Jack Clinton Is Captain On P.T. Boat

Mr. and Mrs. Theo L. Clinton have received word from their son, Ensign Jack Clinton of the U. S. Navy, somewhere in the South Pacific, that he is now captain on a P. T. boat. Jack writes that he didn't hanker for the job but had to obey orders. He added that if the vessel pulled off a successful attack on the Japs the skipper is the one who gets the credit, although all the men on the vessel should share in the credit, and that if the job is bungled the skipper gets the credit for that, too.

Here From Florida To Visit Their Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Oerding were most pleasantly surprised by the arrival last Friday of their daughter, Jane, and her husband, Leslie E. Croff, Petty Officer 2/c U. S. N., from Jacksonville, Florida. The young couple are glad to be on Oregon soil again and are anxiously looking forward to the time when they can remain here. They have been dividing their time between the Oerding home here and the Croff home in North Bend. Joe Don Estes In Hospital At Fort Logan

Private Joe Don Estes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Estes who are now residing in Warrington, Florida, where he is Naval instructor in photography, is recovering rapidly from a prolonged illness which sent him to the Convalescent Hospital at Fort Logan, Colo., according to an announcement from the public relations office at the fort.

To speed Pvt. Estes' recovery, he has been entered in the Convalescent Training Program, which includes a course of specialized study, a program of physical reconditioning, and supervised recreation. Patients enrolled in this program recuperate more rapidly than those left to the old-fashioned "rest cure," and return to duty better trained and in better physical condition than when they entered the hospital.

Capt. Hale Eubanks Says American Boys Are Tops

Following is an extract from a letter received by Mrs. Eubanks from Chaplain Hale B. Eubanks, "somewhere in the South Pacific," which should cause a boost in the morale of fathers and mothers whose boys are over there:

"These American soldiers are the finest, no matter where you take them, in the world. They take it like veterans. No work is too hard and no grind too severe for them. Under this sun it calls for all they have. I am proud of my share in this show. Our life makes men tough and hard, but at heart they haven't changed. God, home, loved ones, the Church, are in their thoughts."

High School Band Concert Wed. May 10

Coquille High School's 52-piece band will present its annual Spring Concert in the high school gymnasium auditorium, Wednesday evening, May 10, at 8:00 p. m.

This seventh annual Spring Concert will display the talents of the largest band the Coquille high school has ever had. Constant growth in size and playing ability is the record of this popular band for the past several years. Much recognition has been gained due to the exceptional versatility of the group as a whole and of individual members. The swing numbers played at basketball games has added greatly to the band's popularity.

Ten capes which the Coquille Rotary club recently purchased for the band have arrived and the group will appear fully uniformed for the first time in several years at this concert.

The program will consist of standard marches, overtures and a group of swing pieces. Supplementing the band will be vocal numbers presented by both the boys' and girls' glee clubs of Coquille High School, and the band's majorities—Genevieve Pearl, Rose Marie Pearl, Leatha Trout, Carol Gray and Joan Pearl—will present their best-swinging and other features which always add interest to the band's appearance and playing, which is doing so well under the direction of Wayne Smith.
