

Personal Mention

City Treasurer Hode Coughall left Monday morning for Portland to consult a throat specialist.

E. L. Detlefsen had a visit last week-end from his nephew, Arnold Clausen, of Seattle. He spent Friday and Saturday here on his way to Ferndale, Calif., to visit his parents.

Mrs. J. M. Lewis, of Butte, Montana, is visiting at the home of her niece, Mrs. Ben M. Walton. Mrs. Lewis will go to Powers to be with Mrs. Walton's brother for a while, following her visit here. She has been away from home since last March visiting relatives in California as far south as San Diego. She plans to return home by way of Portland and Seattle.

Mrs. Jack Dolan is expecting Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Strong and family from Klamath Falls for the holidays.

The Herman Ellingsens and two children will spend Christmas with Mrs. Pearl Ellingsen.

Norene McKeown returned the first of the week from a trip to Portland for the purpose of dental surgery.

Helen Winegar left Sunday for Portland to reside. She has been with the Tax Department in the Court House for two years.

Mrs. Henry Ellis has received a couple of telephone calls from her son, Worden Ellis, AMM1/c, from San Diego. Worden has been in the South Pacific two years and is looking forward to a visit at home as soon as the usual "red tape" has been finished.

Mrs. Robert Pileth has been suffering from a severe cold but was able to report back to her work at the Post Office Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Catton, who operate a cafe in Bandon, were callers at Amy Britton's home this week, as was also Mrs. Art Sweet of Bandon.

Mrs. Gladys M. Kistner is vacationing in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Matney, of the Drane Apartments, are observing their forty-fifth wedding anniversary. Friends are remembering them with gifts and flowers.

Mrs. R. M. Parrish, of Myrtle Point, who recently returned from visiting in Washington, was a Coquille visitor Monday. She said the "Oregon mist" we were enjoying that day suited her much better than the weather she encountered in the north.

E. L. McCutcheon, of Yakima, Washington, has been here for a ten-day visit with his nephew, Rev. Chas. Brown. He left Thursday to begin his return journey home visiting grand nephews and nieces on his route.

Robert Medley is home from Linfield College for the holidays.

Velma Coy arrived home this week from Salem, where she attends school.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Newton have their daughter, Dorothy Belle, home for the holidays.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Schroeder are sorry to hear they have both been quite ill at their home in Roseburg.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Harriman received word on Tuesday this week that the second great granddaughter to be born to them in two weeks arrived that morning, both of them being born in Portland. The mothers are daughters of O. B. Harriman, Jr. The Coquille Harrimans are now great grandparents of five.

Mrs. Howard Taylor returned home Sunday after a three weeks' visit in Long Beach, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor, Jr., are parents of a baby girl, Judith Marie, born Dec. 1, at Seaside Hospital there.

Mrs. Inez Chase is another who will enjoy this Christmas more than usual, both her daughters and grandson, Peter, being with her. Miss Genevieve arrived Monday evening, having come by the Streamliner from New York. Mrs. Pauline Harvey and Peter came in Saturday from Palo Alto, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bissett and Lee, of the No-D-Lay Cleaners, plan to spend the holidays with Mrs. Bissett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Johnson, of Marshfield.

Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Lawrence Go To California For Christmas

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lawrence left Wednesday morning for Oakland, Calif., to spend the holidays. They are in hopes that their son, Gordon, will be able to get a leave and come to Mrs. Lawrence's sister's home for Christmas but if unable to do so, they will go on to Camp Roberts to be with him there. Mrs. Lawrence states she has heard from relatives in Scotland, telling of her cousins in London who, during the last month, have lost their home from robot bombing. Their two sons were away at war and the parents were not at home at the time of the disaster.

"Tex" Cox Did Not File Suit For Divorce

Darrell L. Cox, of this city, quite generally called "Tex," has had so many inquiries as to why he filed a suit for divorce that he asks the Sentinel to call attention to the fact that the case mentioned in our last week's issue was that in which Darroll William Cox was the plaintiff, not the same man at all as Coquille's "Tex" Cox. Their first given names are pronounced the same but are spelled differently.

The E. C. Minard, Visiting in Old Home Town For Ten Days

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Minard, former residents of the Sanford Heights section, arrived in Coquille last Monday night from their home in Spokane, Wash. They will remain until the first of the year, during which time Mr. Minard will help his son, Clyde, finish his home. The new home is situated on the old coal mine road on property which has been in the family for eighteen years.

Mr. Minard has been working for the government for the last three years. When he returns to Spokane he will start work to build the first home for returned soldiers, under the new Soldiers' Home law which allows priorities for returned soldiers. Mr. Minard was foreman in the building of the Government magnesium plant in Spokane for a period of one year and six days. He took his entire proceeds from that job and put them into war bonds.

Want To Know More About Their Former Home

In writing to subscribe for the Sentinel for herself and daughter, Jerene—Mrs. Dan R. Banta—Mrs. Ethel M. Low says that they have been living in Palo Alto for the past two and one-half years. She has planned for some time on making Coquille a visit and hopes to get up here next summer. While visiting in Los Angeles she saw another former Coquille resident, the former Mrs. Ula Lench.
