

Surprise Party At Country Club

To celebrate the birthday of their daughter Anne, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harbison entertained Tuesday night with a large dancing party at the Country Club from eight to eleven o'clock. About forty guests, of high school age, danced away the evening to juke box music. The place was decorated attractively with cat-tails. Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Rackleff assisted the Harbisons as sponsors.

The party was a complete surprise to Anne, who had been taken on a trip to Myrtle Point by her father and mother and on their return, at Bob's suggestion, dropped in to see what was doing at the Club House. A gay evening resulted for everybody. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Glenn Payne of Portland, sister of Mr. Harbison; Mrs. Lubke and daughter, Beverly, visiting her sister, Mrs. D. E. Rackleff.

Birthday Dinner

Mrs. Burton Dunn entertained a young group at dinner Tuesday evening at six-thirty to celebrate the birthday of her daughter, Vera Bishop. The table was bright with gladioli and a cake with candles. A practical form of entertainment later was a dish-washing contest, conducted with a stop watch. The guests attended in a body the dance given the same evening for Anne Harbison at the Country Club. They were Phyllis Litzenger, Jeanne Griggs, Mildred McCarthy, Donna Rankin, Anne Weekly, Irene Detlefsen, Gerald Ulett, Ben Barton, Geo. Eckholm, Claire Gray, Ed Steinmetz, Mr. and Mrs. Dunn.

Dinner Party For Mrs. Glick

Mrs. Margaret Glick was guest of honor at a pleasant dinner party the early part of last week at the home of Mrs. F. C. True, hostess of the affair. Mrs. Glick will leave for her home in California the last of the week. She is the sister of Mrs. True and P. O. Lund. The gathering was largely made up of old friends for whom the hours passed rapidly in talking over old times. Attending were Miss Marvel Skeels, Mesdames Birdie Skeels, C. A. Rietman, Henry Lorenz, Guy Mauney, Rheo Walker, J. A. Berg, P. O. Lund and Mrs. Anna Lund, mother of Mrs. Glick.

W. S. C. S. Met At Pioneer Church Last Thursday

Last Thursday the Woman's Society for Christian Service met at Pioneer Methodist Church with 30 members present. Meeting was called to order at 10:30, singing "Jesus Calls Us," and "Tis so sweet to Trust in Jesus." Reports from the different officers were given.

The society will sponsor a recital given by Marvel Skeels, daughter of Mrs. Birdie Skeels, on Aug. 18, at eight o'clock, at the Pioneer Methodist church.

The Conference to be held at Salem "First Church" in October was discussed. A splendid potluck was served at noon and at two o'clock everyone gathered upstairs and enjoyed the program. The topic was, "The Sacredness of Our Money." The society was granted the privilege of listening to three beautiful vocal solos, rendered by Marvel Skeels.

After singing, "Have Thine Own Way," the meeting was dismissed with prayer.

Soroptimist Club

Strictly business with no program was the Tuesday luncheon of members of the Soroptimist group. Visiting guests were Mrs. Elizabeth Gallagher, of San Francisco, and Mrs. T. B. Currie, both formerly of Coquille.

Hartwell Family Together At Riverton

A happy family reunion at Riverton this week was when Chas. Grant Hartwell, coxswain in the Navy now, returned Sunday morning for a ten-day leave to be with his mother, Mrs. C. M. Hartwell, and his wife and two little children, all of whom reside at Riverton.

On the evening of the same day, Miss Cheri Mae Hartwell returned from Oakland, California, where she has been attending a summer session at Mills College, one of the most exclusive of the girls' colleges on the coast. Cheri Mae had received a scholarship to Mills. She was a guest of Audrey Aasen in San Francisco during the stay there.

Miles M. Hartwell, petty officer in the Office of Transportation at the Naval Air Base at Klamath Falls, was granted a 63-hour leave to be with his brother, Grant, so he arrived at his Riverton home early Wednesday morning, leaving again for the base on Thursday afternoon.

Wednesday, the day of the happy reunion, was highlighted by the fact it was also Miss Hartwell's birthday.

Grant left for San Diego on Friday morning where he is expected to remain in school for some time. His wife with their two children plans to drive down soon to be nearer Grant and also nearer her mother, Mrs. Eunice Dickens, who lives at Redlands.

Extra gas to the boys by the Ration Board permitted the whole family, accompanied by the Francis Sells, to enjoy a few hours of successful fishing on Sixes River Wednesday morning.

Cherie Mae Hartwell, former Coquille teacher, has just returned from a special study at Mills College in Oakland. She tells us that she took the National Camp Fire Executive Training Course under Miss Ruth Teichmann of New York, and Miss Eldora DeMots, National Field Secretary, who has been a visitor to Coquille several times in the interest of Camp Fire.

Dr. Chan Fook Tin, one of America's foremost authorities on China, who will be a speaker at the Coos and Curry County Teachers' Institute in November, was one of the instructors on the campus. He asked Cherie Mae why Oregon had so many divorces in comparison to other states in the Union. He said that this fact had always troubled him about Oregon. Perhaps he will find his answer in his travels through our state this fall. Dr. Chan showed Chinatown to a special group. They were given a six-course dinner, although they didn't have to use chopsticks unless they wanted to. They were guests at a private showing of Chinese Pottery Museum by the president of the Chinese-American Cultural Society, who has just finished playing in the movie, "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," to be released in October. They spent three hours in the Chinese opera, where the audience never stops talking, newspapers are sold in the aisles and only the actors wear Chinese makeup—the women look like modern American Chinese.

