Surprise Luncheon At Red-Cross Class

After conducting the surgical dressings department of the Red Cross in Coquille for eighteen months, Mrs. J. R. Bunch regrettably is giving up her leadership in that capacity to enter the office of Dr. Bunch as nurse and assistant. Both Dr. and Mrs. Bunch had hoped this would not become necessary. The time it takes to acquaint a new assistant with her duties would bear down too heavily on the doctor's busy hours. Mrs. Bunch will start next Monday morning.

A week ago Wednesday in the playhouse on the grounds of the Bunch home, the Surgical dressings group finished their year's quota. Since the starting of the work, a year and a half ago, under Mrs. Bunch's fine leadership, 105,000 dressings have been made. To accomplish this, there have been two sessions a week most of the time and some weeks three sessions. One was for all day.

Last Wednesday because it was the last day she and the group would be together, Mrs. Bunch surprised the twenty ladies present with a buffet luncheon, served in the play house. According to those attending it was a delightful occasion and very much appreciated.

The list of workers who have had a part in this fine endeavor are as follows: Mesdames Ida Owen, Harriet Greenough, Ada Moore, Gertrude Lorenz, Minnie Laws, Mary Williams, Virginia Lamb, Maxine Jeub, Zettie Hawkins, Eleanor Hanon, Lena Harmon, Helen Howe, Susie Folsom, Uta McClary, Katharine Norton, Nora Ross, Fern Schroeder, Lela Zentner, Florence Berg, Marguerite Chaney, Flora Compton, Gertrude Swinney, Neita Oddy, Zoe Fugelson, Minnie Liechty, Doris Mintonye, Tady Sage, Ann Larson, Helen Larson, Clara Morrison, Eula Schram.
