

Coquille Couple Wed At Salem

The following from the Oregon Statesman in Salem tells of the marriage of two well-known Coquille valley people:

The fireplace room of the First Presbyterian church was the setting for the marriage of Mrs. Grace Rackleff of Coquille, formerly of Salem, and Mr. Edward Detleson of Coquille, Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. Chester W. Hamilton officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a tuchala dress and hat with black accessories. Her corsage was lavender orchid with a tuchala throat.

Mrs. Dick Barklow was her cousin's attendant. She wore a black dress and hat with sequin trim and a corsage of gardenias. Mr. Barklow was Mr. Detleson's best man.

A wedding dinner was held in the dining room of the Lacy's restaurant in Independence. The bride's table was centered with a bouquet of white chrysanthemums, flanked by tall white tapers.

After a wedding trip the couple will reside in Coquille at 155 South Elliott street. The bride was formerly connected with the state agriculture department here. Her husband is a dairyman and stock rancher in Coquille.

Newlyweds Stop In Coquille Over Night Recently

The former Janie Kramer, who was married to Robert Yancy in Portland Dec. 17, was in Coquille for a short time recently with her husband on their way south to Los Angeles and thence east to Miami, Florida, where the groom is to be an instructor for six or eight months.

The groom's arrival back in the United States was unexpected just at the time he came, but the carrier on which he served was badly damaged when a Jap plane hit it in a crash dive and the decision to advance the date of their marriage was made after his arrival back home.

Delay in announcing their marriage until after Christmas was because it occurred during Advent week. The happy couple were in Coquille on their trip south only over-night.
