"Yes in some places it has been a bad year for crops but we are doing the best we can."
"If you farmers don't save a lot of grain this year some way I hear that either pigs will have to be killed or there will be a milk shortage in the east."
"Mister, all the grain we farmers raise except the little we eat goes to the city people in some form of food, milk, cereals or meat. If any grain is to be saved it is up to you folks to do it."
"How can we save grain except by eating less?"

"Easy. Drink less. In normal peace years the brewers use such a small part of the crops that it doesn't rob you city folks of food and it doesn't give us farmers much money either. But when crops are short it doesn't do us a mite of good and it sure shorts you."
"Do you mean that every glass of beer we drink takes food and milk from our own or our allies' tables?"
"It sure does. I raise grain; it is up to you whether you want to eat it or drink it. Well, I've got to get back to work." B-4
