

National Safety Council Praises The "Booby Trap" Adva.

Citing a series of advertisements appearing in The Sentinel as "Performing a definite and valuable service for car safety and conservation," Henry E. North, president of the San Francisco Chapter, National Safety Council, extended congratulations to Shell Oil Company, Incorporated on their current "Booby Trap" ad campaign.

Pointing out the dangers of wartime care neglect, the Oil Company's adv. series uses authenticated examples of military Booby Traps to dramatize the accident potential of "hidden" auto parts, which, if neglected, may result in serious accidents.

Booby traps aren't confined to the battlefields, Shell's advs. demonstrate. Car steering knuckles, for example, if neglected can cause an accident as disastrous as a TNT explosion.

Shrine Committee Thanks For Hospital Paper Drive Help

We wish to thank everyone who brought in paper for the Shrine Hospital Drive and all those who were so kind to help us bundle and tie it up ready for shipment.

We especially want to thank George Burr, the local chairman of the Salvage Committee, and feel that Coquille is very fortunate in having him in charge as only the few who work with him know as to the long hours he puts in on this job to further the war production and the only remuneration he receives is lots of work and plenty of grief. After two weeks on the job of packing paper we would like to make a few suggestions, as it would be a big help to Mr. Burr:

Put your garbage and bottles in the garbage can, as they cannot use either in war production.

Tie your papers in bundles, as it only takes you a few minutes to do this and would mean a lot less hours of work for the volunteers at the Salvage Depot.

If he asks you for help to bundle and tie, go down and give him a hand and help this war effort.

35 From Coquille At The Baptist Camp Myrtle Haven

The Baptist Camp Myrtle Haven on Coos river closed its biggest camping week last Saturday, in its three-year history. The total registration was 125 and there were many visitors. The Coquille representation was well over 35. This family style camp combines all the features of a good vacation with the old-fashioned camp meeting.

From reveille to taps, beginning the day with the formal flag raising and featuring such things as Devotions, Classes, Recreation, Stunts, Camp Fire Services, and lots of good food, this is a one-in-a-lifetime experience for many. This camp complies with the government request stressing the vacation and recreational features offered.

Calling cards, 50 for $1.00.

4-H Camp Was A Fine Success

The 4-H summer camp at Camp Lawhorn ended last Sunday with a picnic and program at noon which was attended by many parents and friends. Seventy-six 4-H club members were registered at the four-day camp, besides a staff of about twenty club leaders and instructors.

The group was fortunate in getting instructors such as Miss Cowgill, assistant state 4-H club leader; Mrs. Bessler, a furrier and leathercraft instructor; Dr. D. D. Hill, Farm Crops Dept. head; Bill Langan, from the office of the Dean of Man; Dan Robinson, extension forester, and Robert E. Rieder, extension entomologist, all from Oregon State College, and Mrs. Arthur Jones, of Myrtle Point, who taught classes in mineralogy. Miss Ida Oerding of Coquille and Mrs. Erma Ott, of Allengany, both local club leaders, also taught classes. Other local leaders who were in charge of the groups and who had other special duties, were Mrs. Pearl Batchelor, Eastside, program chairman; Mrs. Lillian Alto, Eastside; Mrs. Rachel Davis, Haynes Inlet; Mrs. Gould, Allengany, K. P. director, and Mrs. Jenkins of Coquille was the camp nurse. Mrs. Melman, of Coos Bay, was camp cook and assistant cooks were Mrs. Hinze and Mrs. Lindsey, of Coquille. Mrs. Ann Montgomery, of Millington, helped the first day with registration. Mrs. Cecelia Van Winkle, home demonstration agent, and Almon L. Geiss, assistant county agent, were directors in charge of the camp.

Each day began with reveille at 7:30 a. m. Roll call and flag-raising, which included the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag and the 4-H club pledge, were held before breakfast. The forenoon was divided into three class periods. The afternoon was divided into two recreation periods, one group went swimming while the other group played baseball, volley ball, and practiced archery. A boat, which was donated to the camp by Lindy Alto, of Eastside, was in continuous use during the afternoon.

Mrs. Bessler taught classes in leathercraft in which each member had the choice of making a hand-tooled belt, bill fold, coin purse, comb case, or book mark. Mrs. Bessler furnished the equipment for hand tooling. Some of the belts that the members made are equal to belts being sold for as much as five and ten dollars. The other articles were of comparative value.

Classes in identification of local weeds and plants were led by Dr. Hill. Mr. Rieder taught gardening, plant diseases and insect pests. Mr. Robinson taught classes in forestry and the methods of fire fighting and care of tools. Each of these class projects consisted of one discussion period and one field trip.

Miss Cowgill taught one class in making lapel pins and one in contests. The lapel pins were made of felt and were stuffed with cotton. The mineralogy classes, led by Mrs. Jones, were field trips on which the club members used the pestle and mortar and the gold pan to test rocks for minerals. Mrs. Jones also had some portable radio equipment which was used to locate certain minerals. Miss Oerding taught a picture-making craft and Mrs. Ott a class in cooking biscuits over a camp fire with the use of reflector.

A camp fire program was arranged each evening under the supervision of Mrs. Batchelor. On one evening the girls alone put on the program and the next evening the boys tried to outdo them. The girls voted that the boys put on the best program; however, the boys admitted that the last group always has the advantage so they were not overly proud. Educational, but interesting, motion pictures were shown two different evenings besides the regular camp fire program. One was a wild life picture with some rare scenes that have never before been filmed. Two films on tuberculosis, one Walt Disney picture portraying the deadly malaria mosquito, and one on forestry and forest protection were also shown.

On Sunday morning a vesper service was held around the camp fire, led by Mrs. Almon Geiss. The service consisted of singing, prayer, a few poems, and a talk by Mrs. Geiss.

The camp was the second annual Coos County 4-H camp but it was the first to be held at Camp Lawhorn, which is their own camp and the place where the future camps will be held.

Howdy Folks:

Making her public confession last Sunday at church, was Mrs. Fay Holverstott. Rev. Liston Parrish, of the Coquille Church of Christ, announced that baptismal services for her will be held immediately after the regular services at the Church of Christ in Coquille next Sunday morning. Those interested are invited to be present.

Mrs. L. L. Buoy took a carload of women folks to Myrtle Point Monday night to attend the Assembly of God Fellowship meeting, which was held there that day. Rev. Raymond Carver was the speaker and a very good sermon was delivered. He is well known in Myrtle Point, which is his home town.

Picnicking Sunday noon, with Mr. and Mrs. Fay Holverstott and children were Mr. and Mrs. Craig Perrott and two children of Coquille. Coming with the Perrotts to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Simpson, were Mrs. Maxine Stevens, and two sons.

We have a good stock of ornamental Hair Combs, and Pearl Chokers. Schroeder Jewelry.

Howdy Folks:

Last winter we installed a large, forced-draft heating system to enable us to turn out our full amount of work, by keeping everyone comfortable and well.

This summer the same system, "minus the Fire," keeps our shop like a refrigerator on the hottest days.

Can you imagine such luxury only two blocks north of the City Hall and where's there no street dust nor traffic noise?

When Your Back Hurts—
And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling, sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.
