

Dr. U. G. Dubach Makes Splendid Address Tuesday

Approximately one hundred people heard Dr. U. G. Dubach address the Inter-Church Fellowship Tuesday evening in the Pioneer Methodist Church on the theme, "What I Want America to Get out of the War."

Dr. Dubach introduced his speech by quoting Winston Churchill's statement, "The price of greatness is the assumption of responsibility," and remarked that each American must assume his responsibility in his government and in the world. He said he was more concerned about what the American people thought than he was about what the Senate thought, for if the people think right so will the Senate.

There are five things that he wants America to get out of the war. First, Finish the war. This will not happen until we march down the main street of Tokyo and destroy the roots of both Japanese nationalism, which is based in the emperor worship of Shintoism, and German Nazism.

Second, Have a strong Army and Navy. We must be able to protect our rights and the rights of smaller nations.

Third, Have freedom of the air. The big business of the future will be over the north pole because of shorter routes that way. We must demand that the airways of the world be kept free even as we have stood for freedom of the seas. We must demand and keep certain strategic islands and bases in the Pacific. This is not imperialism since these islands are worthless economically.

Fourth, Demand freedom of trade. This is not to be confused with free trade. He would allow all nations free access to the raw materials of the world. This would be allowed Germany and Japan also as soon as they are able to bear their share of the burden, but not until that time. Fairness can be based only on repentance.

Fifth, America must lead the rest of the nations in world organization. In doing this there must be a positive foreign policy on our part. England and Russia know what they want in the world and they are getting it. We must be as positive. We must lead in the equalization of money values as well.

He concluded the speech where he started by saying again he was concerned about what the average American thought.

Following the address, Dr. Dubach led a short open forum discussion. Rev. Liston Parrish presided at the meeting during which Don Farr led the singing of several hymns, Rev. Menno Rempel read the scripture and offered prayer and Mrs. Hallock sang, "Fraser Perfect."

Rev. Chas. G. Brown introduced the speaker of the evening and special guests were Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Brittain from Myrtle Point. The dining room was in charge of the ladies from the Christian church.

City's Tax Bill To Be $35,515

On pages 10 and 11 of this issue appears the proposed Coquille city budget for the 1944-45 fiscal year.

The date of the hearing by the council, of any city taxpayer, has been set for 8:00 p. m. on Monday, July 9, at the city hall.

The total estimated expenditures for the coming year, as given by the budget committee, come to $95,397.50. Of this amount $50,715 is for the general fund, $37,182.50 for the water fund, $3,000 for the water improvement reserve fund, and $4,500 for the state street tax fund.

Estimated receipts—$13,700 in the general fund and $35,182.50 in the water fund, plus the cash balances—indicate that a city tax levy which will raise $35,515 will be necessary.

A year ago the amount estimated as being necessary to raise by taxation was $29,076.88.

Only the bank sells other than E bonds and total sales of others was reported by John Berglund yesterday as being $94,592, which is 94.6 per cent of the city's $100,000 quota.

E bonds, sold by both bank and postoffice now total $112,074.75, which is 64 per cent of the city's quota of $175,000. Of these E bonds the bank reports $93,849.75 sold and the postoffice $18,225.

A. K. Peck Locates In Myrtle Point

Arthur K. Peck, for 15 years a practicing attorney at Marshfield, as it was then called, but who has been in San Francisco since 1931, was a Coquille visitor Wednesday morning and he may decide to return to Coos county and open a law office, either in Coquille, Myrtle Point, or possibly in Coos Bay.

While he practiced law down in San Francisco the greater part of his time there, he has for the past two years been devoting his time to the shipping interests around S. F. bay, both in government and private ownership affairs.

Art was very well known all over Southwestern Oregon during his residence on the Bay and he will be welcomed "back home," if and when he decides to locate in Coos county again.

