The promotion of Richard B. Avery, 22, of Coquille, from the grade of private first class to that of technician fifth grade has been announced by the headquarters of the Ninth Air Force unit to which he is currently assigned, somewhere in the European Theatre of Operations.

Technician Fifth Grade Avery, a welder in a medium maintenance company, is the son of Mrs. Lela M. Avery, of Coquille. His wife, Mrs. Rosalie F. Avery, lives at 303 East 3rd St., Tucson, Ariz. Prior to entering the armed forces at Fort Lewis, Wash., Jan. 27, 1942, he was employed as a linotype operator by Don S. Avery, Etna, Calif. In 1940 he was graduated from Coquille high school where he was a reporter on the school paper.

After preliminary training Cpl. Avery was transferred to an east coast port from where he left for overseas in the summer of 1943. The unit to which he is now assigned is part of the Ninth Air Force Service team of mechanics, ordnance men and machinists who have been assembled to keep the aerial invasion of the German occupied territories by the Ninth Air Force in the skies.

Dick, he was called in the Sentinel office when he was our "printer's devil."

Capt. Jess Barton To Be Stationed in U.S. After Recovery

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Barton have received word from their son, Capt. Jess Barton, who was recently injured in France and hospitalized in England, that he was to be sent back to the United States during his recovery period. A plate had to be inserted in his skull where the shrapnel broke through, and he expects, upon recovery, to be relieved of any further combat duty and to be assigned to some post in the U. S. for duty over here.

Vern Oderkirk Was Not Seriously Injured In France

The Sentinel was misinformed last week about Vern Oderkirk's injury. It happened in France, not England, and the latest word from him is that he was not seriously wounded.

Lieut.-Com. Graydon Crews of the Navy, who is stationed in Seattle, came down on one of the transport planes to the North Bend base last Saturday and was able to spend a couple or more days with Mrs. Crews here, leaving to return to his headquarters on Tuesday.

At the gunnery school, he was trained in the operation of .30 and .50 calibre machine guns, first on ground ranges and later in the air, learning by simulated aerial battle conditions how to blast enemy fighter planes from the sky.

As an aerial gunner he will join thousands of his "teammates of the sky," carrying the attack to the enemy in all parts of the world as guardians of America's heavy and medium bombers.

Senator Wm. E. Walsh Talked Thursday To Lions

State Senator Wm. E. Walsh was over here from Marshfield last Thursday and attended the noon session of the Lions club, giving that body a report on his work back in Washington, D. C., where he spent several weeks in the effort to have work at the now discarded chrome plant, three or four miles out from here on the Marshfield highway, resumed and continued.

The senator paid his respects to our bureaucratic form of government, developed so largely the past 12 years, and said that while bureaus are necessary in our form of government, that care should be taken by congress to so limit their powers that they cannot expand their functions at the desire of the bureaucrats to include hundreds of activities not granted by the congressional enabling act.

The senator's opinion of bureaucratic Washington could not be classed of one of approval.
