Pre-Induction Meeting To Be Held

(Continued from Page One) siderable study by making a quick survey in various areas of Oregon and are convinced that the need is very real, and we are in time to help the hundreds of men yet to be inducted from Oregon.

"Some of the many important questions we plan to answer for inductees include: What happens at the induction station? At the Reception Center? What happens if a prospective inductee is rejected? At what point in the induction process should an inductee give up his job? How an inductee classified and assigned to his military job? May he choose his branch of the service, Army, Navy, Marines, Coast Guard? What kind of tests will he be given? What help may a soldier's dependents count on? What if sickness or other trouble strikes his family while he is in service? . . . and others.

"It is our hope that one of the very positive results of our pre-induction training program will be to lift morale generally in the community by acquainting wives, mothers, sweethearts, even fathers, with what is to happen to their men. In this knowledge they will find comfort and assurance. It is always the unknown that is the hardest to face; learn the details of a venture and it seems much more natural and simple.

To the People of the Community

YOU ARE IMPORTANT There is no such thing as a "little" investment in the Fourth War Loan.

Your $25 or $50 or $100 Extra War Bond may not have great importance in your mind in making up a 5 1/2 billion dollar total for individuals. But multiply yourself by 130,000,000 and then you see in real perspective how truly great each citizen becomes in massing national strength against the Nazis and the Japs.

Capt. Maurice Witherspoon, Navy chaplain aboard the Carrier Wasp when she sank, tells of a rescued wounded sailor, who, as he regained consciousness, asked: "Did I do my best?"

That's the only question you, too, have to ask yourself when you decide the extent of your personal participation in the Fourth War Loan.

There undoubtedly will be large single purchases of War Bonds in this community, but yours—if it is "your best" will deserve equally the red, white and blue shield you are privileged to display in the window of your home.

So "Let's All Back the Attack." THE EDITOR.
