Methodist To Raise 25 Million For Relief

Methodists of Coquille are being called by the Reverend Charles Goodwin Brown, minister of the Pioneer Methodist church, to take part in raising $25,000,000 for world relief and reconstruction. The first phase of the denomination's nation wide Crusade for Christ program of post-war service.

The local appeal for which the goal is approximately $1,500 will begin December 10, Mr. Brown announced. The Methodist congregation here is part of 8,000,000 members of 41,000 churches in the United States who are participating in the four-year, five-fold plan of the Crusade.

Expenditures of the Crusade fund by the regular, general agencies of the church will provide for "feeding the hungry, clothing the destitute, and freeing the minds and spirits of the ignorant, the underprivileged, the driven and dispossessed," Mr. Brown said. Three-fifths of the fund has been allocated for the "rebuilding and rehabilitation of human life" in foreign countries, nine-tenths in war devastated areas and the rest in other mission fields. The balance will be used for emergency, war-caused needs in this country.

Other phases of the Crusade for Christ program call for continued education in and expression of opinion for "co-operation among nations in the post-war world" renewed evangelism efforts with special emphasis in 1946, education for Christian Stewardship of ability, time and money, and improvement of Sunday School enrollment and attendance.

"The Crusade for Christ is Methodism's organized response for assuring its part in meeting the unsettled condition and vast staggering needs created by the second World War," Mr. Brown stated. Having proved its will to live in the face of all enemies, the church is now ready to give practical and spiritual food to the hungry both of its own household and others throughout the world without distinction of race, creed or color.

Members of the Pioneer Church Crusade for Christ Council will direct the financial drive and other phases of the four-year program. Lay members of the church are speaking briefly, in each morning worship service in regard to features of this campaign.

Bare Facts From Bear Creek

"The Column That's Different" (By Lars Leneve)

This season the cranberry crop in this district has been frozen twice—both by the government and by Jack Frost.

A resident of this district tells a good one on himself. We figure it well worth repeating although it occurred some time back. This gentleman was coming through a certain town with an overloaded trailer and was flagged down, weighed in and given a ticket. He continued on home, explained the case to an attorney, stating that he was not aware of the restrictions regarding the load carried by two-wheeled trailers. The attorney informed him that he was well acquainted with the justice of the peace in the town where he had been apprehended and that he would write in a letter and fix things for him. So the attorney wrote the letter and it was posted, together with the summons. Within a few days the following communication was received from the J. P.: "Letter received. Contents noted. Fine $10.00." That's what you call con-dollar sign, the figure one and three zeros.

The Glendale Ministerial association of California has sent a letter to Franklin D. Roosevelt asking him to apologize for what it termed "shocking profanity" in a voting booth on election day. The news magazine, Time, quotes the president as seeking to manipulate an automatic machine. "The goddamned thing won't work." It is possible that he may have been referring to the New Deal.

John Heffley is home on a thirty day furlough from the hospital base in southern California. He was wounded in one of the raging battles of the South Pacific several months ago and is undergoing treatment at the base hospital.

It's a relief to be able to once again roam the beaches, the shores of coastal lakes and various waterfronts without being challenged as to whether or not you are an American citizen or a Nazi spy. It rather went against the grain to be fingerprinted, numbered and photographed, in order to stroll the coast line shores, fish in the lakes, hunt ducks or angle from waterfront docks. The Nips, with their clicking cameras, had already done the damage. Had they been curbed in that practice years ago, we would have felt safer and been safer here on the Pacific coast during those first months of the war.

The Al Morey family have purchased new furniture to install in their new home on the Prosper road near Winter Heights. It is "The House That Al Built" and it is, indeed a lovely home.

The cranberry bog owners surely got a break this season, the weather gods being unusually kind to them. All crops were harvested in this district. The good days also gave the farmers a break, they getting in some good licks on upland plowing and planting. The only ones found to crab about the weather were the duck hunters—they are all out of humor anyway, owing to the scarcity of ammunition, as well as the scarcity of ducks.

The war is costing two and one half million dollars per day and thousands of our brave boys' lives each day as well. All this cost of lives and war could have been avoided had we been properly prepared—armed in a manner that would have discouraged any sneak attack against Pearl Harbor or any of our possessions. Senator Wheeler and his ilk must feel proud of the part that they took against arming the nation, strengthening our fortifications, increasing our navy and discouraging every move made to prepare for war.

August Herman, of this district, has two geese. There is nothing strange about a farmer having a couple of geese, but this is no ordinary case, or rather they are not ordinary geese. The old gander stands guard at the gate of one of the fields where he and his mate are wont to feed and when any of the cattle start through the gate, the big birds grab them by the tails, beats them with his wings and drives them from the field. That gander would make some one a good cattle dog.

Many residents of this district have been suffering with the flu and severe colds the past two weeks and to top things off, two cases of chicken-pox have developed. Lucy Haga and Virginia Corey, both school girls, are the "spotted" victims but more cases are expected to develop in the near future, as the entire school has been exposed.
