Grand Guardian Edna Stanley and Grand Secretary Edna Catlow of the state of Oregon jurisdiction paid an official visit to Coquille Bethel, No. 15, Job's Daughters, here Monday evening.

The six o'clock banquet which preceded the meeting was served in the banquet room in Masonic Hall, where the Hallowe'en motif was carried out for both hall decorations and for tables.

At the regular meeting which followed the candidate for initiation was Sally Grable.

Escorts and honors were extended to present and past Queens, Grand Officers, Bethel Guardians and Guardian Council members.

The new Guardian Council members were installed by Grand Guardian Stanley, assisted by Grand Secretary Catlow. For Past Bethel Guardian Catherine Ruble was installed as Marshal.

With Secretary Vera Bishop acting as installing secretary and Chaplain Phyllis Litzberger as installing chaplain, the following were then installed in their respective offices: Ada Moore, Bethel Guardian. D. E. Rackieff, Assoc. Guard. Evelyn Finley, Guard. Sec. May Rackieff, Guard. Treas. Doris Ann Wood, Guard. Music. Estelle Harbison, Guard. Sociability. Ula Albom, Guard. Paraphernalia. Two Coquille Ladies Hear Grace Moore in Portland

Mrs. M. O. Hawkins accompanied her son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. Clifford E. Kampf and Mrs. Kampf, as far as Portland last Saturday. The young couple were returning to Grand Island, Nebraska, after a two weeks' visit here and in Curry county with relatives.

Mrs. Hawkins heard Grace Moore Saturday night and stated her voice is even more beautiful than over the radio.

Mrs. G. W. Tyrrell also went to Portland for the week-end to hear Grace Moore and to see her daughter, Mavis, who is attending business college there.

The Leslie E. Croffs Here From Florida Last Week

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie E. Croff arrived here last week from Jacksonville, Florida, where Leslie has been stationed for over a year as a flight instructor in free gunnery in the U. S. Navy at Celsel Field. After spending his leave visiting at the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Croff of North Bend and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Oerding of Coquille, Leslie left this morning for San Diego, where he will await further assignment, while his wife, Jane, will remain here with her parents.

One Case Heard By Petit Jury At October Term

Only one criminal case came before Judge King at the October session of Circuit court on Tuesday and after its conclusion the petit jury was excused, subject to call.

The case was against Thomas Carlyle White for driving while intoxicated. The judge fined him $150 and when that was paid the 60-day county jail sentence was suspended and the defendant was placed upon parole for one year.

No Council Session Was Held This Week

Mayor Wood and Councilman Burr both being out of town Monday evening, and there being nothing of importance on the docket anyway, the city council did not meet for its regular session Monday evening. Unless a special meeting is called in the meantime, the next one will be the regular session on Nov. 6, the eve before election.

New Books, at Norton's include the following: "Ride with Me" by Costain; "Tom Bone," Judali; "Glittering Hill" by Murphy; "Being Met Together" by Wilkins, and "The History of Rome Hanks" by Pennell. Come in and browse.

Republican Committee Meeting Evidences Grim Determination

The Coos County Republican Central Committee met in the Coquille city hall Tuesday and was called to order at eight o'clock by Chairman Green. The meeting was well attended and many of the committee women and men were present. The regular routine of business was dispatched and all the various committees were assigned their duties and a genuine spirit of harmony and desire for team work were quite apparent.

The seriousness with which the different speakers expressed themselves in their talks was very noticeable and it was quite obvious that none of them were disciples of defeatism but had a grim determination to dare and do. Like that grim determination that animated the assemblage of the founders of this great Republic, in the face of a storm that was approaching, this meeting of American women and men, still clinging to their faith in what their forbears had established, marched bravely on to meet that storm.

The seriousness of the situation at the present time requires more serious thought and, it seems, that wisecracking and clowning is entirely unnecessary and entirely out of place; the voice of tradition should inform us of the struggle for freedom, and if it is still respected, would no doubt save us from another struggle.

—R. M. Harrison.

Mrs. Edith G. Walton Died In Salem Thursday

Mrs. Edith G. Walton, former teacher in the Coquille schools and who was a resident of this city for 16 years, passed away last Thursday in a Salem hospital, following a paralytic stroke a week before.

The telegram from Mrs. Walton's sister with whom she went recently to live, was sent to Mrs. Jas. Richmond, but it did not give information as to when the funeral services were to be held.

Mrs. Walton's son, Dudley, who is now with the Army Air Force in the south Pacific, was probably not able to get home for the funeral.

He and Mrs. Richmond's son, James, practically grew up together and were inseparable from babyhood on until they went to college, and the mothers were the closest of friends.

Mrs. Walton was forced by ill health to resign as a teacher here last year.
