

Bare Facts From Bear Creek

"The Column that's Different"
(By Lana Leneve)

One of the largest tire manufacturing companies in the U. S. it is reported, intends to expand its business after the war to the manufacturing of, or selling of sporting goods, firearms. Another company is going to carry furniture as a sideline. With drug stores selling ammunition and fishing tackle, grocery stores selling tires and baseball bats during peace times, there is nothing strange concerning the decision of the tire companies.

We like, and are cheered by the attitude of our new president—Harry S. Truman. The first thing that struck our fancy was the fact that he is letting the members of the Senate, as well as representatives, in on proposed peace terms and consulting with them concerning peace terms. The judgment of such critical decisions will be made with the help of the members mentioned above and not by the judgment of just one man. We believe too, that the American public will be informed and kept informed regarding the framing of the peace pact. A lot of secrecy will be done away with that has prevailed in the past. In other words, Harry Truman is not going to seek to make a one man job of America's part in world peace following the conclusion of the war, for he is seeking the wisdom and advice of others. We believe that in the months to come, that our new president will prove the fact that he does not wish to run the whole show himself, that he is willing to let all vital issues that may arise, be discussed by the representatives of the people of America and that the decisions or the sanction of the majority will rule in the future.

Harry S. Truman has a tough job ahead of him, but we feel that he is fully capable of handling it. At least he has made a swell start along those lines. More power to him!

At this writing Mrs. E. L. Thompson, of Bear Creek, is a patient at the Belle Knife Hospital at Coquille. Her condition last week was serious enough to warrant calling her son, Emery, "Porky" to her bedside. The latest report received was that she was improving. "Porky" who is in the armed forces stationed in California and expecting to be shipped overseas in the very near future, will probably have returned to his base by the time this appears in print.

John Paulson, of Winter Heights, has purchased a tract of land in the Prosper district which he plans to convert into a cranberry bog. In by-gone days it used to be on an average of one cranberry to each turkey raised. Now, by fair comparison, there's a crate of berries for each turkey and more bogs being planted each season.

Miss Lois Jean Bothwell calls our attention to the fact that immediately following an article wherein we stated that she was attending Coquille High School, that our self adopted little slogan of "Don't Be Saps—Deport The Japs;" appeared last week. She was apprehensive of the fact that readers, especially new ones like herself, might think that the Bothwell family were being referred to. So glad to inform you Lois, that honorable skunk with stripe down back, is lowest type of animals we have on Bear Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Culver, son Morris, daughter Shirley and a very likable sailor lad, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Culver of Bear Creek last week. We were not informed of the fact, but from general appearances it looked as though the navy wins again, so far as Shirley is concerned. The Len Culver family reside at Cottage Grove, Len and "Uncle" Frank being brothers. The occasion of the visit was to celebrate "Uncle" Frank's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Albertson have moved from Reedsport to this district. They are the parents of that famous trapper, "Jumbo." The latter has discarded his crutches after having hobbled about for sometime, due to a broken ankle. A son, Sgt. Clifford, spent his furlough visiting his parents, "Jumbo" and family and friends in the county. He is a stalwart fine-looking lad, typical of Uncle Sam's fighting boys the world over.

Our swallows home coming here on Bear Creek this spring was belated; they flew in 20 days late. Had they arrived on their previous schedule they would have no doubt gone hungry or starved to death, for swallows cannot subsist on rain drops. The past week, the warm rays of the sun has created insect hatches and now the birds are happy. And are they busy building "houses."

Contrary to reports of poor fishing conditions on opening day, Pop and me had no trouble in securing a near limit of cut-throat, as well as a fine, four pound steelhead.

WEALTH OF THE WEST

★ SPEED THE VICTORY—BUY WAR BONDS

Hydroelectric Power With the world's mightiest power dams creating hydroelectric energy from the inexhaustible flow of mighty rivers, this West is the Power-House of the nation. With its rich, varied natural resources and low-cost plentiful power, economists predict that it will lead the world in diversified manufacturing, particularly in light metals and plastics. During the war, the hydroelectric power of this region has led to the establishment of West Coast aluminum plants with a production double that of the entire nation before Pearl Harbor. In the post-war period, regional planning commissions estimate that this territory can support in luxury three times its present population with all its mills, mines, factories, farms and homes electrically powered, lighted, and heated at the world's lowest rates. Hydroelectric Power is the key to the West's fullest development and prosperity.
