Beautiful Cantata At B. P. W. Party

An enjoyable Christmas party was held Monday night by the Business and Professional Women at the Parish Hall. Christmas music by a trio who presented a cantata was sung by Mesdames Clara Stauff, Florence Hallock and Ruth Beyers, with a beautiful accompaniment by Inez Rover. Miss Rover also contributed a reading on the subject of Christmas music. Later in the evening several Christmas hymns were sung by the assembly.

Members contributed a freewill offering to the amount of $25.00, which is a sum sufficient to keep a Chinese student nurse while in training in China. This is a part of a state project in Oregon to be launched during the holiday season throughout the Federation of B. P. W. clubs.

An amusing game supplying nouns and a few adjectives to blanks in a story and its reading by Eva Stevens caused quite an uproar.

A drawing for the Christmas gift exchange afforded much merriment.

Refreshments were appropriate for the holiday season with cakes and confections served with hot spiced cider. Thirty-two members attended.

In charge of the party were two committees, the social, Eva Stevens, Edna Robison, Hattie Lee Holimon, Lelia McCure; music and arts, Inez Rover, Ruth Beyers, Edna Kern, Clara Stauff.

Birthday Line Party

The eighth birthday of Marcia Mauney was the occasion for a celebration. At her home, Dec. 19, Mrs. Guy Mauney entertained with a party in her daughters' honor. Ice cream and birthday cake were served at one, with a bag of Christmas candy for each guest. A Christmas scene was the table centerpiece along with other decorations for Christmas. Following refreshments the children attended the Judy Garland matinee.

Invited were Mary Kistner, Helen Taylor, Diana Schroeder, Diana Jackson, Denise and Gayla Wynne, Sharon Larson, Karen Mauney, Nancy Perrott, Bobbye Jean Harris, Nana Foss, LeAnna Pownder, Joan Benham and Marcia.

Junior Women Celebrate With Party

The Parrish Hall has been the scene of many festivities this holiday season. On Tuesday evening this week the Junior Women held their Christmas party. According to those who attended it was a lovely party and everybody had a grand time. About forty-five attended. The program was preceded by the serving of dessert at small tables. Each table was centered with a red candle and decorated with greens. Red and green fruit jello, cake and coffee were served.

Corsages were presented to each guest at the door by Jean Bryan, who also had made them.

Mrs. Ruth Clayton was in charge of the program. The violin quartette played, "Stringing Along," followed by "You'll Never Know" and "Brazil," with the vocal done by Jeanne Griggs. A special request, "Fiddling with the Fiddle," included some good comedy by Morris Williams. A surprise number, "O Come All Ye Faithful," and followed by "Silent Night," included Ann Harbison and Rose Marie Peart as a sextette of violins, with Jeanne Griggs doing the vocal in "Silent Night." Muriel Dae Ardath directed and accompanied these numbers. The quartette included Jim Howe, Morris and Ronald Williams and Geraldine Oerding.

Little Beverly McBride sang "Paper Doll," and "Oh, Ma," accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Vi McBride. Butchy and Bobbye Jean Harris sang "White Christmas" and with Beverly all three sang, "Away in a Manger," accompanied by Mrs. McBride.

Little Janet Swinney wheeled a much decorated and heavily laden wagon full of gifts, stopping while each guest drew from the lot.

Coquille Grange Held Pot Luck And Christmas Party

Grange, No. 396, started off its evening's entertainment with a pot-luck supper at seven o'clock last Friday evening at the regular grange meeting place. The program which followed was under the direction of Florence Hallock, Lecturer. It opened with several songs by girls from the Roy School, including Loretta Maas, Patsy Detlefson, Doris and Maxine Parrish, Elsie, Leota and Louise Johnson. A flute and accordion duet by Doris and Maxine Parrish was enjoyed.

An impressive part of the program was the cantata, which told the Christmas Story. Mrs. Hallock read the story, followed by a prayer dedicated to the men in service. The parts taken in the cantata were: first soprano, Florence Hallock; second soprano, Clara Stauff, and contralto, Ruth Beyers. A tableau ended the singing. Joe and Ruth Varney portrayed Joseph and Mary; Mrs. George, Aurora Willard and Frances Detlefson portrayed the three angels and Inez Rover was the accompanist. Community singing was led by Ruth Beyers. Of most interest to the children was the arrival of an exciting Santa Claus, who distributed gifts and popcorn balls to all present.

The 396 club had prepared the beautiful Christmas tree, arranged for the pretty fireplace and for Santa Claus. To Mrs. Hallock goes much credit for a very fine program.