Last evening Mr. Peck called from Myrtle Point to say that he had become associated and formed a partnership with Wallace Dement up there. This new legal firm will be known as Dement & Peck.

Riverside Lumber Co. Is Operating Here

The organization of a new lumber company in Coquille—The Riverside Lumber Co., Inc.—has caused the Deadwood Bros. sawmill out in Fairview valley to be re-opened to furnish the Douglas fir lumber for the company. The mill had been closed down for the past ten months.

The new company is composed principally of Coquille men who are experienced in the sawmill and logging game. The incorporators are E. M. Wilson, R. J. Preussler and Noble H. Chowning. The latter is general manager of the new company and has recently resigned his position as foreman of the Smith Wood-Products fir mill after having been with them for four years.

Archie Cotter will handle the logging end for the new concern.

Roy Porter Gets H. S. Athletic Award

Roy Porter, one of this year's C.H.S. graduates, has received a Certificate of Award for his outstanding athletic record for the school year, 1944-45. This certificate is only a preliminary award, for after the war a bronze medal will be made for him.

Roy was on the Coos county all-star basketball team for the past two winters and was also on the all-star county team for the 1944 football season. He has been an outstanding athletic performer for his entire high school time here.

The C. C. Smith Family To Make Home Here Again

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Smith have returned to Coquille, after living in Vancouver, Washington, for three years, to purchase the old Sullivan place on Rink Creek. Their daughter, Mildred, accompanied them when they arrived very early last Thursday morning. Their son, Bill, took advantage of his leave from the Navy to move his parents here.

Bill has spent three years on a Sub Chaser, and will report to Denver, Colorado, for further assignment. He left for there this morning, his application for an extension of his leave not having been approved.

Lewis D. Wiltshire, who is to be the manager of the First National Bank here, Mrs. Wiltshire and their son, came in from Portland Saturday afternoon and left again Sunday. They have rented the A. H. Grimes house at 123 South Coulter and he expects to enter on his duties in the bank here on Monday, June 25.

Marc Shelley, Retired From The Navy, Home This Week

Marc H. Shelley, who had been in the U. S. Navy for the past two years and ten months, arrived home Monday this week, again a civilian, after having received his discharge papers at Bremerton, Wash., last Saturday. He was a First Class Carpenter Mate at the time when the department officials decided that he had served long enough. He was also past the age for retirement.

Marc had been in seven major engagements in the Pacific and his color shows what life on the water does to a man's complexion. His last participation in the war against the Japs was at Iwo Jima and his vessel was there for the entire time required to capture that Jap stronghold. He spent 31 of the 34 months he had been in the service, at sea.

Marc was surprised at one point where his boat touched to have a young man jump up, throw his arms around him, and hail him as a fellow Coquillan. It was Lynn Perrott. He also had a visit with his son, Marcus, who is now on Okinawa.

Marc picked up a good many souvenirs during his visits to various islands, formerly held by the Japanese. To the editor of the Sentinel he brought an illustrated Jap magazine, about the size, but thicker, of a Reader's Digest. He picked it up at Iwo Jima and that island name and "Lyan P. Marcus and Marc H.," written on the cover, are the only words we were able to read in the 60-page copy.

Marc has not yet decided what he will do but expects to continue his trade of carpenter and builder. He expects to remain in Coquille but will leave in a day or two to look over another proposition that has been offered him.

Welcome home, Marc, and it is our sincere wish that the other Coquille boys in the service may come home looking just as fit and healthy as Marc does. He said Tuesday that he would have been perfectly willing to remain in the Navy and do his part with the thousands and thousands in the Pacific who still have a tough job ahead of them in whipping the enemy.

Credit Risks Discussed Monday

There were 20 or more in attendance at the Monday noon luncheon meeting of the Coquille Retail Credit Association in the Coffee Shop, Monday noon.

The meeting was for members only and as the only business considered was a discussion of and reports on people in this section whose credit rating is poor, a newspaper article on names is not possible.

