Rockey Robison Home a Week

Specialist 1/c Rocky Robison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rock Robison, stopped off here to visit home folks, from last Monday noon until this coming Sunday, on his way back from San Francisco where he had taken a draft of men from the Navy training camp at Arragut.

Rockey would like very much to go to sea, but seems destined to continue as an instructor at the base. He has graduated seven classes to whom he has given their boot camp training. His athletic training in Maryland, soon after he enlisted in the Navy two years ago, was under Gene Tunney, whom he considers a splendid man and instructor.

Rockey is feeling very fine now, having completely recovered from a major operation he underwent some weeks ago.

One Son Visiting Here, The Other In a Fox Hole

Staff Sgt. Ralph Willson and his wife and baby came in last Friday for a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Willson. He has been in the Army nearly four years.

Mrs. Willson reports that they recently heard from their son, Corp. Thomas Ray Willson, that he is "living in a fox-hole in France, sleeping on a German mattress and making it all right on the K rations." He is in the Army engineering corps and went over to England a year ago, less than six months after he had entered the service.

Lieut. James Robison Here On A Furlough

Lieut. James W. Robison, Army Air Corps, came home last Thursday evening from Las Vegas, N. M., and after his furlough here, is to report at base in Nebraska for further training. He has been in the Army for nearly two years.

Arago Boys Meet At Best Camp In South Pacific

Mrs. Grace Raeklef, who has been employed in the Department of Agriculture offices in Salem, has moved to Coquille and last week-end entered upon her duties in the Coos Electric Co-operative, R. E. A. office here.

She tells of an accidental meeting her son, Corporal Ellis Raeklef of the Marines, had with an Arago boy whom he had known for years, at a rest camp in South Pacific. The other was Milton Hammack of the Army.

Lincoln Miller Home On 24-Day Furlough

Lincoln Miller, former Coquille and McKinley young man who is a private first class in the Army and has been stationed in Alaska, came home last Friday on a 24-day furlough. When he reports back for duty he will be stationed at Geiger Field in Washington.

V-Mail Letter From Mark Seeley In England

The Sentinel this week received the following V-Mail letter from a former sports writer, Corporal Mark Seeley, who wrote it in England June 28. He said:

Again I realized how fortunate I am in having a family in England when I was in London recently. There I had the opportunity of meeting my cousin, Wilson Broadbent, who is a top man in the editorial department of the London Daily Mail.

After reaching London I went by taxi to the House of Commons, where we had lunch in the newsmen's dining room. Really, it was quite an experience, particularly because along with the meal we had wine from the House cellar. It was of excellent vintage.

Lunch over we walked through the building and while Broadbent was attending a meeting I watched Commons in committee session on the Finance Bill. Churchill had spoken in the morning.

Together again, my cousin and I walked to nearby Westminster Abbey and spent some time there.

Homer Detwiler In Training As Radio Operator-Mechanic

Pvt. Homer C. Detwiler, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Gant of McKinley route, Coquille, has been assigned to the AAF Training Command Radio School at the Sioux Falls Army Air Field, Sioux Falls, S. D., for training as a radio operator-mechanic. Upon completion of a 20-week course, he will be fully trained to take his place as a member of a highly skilled bomber crew of the Army Air Forces. Private Detwiler was a graduate of Myrtle Point High in 1936 and was inducted at Fort Lewis, Wash., last listed in the Navy prior to Pearl Harbor, has been visiting his mother and other friends here the past two weeks. Carl has been on a patrol boat in the Pacific for some time and when he leaves ten days hence will report at Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay, probably for further patrol duty.

Rex Cornelius Is Now In The South Pacific

Private First Class Rex B. Cornelius, husband of Mrs. Thelma Judd Cornelius of Coquille, has arrived overseas and is stationed with Army troops in the South Pacific. Private Cornelius formerly was employed by Henry Parry in Coquille and received his Army training at Camp Adair.
