"LADY LEATHERNECK HAIR-DO"

Woman Marine Private Alta Smith, of Portland, recently enlisted in the marine corps women's reserve, admires the new "Lady Leatherneck Hair-do," designed by Pierre especially for members of the marine corps women's reserve. Private Smith is typical of many patriotic Oregon women who realize the war in the Pacific will be a long one, and by enlisting in the marine corps she will free a combat-trained marine for action. All women between the ages of 30 and 36 interested in joining up with the "Women in Green" should write to 208 New U. S. Courthouse Bldg., Portland 5, Oregon, today!

Sgt. H. W. Bond Member Of Distinguished Group

Sgt. Horace W. Bond of Coquille, airplane mechanic, is a member of the Second Bombardment Group of the 15th Army which recently flew its 400th combat mission. The group accomplished this number of attacks in less than two years, first putting bombers over an enemy target from a North African base on April 26, 1943. It has been awarded the Distinguished Unit Citation, and its members hold thousands of decorations from the Distinguished Service Cross to the Air Medal, according to an army dispatch.