However, the way the Credit Bureau and the Western Mercantile Agency are now functioning, it is going to be possible from now on for all merchant members who do any credit business at all to know at once just who will take care, and who will not, of their credit obligations.

Fine Record Made By Roy District Pupils

Mrs. Alec Mackey reports that the Roy school in district 44 has had a one hundred per cent record of bond and stamp sales for the entire nine month period. This means each one of the fifteen pupils in the school purchased either bonds or stamps every sales day through the year. That is indeed a fine showing from one of the smaller, rural schools.

Edgar McDaniel Sells Coos Bay Harbor To J. W. Forrester

That veteran newspaper publisher, Edgar McDaniel, has sold his Coos Bay Harbor in North Bend to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Forrester, Jr., who will take possession July 1. He retains ownership of and will lease to the new publishers, the Harbor building on Sherman avenue. He also reserves his camera and cut-making equipment.

Mr. McDaniel came to North Bend in the fall of 1907, from Flandreau, South Dakota, where he owned a newspaper, and for the past 38 years has published one of the best family newspapers in Oregon. He has not been in the best of health for some time and in a note to the Sentinel says: "Have no immediate plans in mind; just hope to do those things that may improve my health a bit."

Mr. McDaniel will be missed, not only as the Harbor owner in North Bend, but by all of Coos county. He has been an industrious, clear-thinking leader in county affairs for more than a third of a century and his friends, which means everyone who knows him, hope his retirement will be beneficial to his health and that he will continue to enjoy the southwestern Oregon climate for many years.

The Sentinel welcomes Mr. and Mrs. Forrester to the fraternity in Coos county, as publishers and owners. They are Coos Bay residents, he having been employed on the Times' reportorial staff.

Mr. McDaniel's retirement automatically makes County Judge L. D. Felshelm, of the Bandon Western World, the dean of the fraternity in Coos county. He preceded this Sentinel owners, who came here in 1914, by a few months in coming to Coos county.

Employment Office Opening Awaits Funds

Sam Lehman, of the U. S. Employment office in Coos Bay, was here Tuesday in conference with E. E. Watkins who will be in charge of the local office, if one is ever opened here.

A few weeks ago in Representative Harris Ellsworth's weekly letter from Washington, D. C., it was stated that an employment office was to be opened in Coquille.

But—the district office in Portland tells Mr. Lehman that until funds are budgeted for the Coquille office it cannot be done and, to date, no funds are available.

Various individuals and organizations here are wiring Senators Cordon and Morse and Representative Ellsworth, telling the urgent need for such an employment office in the Coquille valley and asking them to do their utmost to have funds for its operation made available.

Clean-Up Drive Has Been Effective

Coquille is taking on new glamour since the Clean-Up and War Salvage drive was launched June 1. A tour of the city shows beautiful, well-kept lawns and tidy parking. The flower beds and gardens are also more colorful and gayer than usual, after the general spring rain.

George F. Burr, chairman of the drive, reports that much has already been accomplished. Many loads of rubbish have been taken to the dump and a large amount of salvage material collected. The tin cans have been coming in so well, since the containers were placed around town, that a carload of them was shipped out this week.

More waste paper is coming in all the time and in better condition. It is a great help to have it tied in neat bundles and boxes.

The Drive will continue till June 18 and Mr. Burr asks that we do not slacken our efforts. There is still time to have waste taken away.

A new feature of Clean-Up Week this year is, that the city firemen will superintend the burning of trash piles if they are put in suitable places for burning. Complete instructions are given in the advertisement elsewhere in this paper.

Valley Golf Club Won From Roseburg

The Coquille Valley Country Club members played host to the Roseburg contingent last Sunday and proceeded to win the Interclub match which resulted by the score of 27½ to 23½.

Spike Leslie was medalist with the very respectable score of 75 strokes for the 18 holes played.

The Coquille Valley boys furnished a very nice dinner for the guests, the dinner being served by Mrs. W. B. McLarrin.