Dr. Christian O. Arndt, head of the Far Eastern Affairs branch of the U. S. Department of Education in Washington, D. C., spent a week with Dr. Chan and also worked with teachers who were interested in knowing all of the material available on China, Japan, India, Philippines and Thailand.

The Budapest String Quartet, the finest of its kind in the world was spending six weeks in concert and teaching in the Bay area. Cherie Mae was able to sit in on their rehearsals as well as their concerts. Miss Audrey Avis Aasen, a Coquille High School graduate, took violin lessons from Mr. Rojmann, the first violinist, and quartet work from Mr. Kroyt, the violinist.

Family Reunion At Riverton

Macy Anderson's visit here before leaving on Wednesday for a port of embarkation was the occasion for a family reunion at Riverton on Tuesday. Gathering for the day at the home of Mrs. Mettie M. Petersen and her daughter, Mrs. Brault, were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Lubert Bemetz, of Marshfield; Mrs. Kay Howard, a sister of Macy, of Hauser; Mrs. Mary Rocco, Mrs. Graydon Anderson and Mrs. Darrel Anderson. Mrs. Macy Anderson and daughter, Darlene, whose home is in Spokane, will leave for there soon. Macy is a warrant officer in the Air Corps.

Dorcas Society Sewed For The Red Cross At Meeting Thursday

The Dorcas missionary group met with Mrs. Amos Payne last Thursday, the afternoon being spent sewing on duffel bags for the Red Cross.

The hostess, Mrs. Payne, served ice cream and punch to the following ladies: Mesdames Belle Hooton, Lou Hutton, Mary Burns, Arthur Hooton, Willard Sloan and little granddaughter, Al Erickson, Ralph Hadsall, Mary Ann Newton, Ann Dungey, E. M. Randleman and Jennie Lafferty.

Teachers Enjoy Four Days' Course

Fifty-two teachers gathered last week at the Washington Building, Coquille, and thirty-five at the Roosevelt School, North Bend, for in-service training. They praised highly the work of the two instructors, Mr. Martha Addy of the State Department of Education, and Miss Ida Mae Smith, supervising teacher from the Oregon College of Education, Monmouth.

The teaching of the fundamental subjects was discussed most of the time, with some attention being devoted to "The Appearance of the Classroom."

Wayne Smith, president of the Coos County Teachers' Association, was present at the Coquille meeting and spoke on the membership in the three professional organizations. Woody Mason of the Bridge School, accompanied by Ethel Fish at the piano, sang a solo and led the teachers on each of the two days in a community sing.

Laura Brandon, of the Norway School, and Harriet Houghton, Prosper School, each acted as a chairman for a department.

At the North Bend meeting, Miss Irlene Athey, music supervisor in the North Bend schools, accompanied by Margaret Bremer at the piano, led the teachers in group singing each day. Mrs. W. G. Barrows, newly appointed executive secretary for the Coos County Public Health Association, told of the Mobile Unit which the association hopes to have available in Coos county within the next few months in order to take chest x-rays. The department chairmen for these two days were Mrs. Jane Balch, Kentuck Inlet, and Mrs. Lorena Cline, Charleston. Laura Brandon who is secretary-treasurer of the Coos County Division of O. S. T. A. talked with the teachers on the membership drive.

At each of the meetings, those attending enjoyed a victory garden potluck dinner together and at the close of each day in North Bend, they participated in a cherry feast.

The meetings which were held in each town were duplicated in program, but were held in each place for the convenience in transportation.

This is the second year for holding summer schools in Coos county for in-service training of teachers. Both years, the work has proven most helpful, resulting in an improvement of teaching technique.

Belle Knife Hospital

Three babies were born last Wednesday evening, Aug. 2, at the Belle Knife Hospital. The 8½ pound boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Baker of Marshfield, was named David Joe.

The boy born to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Watson, of Coquille, weighed 8½ pounds and is named Sherman Lewis. To Mrs. F. L. Sexton, whose husband is now in the service a 7½ pounds baby daughter was born. She is named Mary Susan.

Mrs. Lynn Stark underwent a major operation last week two days before her husband, Dr. G. E. Stark, was able to leave the hospital following his appendectomy.

Don Freidrich underwent an operation for appendicitis last Wednesday and Wm. B. Cotter submitted to the same kind of an operation on Thursday.

A father and son are both in the hospital, Earl R. Avery having undergone a major operation on Monday and his 12-year old son, Stewart, an appendectomy last Saturday.

Sally Jeffrey, granddaughter of Elmer McCue, also underwent an appendectomy on Saturday.

Three entered for treatment Saturday, W. A. Schroeder of Myrtle Point for an injured arm, Mrs. Mary Hanson, of Bandon, and Mrs. W. Link, of Powers.

Mrs. Woodrow Robison, of Arago, underwent a major operation on Sunday, and Chas. Beyers of Coquille a major on Monday.

Besides Dr. Stark's on Saturday, dismissals have been Mrs. Marian Butterfield last Thursday and Mrs. R. V. Britton and son, of Greenacres, on Sunday.

All F.O.E. Members
