 A full account of this rescue with accompanying photographs is given in the October 2 issue of the Saturday Evening Post.
 stories out of this modest trapper until it was revealed that he had spent twenty years hunting and trapping in Alaska. It was also learned that he had guided an ambulance rescue party to the snowy heights of Mount Redoubt to the rescue of an American Army flier who had lain in his wreck-

Most of the boys slept in the cabin but four of them, Joe Sayre, Norman Persing, Jim Clark and Wayne Timmons, slept on the ground out under the blue sky. They made no complaint of being cold until they found that about one-fourth inch of ice had been frozen during the night. Bugler Norman Persing's reveille routed the boys out at 6:00 a. m. Sunday morning. After a breakfast of bacon, eggs and pancakes, a flag-raising ceremony in the semi-daylight was the first order of the day and was made impressive with the bugle call, scouts standing at salute, and the pledge to the flag. This was followed by a devotional ceremony around the open camp fire. Religious songs were sung, a chapter read from the Bible, Trapper Lee Waddell gave a little lesson in service and patience by telling more about the Mount Redoubt-rescue. He showed the boys some parachute canopy and demonstrated its strength. The Lord's Prayer given in unison by the boys was a fitting close to their ceremony.

Mrs. A. J. Sherwood Honored On Eightieth Anniversary

 tree and at the front entrance a wreath clustered with berries and a ribbon bow. Probably the center of the decorative interest was a skilfully executed fireplace treatment, stunning with its chaste simplicity.
 In the receiving line with Mrs. Bonney and Mrs. Sherwood was Mrs. Andrew Browning who, with Dr. Browning, arrived that morning from their home in Portland to be with her mother on her birthday. Mrs. Sherwood wore a gown of black crepe and dotted net with large single orchid corsage. Mrs. Bonney's gown was black silk faille with ivory sequins. Mrs. Browning wore pale gold crepe with bodice gold metal studded.

Others assisting in the receiving were Mesdames George Jenkins, Ray Jebb, Guy Mauney, C. A. Rietman, George Chaney, L. H. Hazard and J. A. Berg. Receiving at the door were Sally Bonney and Judy Slack, granddaughters of Mrs. Sherwood.
 The tea table was something long to be remembered. Covered with a damask cloth of palest pink, under crisp fine white net, it was a symphony of pink roses, gleaming silver and sparkling ivory white candles.

Those who poured were Mesdames C. J. Fuhrman, O. C. Sanford, Ida Owen, Jane Williams and Muri Pettit. Mrs. J. A. Lamb cut the large, three-tiered birthday cake. It was beautifully decorated and had been sent from Portland. Mrs. Harry Slack and Mrs. Hale Eubanks served.
 Following the tea, the festivities continued into the evening. Those having a part in the assisting and their husbands were asked to stay to enjoy a buffet supper and the evening together.

Council Meeting Monday Night

 Commission for renewal of licenses to sell beer were approved by the council for the Eagles club room, W. H. Fortier, The Rainbow, and T. Verle Johnson.

The application of John Roberts for a restaurant license at 445 Front street—the former Chinese restaurant location—was granted. He expects to maintain a 24-hour a day service there.

The council authorized the city's crew to install a sewer connection and catch basin on Moulton street north of the Masonic Temple which would help divert the surface water and that off the city's shop building which has been running down hill there and cutting a ditch in Henry Ware's garden plot in the bottoms. Engineer Gearhart's estimate of the cost was $65.85.

The monthly wage of the street sweeper for the business section, who works at night, was increased from $45 to $65.

While there was no application filed for anything of the kind the councilmen expressed disapproval of the idea of holding dances in places of business.

The condition of the Henry street surfacing, between Seventh and Tenth streets, was brought to the council's attention by John Purkey, who said that portion of the street would have to be closed, it is so full of holes, unless repairs are made. This is a part of the highway out Fairview way and when the county oiled it a year or so ago there was not enough rock base to support the traffic and the street is rapidly going to pieces. The property owners out there are to be contacted to learn if they will be willing to have a permanent street improvement laid there. It would have to be paid for by the abutting property.

After some discussion of the garbage collection matter in Coquille, Councilmen Stark and Burr were asked to confer with "Shady" Howell and ascertain if he intended to continue the collecting. His contract with or lease on the dump grounds from the city expired several months ago.

Dr. Stark brought up the matter by stating the city could not afford to have the Knife Hospital closed, as it might be by the state fire marshal, if loose ashes are allowed to remain on the fire room floor, even if the basement is concrete-floored.

Townsend Club No. 1

A good crowd for a winter evening was out Tuesday for the Townsend club meeting. Business part of the club was conducted by President Tilghman. This was the meeting to nominate officers for 1944. The reading clerk, Mrs. Hatcher, read two interesting papers called "Flash," news from headquarters. On Dec. 21, a Christmas tree and gift exchange, (gifts to cost 25 cents each), will be held; don't forget the date.

Meeting closed by all singing "God Bless America." Door prize was won by Mrs. Dean. Next meeting we will serve cookies and coffee, so try and be present.

Townsend Club No. 2

Townsend Club No. 2 and Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Elsie Hickam on Dec. 2, with a good crowd in attendance. The meeting was started with the Lord's prayer and a salute to the flag. Two new members were taken in and nine renewed their memberships.

 Luncheon was served by the hostess, after which an invitation was extended to meet with Mrs. Viola Liday on Dec. 16. There will be an exchange of Christmas gifts at that time and election of officers.
 The bazaar held at the Florist shop on First street last Friday netted the club $47.85.

5000 cars junked every day by Wartime Stop and Go!

5000 cars every day, 150,000 a month! That's how fast Wartime Stop and Go is draining America's remaining automobiles!

In wartime it's all Stop and Go—the hardest kind of driving there is. And neglect means trouble—burned out bearings, scored pistons, ruined batteries... at a time when replacements are hard to get.

Don't take chances! Shell's Shelllubrication service, designed to meet Stop and Go driving conditions, was never more important than now. It will help your car outlast the duration.

Shell Service Stations and Shell Dealers offering this service will inspect your car—show you just what services it requires. And, when the job is done, you will receive the Shelllubrication diagram—receipt showing every step taken.