Next Sunday, June 17, the local club entertains the Coos Bay Diver Diggers and follows this up the following Sunday, June 24, by playing a return match at Roseburg.

Annual School Meeting June 18

Elsewhere appears the call for the annual school election of director, which will be held at the high school on Monday, June 18, between 2 and 7 p. m. The meeting is for the purpose of electing a director for three years and for any other business which may be necessary.

Chairman R. T. Slater is the director whose term expires this month and the feeling is quite apparent all over the district that he should be re-elected for another term, if he will serve again.

The meeting does not continue from two until seven o'clock, but the ballot box is open for the five hours to permit those who cannot be there at two o'clock to cast their ballots later.

A petition has been filed asking that the name of R. T. Slater be printed on the ballot for next Monday's election.

Committees For The Fourth Celebration Are All At Work

The regular weekly meeting of the July 4th celebration committees was held in the city hall Tuesday evening. General Chairman W. H. Fortier presiding.

Committee reports by the chairmen of the various committees all indicated that plans for a big two-day program — July 3 and 4 — are progressing nicely.

O. L. Wood was elected to serve as solicitation committee chairman to succeed Mr. Fortier, previously named for that position.

Jack Moore's report on dance orchestras which might be obtained for the three days or evenings of dancing in the Community Building — Monday evening, July 2; afternoons and evenings of the 3rd and 4th — resulted in an expression of opinion that a Coos county orchestra could be secured, rather than one from Portland.

The parade committee, Larry Lundquist chairman, was allocated $130 for necessary expenses.

Other reports submitted were by R. L. Stewart on decorations; concessions by I. A. Elrod; square dance by Burton Dunn; and the Victory Girl contest by Stan Sherwood.

There is to be no selling of tickets by the queen candidates selected by the many clubs and organizations in Coquille this year but an out-of-town person will be here to make the selection, his or her decision as to whom the honor should be awarded to be based on the following qualifications: Personality, poise, character, beauty, carriage, activities and health. The queen should be of average height, from five feet to five feet seven. Only unmarried girls may be selected as candidates and their ages should be between 17 and 20 years, or she may be under 18 if she was a high school graduate last month.

The other girl candidates, not selected as Victory Queen, will comprise her Court of Honor.

Every lodge, club and civic organization in Coquille has been invited to offer a candidate for queen. The sponsoring club will pay for its candidate's formal but all other expenses will be borne by the committee.

It was reported that the Woman's Club and the Coquille Fire Department have already made selection of their candidates.

The above was written and in type before the Chamber of Commerce meeting in the city hall at five o'clock last evening when, after full discussion, it was decided that the Horse Show should be held on July 4th instead of the 3rd, as so many horsemen who had planned on showing their horses could not be here the day before the Fourth.

Just how much that decision is going to change plans for the celebration has not yet been determined but the horse owners committee is to meet at once and decide just what they will do to insure that Coquille has at least one day of celebration.

Chamber Commerce Membership Drive Was 100 Per Cent

The Chamber of Commerce Membership drive conducted last week was completed one hundred per cent. The new membership cards have an attractive picture of the Community Building on them, in order that members may advertise their home town when showing their cards.

Robert M. Fischer, Jr., who is Lions Club district governor for Oregon, was here from Salem Tuesday on his way to Powers to pay the Lions club there an official visit. Formerly with an Eugene newspaper, Mr. Fischer is now outside contact man for the radio station, KSLM, in Salem.

Mrs. Bernadean Wilson, widow of the late M. Earl Wilson, who left Coquille following the death of her husband several years ago to make her home in Portland, terminated her visit here the last of the week when she departed for Ludlow, Vermont, where she and her daughter, Helen, will remain for the summer. Mrs. Wilson reports she sold her home in Portland. She will reside in New Jersey next winter while Helen is enrolled in a young ladies' school in New York.
