

Hassler - Maxwell Nuptials Sunday

A very lovely informal wedding was solemnized at the Emmanuel Baptist church last Sunday evening, when Phyllis A. Maxwell of Willowa, Oregon, became the bride of Leroy J. Hassler of Coquille. The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and large baskets of fern. An artistic arrangement of candles served well for the candle-light service.

The church surprised the young couple with a reception and shower in the Fellowship room, after the ceremony. A number of lovely gifts were received.

Mr. Hassler is working at the county agent's office, and they will reside in Coquille.

Coquille is represented by three in the latest list of enlistments in the army air corps enlisted reserve, announced Major B. P. Cody, commanding officer of the Oregon recruiting and induction district. They are Ernest E. Benham, James H. Young and Vernon K. Eldredge.

In making this announcement, Major Cody urges Oregon 17-year-old men with the ambition of becoming flying officers to investigate the army air forces intensive procurement campaign designed to enroll men for aviation cadet training as pilots, navigators and bombardiers. Those enrolled at 17 are called to active duty some time after their 18th birthday.

The 14-month air crew training entails approximately $35,000 expenditure by the government for each cadet. Prior to actual flight instruction, the men are given five months of pre-flight training at one of America's leading colleges and universities.

Physically fit and mentally alert 17-year-olds may obtain complete information about signing in the air corps enlisted reserve corps by calling on their nearest army recruiting station or civil air patrol representative.

Legion Urges Enactment Of Veterans' Bill

Enactment of The American Legion's omnibus veterans' bill now pending in Congress will affect vitally an estimated 3,000 residents of this community, declared Commander Dr. C. G. Stem, of Coquille Post, No. 36, today in commenting on this legislation hailed as the "G. I. Bill of Rights."

Commander Stem pointed out that 1200 men and women from this community are serving in the armed forces today whose future welfare will be materially shaped by this measure.

"Multiply this figure by the number of their dependents, such as parents, wives and children, using the conservative ratio of 2 1/2 per individual, and you have the total number of residents of this community to which this legislation will be of inestimable aid," Dr. Stem said.

The American Legion measure sets up a master plan for dealing with the whole veterans' problem of this war. It would unify all government functions for veterans under the U. S. Veterans Administration, simplify procedure by eliminating red tape, and assure fairness for both the veterans and the taxpayers, the Legion head stated. Into this bill the Legion has written the lessons of its 25 years of experience in dealing with every problem of rehabilitating ex-service men and women.

"At present more than a dozen government agencies are competing with each other for the honor of serving the returning veterans," Commander Stem said. "The result is a lot of confusion, overlapping services, red tape which delays settlement of disability claims, divided responsibility, and too often outright neglect of the veteran who needs prompt and adequate care quickly. The Legion legislation would remedy all that. It would replace chaos with system, and red tape with sympathetic and intelligent efficiency."

Every citizen of Coquille is urged by local Legionnaires to support the American Legion omnibus bill. It is known as H. R. 3917 and Senate Bill 1617.

"Our returning fighting men and women must be given a square deal," Commander Stem emphasized. "I think every good American agrees with that. It is high time that this country organized its plans for demobilization day. We must do it now, because already thousands of members of the armed forces are being discharged each month."

"The Legion made a 24-hour telegraphic survey of 34 states early in December to see how the disabled men and women who already have been discharged are faring. That survey disclosed shocking conditions. In 1,537 cases reported by telegraph, delays ranged from three to eleven months in the settlements of disability claims, forcing many of these men and women, some of them wounded on the fields of battle, on public or private charity."

"By supporting the Legion measure, our citizens can best show their appreciation of the sacrifices of our soldiers and sailors. This is no political legislation. It is the Legion's measure, a bill by old veterans for the young veterans for the best good of the country."

"Telephone, telegraph or write your Senator and your Congressman to get behind this legislation, but DO IT NOW!"
