

Doings of Local People

Bob Geaney was visiting in town Monday and reported that the roads in his territory are getting pretty soft underneath with all the water we've had lately.

Mrs. Ernest Watkins was a Coquille visitor last week-end. The Watkins have one of the most unusual homes in Oregon in their solar-heat residence built on Hall's Creek behind Myrtle Point. It was entirely designed and constructed by the Watkins, and is a house of beauty and utility. Its glass windows radiate the winter's sun and really heat the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Crippen are now Coquille residents having moved here from Toledo, Oregon. Mr. Crippen is a war veteran and was recently released from active duty. He is now employed by the Standard Oil company in the Coquille branch distributor's office. At present they are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Evan Alborn while they look for a house. They are former friends of the Alborns.

Floyd Jarvis suffered a severe head wound last week when a piece of wood hit him near the eye. He was working in the plywood plant of the Coos Bay Lumber company here. He was taken to the McAuley hospital, Coos Bay, by the Schroeder ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greenough accompanied friends to the Elk river Saturday where they spent an enjoyable day. Frank reports that there have been some heavy catches of the spring run of Chinook on the Rogue.

Lt. and Mrs. Tallant Greenough are expected to return to Coquille sometime in May, it was learned this week. Lt. Greenough, who has seen service in Alaska and Seattle as a member of the legal branch of the U. S. army, will resume his practice of law here.

Stan Sherwood returned late last week from a week's trip to Portland. While there he was engaged in business for the George Burr Motors company.

Mr. and Mrs. Luckey Bonney returned this week from a two weeks vacation trip to the South.

Mrs. Roy Abbott spent the week-end at Yachats where she was visiting her mother.

Amy's Blanket Shop will be closed for a week getting straightened up at her new location. She plans to open Wednesday, April 3rd.

Max Britton was in Coquille Thursday on a business trip and while here he had lunch with his mother, Amy Britton, and helped her with some of her moving. Max is making his home with his new bride on the farm ten miles south of Bandon at New Lake.

Sunday, March 24, a Coos County Gideons meeting was held in North Bend at the Church of God. There was a business meeting and potluck dinner. The Coos County Gideons have pledged to place 500 Gideon Bibles in distribution. They have New Testaments in one of the Bay schools where they will be distributed to all the children who wish them. The children must range from the age of 10 years to 13. The next Gideon county meeting will be April 21 at the Church of Christ in Myrtle Point. A team of Gideons, composed of Donald Farr, John Boots and Charles Griffith, led by Mr. Farr, will hold a service at the Assembly of God church in Bandon on April 7.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Springer drove with their grandson to the beaches near North Bend on Sunday. They saw the two ships in distress off the mouth of Coos Bay. Springer reported he had never seen the bar so rough.

Vera Bishop is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. B. W. Dunn, during spring vacation from Oregon State college. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn and small son, Richard, spent from Thursday through Sunday visiting in Portland and Corvallis, bringing Miss Bishop to Coquille with them.

The Rev. Robert L. Greene, vicar of St. James' Episcopal church, attended the Diocesan Convention at Monday and Tuesday. Delegates to the convention from Coquille were J. A. Barton and Harry Slack.

Carol R. Horner, Y 3/c, U. S. Coast Guard, visited last week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Horner in Coquille. Horner is now stationed at the Coast Guard receiving station in Tacoma and he saw service in Alaska during the war. He hopes to be released soon.

Washington School will soon finish selecting the cast for its operetta, "Seasons of Happiness."

It will be produced later this spring and is under the direction of the teachers of the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Lefe Compton of Coos Bay were Sunday guests of the F. L. Greenough's.

Among those teachers who will spend their brief vacation in Portland attending the convention of the Oregon State Teachers' Association are Hazel Hanna, Wayne Smith, Carl Morrison and Mrs. Idyle Godard.

Visiting Vancouver, B. C., for a few days will be Miss Hanse, Miss Montgomery and Miss Ingman.

Paul Snider will visit briefly in Coquille.

Mrs. Thora Watson plans to persuade her husband to try their luck fishing for spring Chinook in the Rogue during her spring vacation.

Helen Thomas will leave Wednesday morning for the home of her parents in Ashland. She will take with her young Fritz Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Peterson of Coquille, who will spend the remainder of the week visiting her grandparents. They will return on Sunday.

New Bus Service Proposed By Vets

A new two-bus transportation system was proposed this week by William Pohl and R. K. Hillis, recently discharged from the Coast Guard. They would run buses from Bandon to Coquille and Coos Bay. Proposed fare would be $1.25 between Bandon and Coos Bay for a round-trip ticket. Application to the state public utilities commission is pending.
