille Red Cross Notes

afghans have been turned in which will be used by wheel chair convalescents but we must not neglect our necessary regulation sewing and knitting for these non-regulation ar-ticles, materials and yarn for which must all be donated, as all Red Cross units now have regular quotas which must be filled.

"We will continue to accept contribu-tions of colored yarn, large-eyed needles and large safety pins; also 18, 19 and 12-inch turkish wash cloths and colored cotton thread for edging.

"We thank the following women for contributions of yarn, wash cloths, thread, needles, etc.: Mesdames Geo. Sherwood, E. J. Ruble and W. H. Schroeder. We also thank Mrs. Geo. Burr for the very lovely afghan she made and provided all materials for.

"We are pleased to report another shipment of completed work sent in to Coos county headquarters at Marshfield, on Oct. 19:"

Pimples Disappeared Over Night

Yes, it is true, there is a safe harm-less medicated liquid called Kleorex that takes up pimples over night. Many report that they had a red sore pimple, face one night and surprised their friends the next day with a clear complexion. There is no risk. The first application must convince you or you get your money back. Only 50c. Join the happy Kleorex users who are no longer embarrassed with unsightly pimples. Sold and recommended by BARROW DRUG CO.

Victorious Meeting At Church Of God Ends This Week

The third and last week of the re-vival effort has now arrived. Attend-ance and interest have been splendid and the bible has been preached in its fullness. Come out and see for your-selves. Sunday will be the crown-ing day, with a large attendance and basket lunch at 12:30. At 2:30 p. m. there will be an ordnance service.

All are cordially invited to attend. Many have taken their stand for the bible. Be sure to come this week end and hear Rev. H. B. Willson, our evangelist. Pastor A. R. Long.

Belle Knife Hospital

Mrs. Frank O. Cooper entered the hospital last Friday for treatment of a leg injured in a car accident.

On Saturday Gladys Strain was ad-mitted for a teeth extraction opera-tion and Joe Shely underwent a ton-silectomy.

Violet Jean Evernden and David Sharp underwent appendectomies on Monday.

On Tuesday Robert Mulder, son of Dr. Mulder of this city, who came down from Vancouver, Wash., for the purpose, underwent a major opera-tion. The same day Mrs. James Rice and Chester Anderson under-went major operations, and Mrs. Ed Brown submitted to a major opera-tion yesterday.

Dismissals have been Mrs. Nolan Hartley and Gerald Bernheisel last Friday, Mrs. Howard Cooper and Mrs. Mary Winters on Saturday and Shirley Van Fleet on Tuesday.
