4-H To Resume Full-Scale Show At State Fair

Awards valued at approximately $7000 have been arranged for the first full-scale 4-H club participation in the Oregon state fair at Salem since 1941, announces H. C. Seymour, state 4-H club leader at Oregon State college. The fair will be held from September 2 to 8.

Although a few exhibits and even fewer streamlined demonstrations were held or a couple of years at the fairgrounds and one year in Portland, this will be the first time in five years that the 4-H department at the fair will be back at its colorful prewar tempo. Premium lists for the 4-H contests and exhibits will be available shortly at all county extension offices.

Demonstration and judging contests have been scheduled in livestock, poultry, crops, rabbit, clothing, cooking, homemaking and canning, Seymour says. In addition, special demonstrations will include those in dairy foods sponsored by the Kraft company, baking demonstrations sponsored by Sear's-Roebeck, canning demonstration sponsored by the Spreckles company, dollar dinner contest sponsored by Safeway stores, and the style dress revue sponsored by the American Viscose company and the Oregon Bankers association.

About 750 boys and girls are expected to participate in the demonstration and judging contest alone, Seymour estimates. Livestock exhibits will be in the barns and the other exhibits in the new 4H club building, which has been converted for the youngsters from the old poultry building. The new building will provide more room for demonstrations and exhibits.

School Lunches Needed

The school lunch program, with its dual objectives of better health for children and wider markets for farm products, became permanent with the enactment of the National School Lunch act this month, according to E. Harvey Miller, Oregon director of the Production and Marketing administration, United States department of agriculture.

Operation of the program within the states is turned over to state agencies by the new legislation, which also provides federal assistance to states on a matching-of-funds basis.

"This means that the state Production and Marketing administration office no longer will administer the school lunch program in Oregon," Miller said. "Federal assistance to local school lunch programs this coming school year is dependent upon the state department of education assuming responsibility for the program in Oregon."

Rex Putnam, state superintendent of public instruction, has announced that his department is willing to take over operation of the program, but lacks the necessary administrative funds. He said that an application has been made to the state emergency board for an emergency appropriation of about $18,000 to operate the program for the 1946-47 school year.

REMEMBER your first tankful of good, postwar gasoline? What an improvement it was! But that added power put new strains on your engine — gave your motor oil a tougher job.

To handle this extra lubrication load, new Golden Shell Motor Oil is fortified . . . made more "powerful." It has an oxidation inhibitor that fights gums, lacquers and sludge. And without these to clog oil lines and screens, your engine gets better lubrication.

We believe the added protection New Golden Shell gives your engine, new or old, is worth while. If you think so, too, ask the man at the Shell pump for New Golden Shell, the largest selling 25¢ oil in the West.
