Need To Save Tin Is Still A Vital Necessity

"Salvaged tin cans are the only tin mines in the United States," E. J. Nelson, regional salvage manager of the War Production Board, reminded the public today when he reported that 90 per cent of the natural resources of tin is still in the hands of the Japanese.
"The increased tempo of war is placing considerable strain upon our dwindling backlog," Nelson said. "It is urgent that collection systems in every community be reviewed and re-energized immediately."
"The mistaken thought that it is no longer necessary to save tin cans has caused an alarming drop in collections," Nelson advised. "Unless immediate co-operation is arranged by housewives, school children and salvage committees in every city throughout the Pacific Northwest, a serious crisis will occur!"
"Even V-E Day will give no let-up to the critical situation," Nelson warned, "because it is the Japs who are holding our tin resources. It will take two to three years after their defeat to recondition and retool the mines from which we formerly received our supply."
Tin is used for war implements, packaging food and medical supplies, as well as thousands of other articles such as the famous "Angel of Mercy" syrette, which has alleviated many a service man's pain.
Until recovery is made of the tin mines in Malaya and the East Indies, it is urged that full support be given in every way possible to maintaining tin salvage. Every person who saves and prepares cans for the salvage collection is performing a patriotic and essential service in the war effort, WEP officials pointed out.

Meeting Coos Marketing Assn. To Be Held Here Jan. 8
The annual meeting of the Coos Marketing Association, Inc., will be held in the I.O.O.F. Hall in Coquille next Monday, January 8, at 11:00 a. m., according to R. H. Christensen, president of the organization, who urges all producers in the county who have any form of livestock for sale during the year to attend and participate in the discussion.
N. S. Rogers, State Forester, who was prevented from attending an earlier meeting at Myrtle Point because of an accident to his daughter, will attend this meeting and discuss the Fire Patrol Assn. and its functions at 11:00 o'clock in the morning.
The annual meeting of the county livestock association will also be held at this same meeting to provide an opportunity of electing directors and caring for any other business which may be presented. This will avoid the necessity of holding two meetings, eliminating unnecessary travel and loss of time.
Luncheon will be served in the hall at noon by the Rebekah Lodge at a moderate cost and the afternoon program will include the election of two directors for the marketing association, a report of last year's activities, and a discussion on improving the transportation of livestock to market, locating a site for centralizing livestock for shipment and co-operation with the Coos-Curry Feed Co-op in providing lower cost of transportation for livestock to market and for feed back into Coos county.

Coquille Unit Red Cross Notes

Coquille Red Cross will meet Friday, Jan. 5, in Guild Hall from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m.

As this will be the first meeting of the new year a full attendance of regular workers is urged and new workers, as well as former surgical dressings workers, are invited to be present and help complete the hospital sewing program. Please plan to keep Friday afternoon free for Red Cross work, at least call at the work room for material to be taken home.
"Due to the recent holiday season, work has lagged considerably during the month of December. If we are to complete the heavy quota imposed upon us by March, as all county units are required to do, it will be necessary for all of us to take on a little additional work, each week, until that time. An urgent appeal is therefore made to all women who can do simple machine sewing as our most needed items at present consist of pajamas and the new type scuff slippers, which are not heavy and hard to handle as were the old style," says Mrs. Kasper, production chairman. "These two articles will be cut and ready for distribution; also there will be available at the work room three sewing machines for those who prefer to sew there."

"For the knitters there will be yarn available for both Army and Navy sweaters and regular socks. At the work table Mrs. C. L. Tuttle will provide wash cloths to be crocheted as well as button holes and buttons to be put on completed pajamas, etc."
"The Unit mourns the passing of one of our most faithful workers, Mrs. A. N. Gould. Her gracious personality and cheerful cooperation endeared her to all who knew her."
"Among our new workers are listed: Mesdames Laura Hudson, L. W. Oddy, Jack Jarvis and James Leonard."
"During the coming year, Mrs. L. P. Fugelson and Mrs. E. D. McCune will be our regular cutters. Mrs. G. B. Howe, Mrs. S. S. Hardenbrook and W. W. Brown will assist when needed.

"Mrs. S. A. Harmon and Mrs. A. B. Schroeder are outstanding for their consistent sewing. They also worked steadily throughout the year in the surgical dressings classes. In this connection Mrs. Clyde Norton also deserved favorable mention. Mesdames Frank Homenyk, Florence Hall and Ruth Candlin have done outstanding work in the knitting field and Mrs. Ida Owen and Mrs. Earl Noster are tops among the Afghan experts."

"The committee again expresses sincere thanks to all who have carried on so faithfully throughout the past year and feel confident of continued support during the coming year. As long as our boys are required to continue the fight, we must continue to support them through Red Cross work. Are you doing your part?"

Pidgeon, Miss Garson Starred For 4th Time At Roxy Sun. to Tue.
One of the most colorful male screen roles of the year—the dashing, immensely rich, immensely powerful Major Augustus Parkington of the Louis Bromfield novel, "Mrs. Parkington"—went to Walter Pidgeon, thereby reuniting for the fourth time the combination which made screen history in "Mrs. Miniver," "Madame Curie" and "Blossoms in the Dust."
With Greer Garson in the title role as the fascinating Susie Parkington and Pidgeon as the empire-building Major, the picture opens Sunday at the Roxy Theatre.
For both Garson and Pidgeon, the film represents a distinct departure from any of their previous "husband and wife" portrayals for fire, gaiety and worldliness are the dominating characteristics of the Parkingtons. Importantly cast are Edward Arnold, Donna Reed, Agnes Moorehead,

Gladys Cooper, Tom Drake and Peter Lawford.

INCOME TAX BOOKLET "How to Prepare Your Income Tax Return"

This Booklet answers all questions regarding your 1944 return, also about the returns to be filed in 1945 with specimen returns worked out.

The booklet is quite general that the only tax return a wage earner need file is the Form W-2 withholding return. The very first page of this booklet dispenses of that matter. The Form W-2 should not be used if either of the other forms produce a smaller tax. And there are cautions explained in the booklet where the use of Form W-2 as a return is not permitted.

This booklet simply and clearly guides the taxpayer through the complex maze of tax return procedure, helps him decide whether to use the long or short form, leads him straight to the right form and shows him how to fill it out, checks deductions and income to keep him safe and help him save.

Whether you prepare your own tax return or have an agent prepare it for you, this book is a tax saving asset.

"SSH...MY HUSBAND THINKS I'M AN ANGEL"

...said she!

*Know why?

I'll tell you. The other night

Joe was fuming and fussing over our bills...trying to balance the family budget. We had that big hospital bill, and some other emergency bills that came up unexpectedly. They really threw our budget out of balance.

So, I said, Why don't we spread those expenses over a year's time by borrowing the LOW-COST way at the FIRST NATIONAL BANK. We'll establish our Bank Credit that way, too. Then when the war's over and we want to buy a new car we'll tell our dealer that we want our car financed thru the First National. See why my husband thinks I'm an Angel?"
