

Personal Mention

Mrs. Fred Bull and Mrs. Mary B. Cross went up to Tacoma last week to attend the funeral services for a friend.

Mrs. Betty Gaither is the name of the new employee in the Mt. States Power Co. office here, who is to succeed Miss Phyllis Belloni who is to be married Jan. 1 and will leave the office soon. Mrs. Gaither, whose husband is in the service, came here a couple of weeks ago from Indiana.

Erwin Waite, of Toledo, Oregon, visited over the week-end with the Rev. and Mrs. Chas. G. Brown family.

Mrs. Chapin, who has been here for the past month with her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Lancaster, returned Monday to her home in Mill Valley, Calif.

The quilt for which chances were sold as a benefit for Royal Neighbors was won with a ticket sold to A. F. Bush, of San Diego. Mr. Bush however, had given his ticket to his niece, Sally Anne Gable, of Sanford Heights, who is now the fortunate possessor of the fine quilt.

G. C. Ashenfelter is now the representative of the Watkins Co. in Coquille and will be pleased to have those desiring any of the Watkins products contact him or see him at 196 South Division. 4514's

Eagles Notes

Among those going from here to attend the fortieth anniversary of the Eagles Lodge in Marshfield were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gaffey, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Van Spores, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Alborn, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schroeder, Mrs. Molly Kaufman, Mrs. Jessie Adams, Mrs. Chas. Roberts, and Jim Jacobson.

The Eagles Auxiliary will celebrate November birthdays at their meeting Friday, Nov. 26. These will be initiation of candidates also.

Nov. 23—Norman Alfred Gignac and Dagny Ericksen, both of North Bend.

At Roxy Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

With almost every other branch of the service represented in story, song and screen play, the Army nurses come into their own via Paramount's great Mark Sandrich film, "So Proudly We Hail," which will be shown at the Roxy Theatre, Sunday Monday, and Tuesday Claudette Colbert, Paulette Goddard and Veronica Lake, are co-starred, supported by George Reeves, Barbara Britton, Walter Abel and Sonny Tufts.

The plot of "So Proudly We Hail" concerns itself with the romances—and the work—of three lovely young nurses, part of a group who are sent to Bataan. What happens to them there, and subsequently on Corregidor, is said to make the picture one of the great film stories of all times.

Based on actual occurrences on the besieged islands as told to Producer-Director Sandrich by nurses who were flown to safety, the picture is packed with thrills and breathtaking action, background to the love stories of Claudette Colbert and George Reeves, Paulette Goddard and Sonny Tufts. Both men, incidentally, are expected to emerge as full-fledged stars as a result of their work opposite the two glamour girls. Both are extremely attractive.

Junior Play Set For December 3

The Junior class has every available member working on preparations for their annual class play. The date has been set for Friday, December 3, at eight o'clock. Admission will be fifty cents for adults and twenty five cents for students, including the tax. Tickets may be obtained from student ticket salesmen next week, or at the door.

The stage managers are working on a suitable setting for this hilarious comedy, which takes place in the living room of the Jones family just three days before school is dismissed for summer vacation. To set the stage for any amateur production is quite a problem these days for the usual source of the furnishings—the used furniture department of some local stores—just isn't as well supplied with furniture as it used to be, and so all furniture must be borrowed from private homes. (P. S. If any patron of the school can help out the class by letting them have the use of a davenport, occasional chairs, end tables, a large rug, a chest, etc., it would be very much appreciated.) Stage manager, Leland Waterman, and his assistant Don McLarrin report that the doors will soon be in place and everything ready for the movable parts of the setting.

The director, Mrs. Ruth Beyers, reports that the members of the cast are all striving to give the best possible interpretations of their roles. Practice has been going on every night after school, and every effort is being made to make sure that friends attending the play will be able to hear and enjoy every word.

Features chairman, Sherman Gregory, and his assistants are working on something quite different for entr'act numbers. We should look for several surprises there.

In fact everything points to the fact that no one can afford to miss seeing this Junior play—a whirlwind made up of the joys and troubles of Paul Jones, high school senior, and his friends.

Fishing Was Good Out On North Fork Sunday

J. O. Beagle, who was in from Fairview Monday morning, said that the trout were taking a fly almost as fast as he could cast out the day before, that he had never before had such fishing. He caught five, from 15 to 18 inches long in a short time. The Chinook he hooked were all dark and had to be thrown back in the river.

It will pay you to look at Bergen's before you buy.

Home-Coming At Pioneer

The Home-coming held at Pioneer Church on Sunday was genuinely enjoyed by a number who gathered for this occasion. A noon day luncheon was held in the Pioneer hall. A large number responded to the invitation of Ernest Purvance who presided at this time and all expressed their appreciation of the opportunity of gathering thus in their home church for fellowship. In the evening service the young people held a large part of the attention and were a credit to the church. An opportunity to pledge to the Institute work was given and a very generous response was received. The Little River Institute, of which this church is a part, has a forward-looking program and funds are now in sight with which to make some substantial improvements as soon as war conditions will permit.
