

Notes About Riverton Hartwell Boys

Miles M. Hartwell, petty officer in the Office of Transportation in the U. S. Naval Air Base at Klamath Falls, spent last Saturday with his mother, Mrs. C. M. Hartwell at Riverton, and with his sister, Miss Cherie Mae Hartwell, instructor in the Marshfield Schools. Also he renewed acquaintances and met old friends in Riverton, Coquille and Marshfield. Miles, who has been in the service for two years and who has a host of friends throughout the county, looked well and gave every evidence of having been receiving good food and care at the great air base at the "Falls."

Strangely enough, Miles reported, he was to have the pleasant and unusual opportunity to enjoy a deer hunt in the Klamath Falls country upon returning there last Sunday—the opening date of the deer hunting season—with two hunters who had accompanied his father, the late Charles M. Hartwell, on his last hunt in that section in 1937. We hope Miles' excursion into the woods there last Sunday was as productive of successful results, as on that former occasion when his father was last there with those same hunting partners.

Miles expects to return again soon to Coos county. He is to be sent over in charge of a large truck and several boys, to get an airplane which is slightly damaged on the Bay and which is to be returned to the "Falls" base for repair.

C. Grant Hartwell, S. 2/c in the Navy, has been very ill with pneumonia in the U. S. Naval Hospital in Seattle for nearly two weeks. He is improving at this writing, but still is in an exceedingly weakened condition. He was sent to the Seattle Naval Hospital from Hueneme, Calif. He has been assigned to the ship U.S.S. Rockbridge, and his duty will be the operation of a motor derrick for the loading and unloading of cargo for overseas men, when he is able to go aboard ship. There is a bare possibility that he may be allowed to return to his old home in Riverton for a short time while convalescing.

Eli Brault, brother of Jane Martin who is nurse at the Smith Wood plant, and husband of Mrs. Perna Brault of Riverton, is a petty officer in the 5th Construction Battalion of the SeaBees. He has been on an assignment in far northern waters this summer and just recently returned to the U. S. Naval Hospital in Seattle in charge of some injured and sick men sent there from his battalion for hospitalization and treatment. As soon as he could he located Grant Hartwell there in the same hospital and the two "buddies" from Riverton are finding much to talk over while they have so much time on their hands. Grant writes, "Eli is the best 'tonic' I've ever had. My doctor just couldn't have prescribed a better medicine for me."

Officer Brault was granted an emergency leave of a few days just after he got his men safely to the Seattle hospital last week, and he spent them with his wife who had undergone a major operation here at the Belle Knife Hospital in Coquille.

Word has been received from Mrs. Nell C. Goodwin, who is a telephone operator in Portland, that her son, William, or "Bill," as he is known to his host of friends in Coos county, was reported missing in action on Aug. 15 by U. S. Army headquarters. Bill was a tail-gunner in the 13th Army Air Force and his last trip was over Germany, where his plane was brought down. The circumstances surrounding the crash of his plane do not allow for much hope for his escape from it, his mother reports.

The Goodwins came to Coquille from Chehalis, Wash., in 1939, where they lived until the summer of 1941 when they moved to one of the Hartwell homes in Riverton. Bill and his father, Neil, worked at the Smith Wood plywood plant from the time of their arrival in '39 until they both entered the armed forces in 1942.

Neil C. Goodwin, the father, is home on furlough with his wife in Portland now and both are planning a trip to Coquille and Riverton soon. Another son, Arthur, is an M. P. and stationed in the British Isles at this time.

The many friends of "Bill" Goodwin and his parents are hoping still to receive more encouraging news from the European eastern front that the news of his disappearance is not as serious as at first suspected.

Mrs. A. C. Kight, of Riverton, has just received a letter from her son, Pvt. Cortland M. Smith, affectionately known as "Mickey" by his many friends, that he has been moved from the India theatre of war and now is in Burma. His new address is Pvt. Cortland M. Smith, A.S.N. 39335286, 274 M.P. Co., APO 689, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y. His letter was sent by air-mail and it took 16 days for the trip over here. Part of Ms letter follows: "I have not heard from you for three or four days now, Mother. I guess it is because I am in a different place. I am now somewhere in Burma. I traveled over the Ledo road, and let me tell you I saw some of the most beautiful scenery I have ever seen in my life, as well as some of the worst. The road is about like the one over to the Rogue river in Oregon, only the hills here are a lot steeper and higher. Instead of looking down for about a mile as one does down to the Rogue there, I could see straight down for about two miles over here. "That is just about all I can tell you about the trip over here. I am well and having a wonderful time. One reason why I have such a good time is because there is a river about a hundred yards from here, where I go swimming almost every day. "The reason I haven't written before is that I have been on detail (work) and didn't get a chance. I hope you are moved by now, and that you like it. Write soon again. Note the new address. Love, 'Mickey'."

ICED APPLE DUMPLINGS
Using a standard pastry recipe, roll the pastry 1/4-inch thick and cut into 6-inch squares. Wash and peel 6 whole medium-sized cooking apples; remove cores and place one apple in the center of each pastry square. Fill each core-hole with brown sugar, and a dash of cinnamon and nutmeg, and 1/2 tsp. butter or margarine. Dampen edges of pastry, and draw up around apples, pressing securely together. With sharp tined fork, prick dough well all over. Place in well-greased drip pan. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate oven (350° F.) and bake 45 minutes or until done, basting every 15 minutes with syrup made by boiling 1 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup water, and 2 tbsps. butter or margarine. When baked, frost tops immediately with medium-thick powdered sugar butter icing.
