

Mrs. Brockman Buried Saturday

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Schroeder Chapel here for Mrs. Jas. A. Brockman who passed away at her home just north of town last Thursday morning after a few weeks' illness. Interment was in the Weekly family plot at Dora.

Born Maud Irene Weekly, March 16, 1881, at Gravel Ford, she was the daughter of those Coquille valley pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Weekly. She had lived all her life in Coos county and was married to James A. Brockman 33 years ago.

Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Clara Weist of Reedsport; two sisters, Mrs. Ona Crosby of Medford and Mrs. Josephine Bennett of Eugene; a brother, Vance Weekly of Lakeside, and six grandchildren.

Rev. G. A. Gray officiated at the final rites held for this splendid woman whose friends were legion.

Jas. B. Dawson Buried January 8

James B. Dawson who had lived on the Hugh Hastings place, three miles from Coquille, on the Cunningham road, for the past 20 years, passed away there at six o'clock last Wednesday evening, Jan. 5.

Funeral services, with Liston Parrish of the Christian church officiating, were held at the Gano Funeral Home at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Interment was in the Masonic cemetery.

Mr. Dawson was 11 months and 28 days past 60 years of age, having been born in Clinton, Illinois, Jan. 7, 1883.

He came west to Oregon 25 years ago and after five years at Powers had lived near Coquille since. He had been engaged in logging and farming since coming to Oregon.

He is survived by his wife, the former Maud Hastings, who is a Coquille valley pioneer.

CARD OF THANKS

For the many acts of very thoughtful kindness, for the sympathy and help of friends and acquaintances, for those who acted in helping lay away our dear wife and mother, and for the flowers at the service, we wish to express our most sincere thanks. J. A. Brockman and daughter.

"Bill" Goodman Buried Tuesday

"Bill" Goodman, as he was universally known, although his name was Luther L., a brother of Mrs. J. J. Stanley of Coquille, was found dead in a ditch, partially filled with water, along the highway south of the former C. D. Johnson lumber yard at Bandon, last Wednesday noon. He was found by boys and had apparently been dead for several hours.

He has been living at the home of his cousin, Birdie Randleman, for some time and had been to the Bandon postoffice to get the mail the afternoon before and had apparently suffered an heart attack Tuesday night on his way home.

He is the last of five brothers and the son of a pioneer Coos county family, the John P. Goodmans, who came here in 1880. He was born in Sangamon county, Ill., Jan. 24, 1870, and was nearly 74 years of age.

He had never married and had lived in various parts of the county for more than 60 years. He was at sea during World War I, helping transport supplies and material to England, China and elsewhere.

He is survived by another sister, Mrs. Florence Upton of Centralia, Wash., and many nieces and nephews.

Graveside services were held in the Odd Fellows cemetery at Bandon, under the auspices of Schroeder Bros., at 2 p. m. Tuesday, this week.

Milton Hirst Died Last Thursday At County Farm

Milton Hirst, 66, passed away at the Coos county farm last Thursday. He was a single man, born in Oregon, Aug. 16, 1877 and had worked in Marshfield before illness caused his removal to the county farm. Funeral arrangements are pending.

Bridge Couple Buys Winters' Store

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Paulsen who have been living in this community for the past five months, have purchased the buildings, store and service station owned by Charles F. Winters at Wintersville, east of Bandon, and took possession on Jan. 1.

The Paulsens operated a station and store in Bridge for 16 years. They have a daughter, Faye, 16, and a son, Jackie, 10, who are attending Bandon schools. Living quarters are maintained at the station.—Western World.

Pat McGourty, Found Dead In Cabin

Patrick McGourty, a Scotchman nearly 70 years of age, who has lived around here for the past 35 years, and had been associated with Jack Scoby in coal mining, was found dead in the cabin in which he lived along last Thursday noon by the Vincent boys, neighbors, who entered the cabin.

The last time he had been seen alive was the evening before, by Ralph Galindo. He and McCourt, whose homes were on the same lot, used the same woodshed, and Wednesday evening Galindo found McGourty lying in the wood shed where he had suffered a heart attack. Galindo carried him in the house, sat him in a chair before the stove and wanted to call a doctor but McGourty objected. He then left.

From the appearance of the cabin Sheriff Howell deduces that McGourty had laid a fire in the stove and had then lighted a paper to apply to the kindling, and must have suffered another heart attack for when found he was lying on the floor with all his clothing burned off, except his socks and slippers, but a strange condition is that the floor was hardly scorched alongside the body when found.

Graveside services under the auspices of Schroeder Bros., with Father Kelly officiating were held in the Masonic cemetery at 11:30 Saturday morning.

He was born in Wishaw, Scotland, March 9, 1864.

A daughter, Mrs. Mills, resides in Portland, and a niece, Mrs. Felix Kister, is in Marshfield.

His wife, Mrs. Agnes McGourty, from whom he had become estranged, lives in Charleston.

The investigations by Sheriff Howell and County Health Officer Stark convinced them that there was no foul play in connection with his death.

Red Devils Lose First Game, 37-27

The first game of the basketball season for the Coquille high school team was played at the Myrtle Point gymnasium last Tuesday night. It ended with a score of 37 to 27 in the Bobcat's favor. One previous game had been cancelled with North Bend last Friday night, because of an epidemic of influenza which had closed the school.

Although the Red Devils had had a few practice games with the Bandon Coast Guard team, this was their first contact with an inter-school team. The quintet played an excellent game and showed up very well in quite a few plays. Victory for the Bobcats was not won without an effort on their part, but special mention should be given to the Myrtle Point team which played fine ball. They played a strenuous game and through close coordination and the fine condition of their athletes emerged victorious.

The players starting the game were:

Coquille	Myrtle Point
Train	G	Walton
Kunz	G	Sutfin
Porter	C	Deavers
Barton	F	Belloni
Jrey	F	Wise

Substitutes for the Red Devils were Haga, De Norma, Meek and Kline.

Junior Womens Club Have Style Review

The Junior Womens Club met last Monday evening at the Parish home. During the business session a new president, Dorothy Harris, was elected to fill the unexpired term of Grace Withnell. Mr. and Mrs. Withnell are leaving Coquille in the very near future, much to the regret of all Coquille. Mrs. Withnell's leadership in the Junior Club has been excellent and definitely successful. That her going is a real community loss has been expressed in club circles by members of the senior group. Eileen Bryant was elected treasurer.

Ensign Elizabeth Hill presented a style review of Wave uniforms, modeled by members of the club. The same information regarding the opportunities and advantages of joining the Waves which was given to the Senior Club the following day was heard on Monday night. Yvonne Marineau modeled her own wedding gown to exemplify the fact that only at a Wave's wedding may she appear out of uniform. Members attending were Muriel Anderson, Eileen Bryant, Verna Earle, Beverly Price, Ruth Clayton, Lucile Walker, Georgia Sherwood, Laverne Ellingsen, Anne Harbison, Bernice Molth, Jean Bryant, Grace Withnell, Dorothy Harris, Lunelle Chapin, Orendia Clinton, Marie Carlson, Jean Berglund, Jessie Sherwood, Marian Adams, Faye Waggoner, Mrs. O.
