Bang's Disease Control Program

test and a retest at 90-day intervals until one clean test has been obtained in herds where reactors are found.

Option II which includes one annual test, removal of reactors, retests at 90-day intervals in case reactors are found, and vaccination of calves will be advocated and encouraged in areas which are thought to include some herds of moderate infection. These include Arago and the road from Fishtap to Myrtle Point; Twin Oaks from Lundy Cheese Factory to, and including Dement Creek; high-way from Norway to Myrtle Point; North Bank Road from Coquille-Marshfield Highway to Riverton; Lee Valley from Hervey Bridge to Co-quille-Myrtle Point Highway.

Option III method of control will include mainly the vaccination of calves as soon as possible after they are four months old in an effort to build up a herd immune from the effects of Bang's disease. Testing of mature cattle in these herds will not be advocated, but vaccinated calves will be tested approximately six weeks following vaccination and again just prior to breeding. This option will be encouraged in the following communities: Fat Elk from Fishtap to Coquille and the Bandon Highway to Riverton; Highway from Coquille to, and including Norway; highway from Coquille to North Bank Road including Cedar Point Road.

Bang's disease inspectors will be asked to keep a complete record on all cattle tested and on all calves vaccinated and tested, according to Judge Felsheim who urges that dairy-men cooperate with the inspectors in order that this program may be of the greatest possible value to the dairy industry of this county.

Funds are included in the budget to pay indemnity on cattle removed for slaughter under Option I and II and on calves which have been vaccinated and fail to clean up under Option III. Indemnity funds will also be avail-able from Federal and state sources, according to representatives of the Bureau of Animal Industry and the State Department of Agriculture. Es-timates submitted provide for testing of 12,000 cattle, the vaccination of 1,500 calves, and indemnity on 330 head of cattle and calves for the next fiscal year. It is believed, Judge Fel-sheim states that this program will provide reasonable control and pro-tection from spread of Bang's disease in Coos County. Its success will rest largely on the work done by the County Bang's disease inspectors and the cooperation given by dairymen. The program is flexible and will pro-vide for changes in methods of control in case of new outbreaks of the dis-ease in clean areas and as immune herds are developed in infected areas. Dairymen following Option III will agree to sell no cattle except for slaughter or to other dairymen fol-lowing Option III, also to handle their herds in such a manner as to provide maximum protection to adjoining herds which may be following Option I and II.

Herds will be tested as usual for tuberculosis with the county and the dairymen paying the cost of this test jointly it is announced.

Marilyn Sage Author Of Coquille Story In Journal

"Coquille—No Boom Town," is the title of a special article in the Oregon Journal last Sunday, which was writ-ten by Marilyn Sage, Coquille High graduate who is studying Journalism at the University of Oregon.

It is too long an article to reprint, but there is an error in the text, where it says that "Coquille is gov-erned under the city manager plan." That plan is not in effect yet, al-though the voters at the last general election approved the city manager plan, if and when a competent man can be secured to take the job.

Nor is the statement that Coquille has suffered deterioration in its of-ficial family because of the war en-tirely correct. The mayor, council-men and officers are doing a first-rate job in keeping city affairs going smoothly and economically.

Cases In Justice Court Here The Past Week

Wayne Marion Bare paid $7 fine and costs in Justice Bull's court last Thursday for having no muffler on his car, and Preston John Steel was summoned to appear for having no taillight on his car, on Saturday.

On Tuesday this week, five men were in the court. Virgil Edwin Mc-Kinney and Leonard Byron Gibbs paid $7 for having no taillights, Milo Marlin Cloughton paid $7 for having an overload truck; Alfred Ray Stalk-up was fined $5 for having no oper-ator's license and is to pay Aug. 3, and Robert James Repass is to pay his $7 fine for having no taillight, on Aug. 5.

All charges were filed by the state police.

Calling cards, 30 for $1.00.

Donald Phillips Buried Here

Funeral services were conducted at the Gano Funeral Home, Wednes-day, Rev. Liston Parrish officiating, for Donald D. Phillips, formerly of Fairview and Coquille, who passed away last Wednesday, July 19, at San Bernardino, Calif. He had been there but a short time, having gone down from Eugene.

He was born Sept. 25, 1912, at Oakland, Oregon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Phillips, who survive.

He is also survived by his widow, the former Viola Johnson, and their two-year old son, Donald Degan of Co-quille; one half sister, Mrs. Eunice Ash, of Drain, Ore., and five half brothers—Wm. Arnold, Coquille; Cecil Arnold, Spokane; Eugene, E. Ar-nold, Seattle; Bertsel Arnold, Port-land; Harry Arnold, Oakland, Ore. Interment was in R.O.F. cemetery, No. 2.

Mrs. Harry Folsom Passed Sunday

Mrs. Harry Folsom, formerly Jotty L. Watson and a sister of Mrs. Clar-ence Tuttle of this city, passed away Sunday morning at the Sacred Heart Hospital in Eugene, where she had undergone an operation the week before. She was born in Empire on Coos Bay, Aug. 21, 1876, and was eleven months and two days past 67 years of age.

Interment was in Sunset cemetery at the Bay, following services at the Campbell chapel in Marshfield at 2:00 p. m. yesterday, Rev. Oscar Payne officiating.

She and Mr. Folsom were married here in Coquille 33 years ago but had made their home in Marshfield for many years prior to buying a home on the McKenzie river last year. She was a member of the Marshfield Pres-byterian church.

Besides her husband and her sis-ter, Mrs. Tuttle, Mrs. Folsom is sur-vided by another sister, Mrs. Laura Kramer of Vancouver, Wash., and two brothers, James Watson, of Seattle, and Neil Watson, of Bullards route, Coquille.

Former User of R.E.A. Current Thanks For Courtesy

Dick Connarn, manager of the Coos Electric Co-operative, R. E. A., was quite gratified last week to receive a note of appreciation from A. L. Lane for the courteous treatment accorded him, something that utility or-ganizations do not often experience.

Mr. Lane wrote: "Thank you for your prompt reply in answer to my request for a cor-rected figure on my closing bill. While I am no longer a user of R.E.A. current or electricity, I wish to say that I think it is a wonderful thing for all who are in a position to bene-fit from it. I have nothing but praise for it."
