Correction

In a story turned in by a friend of the bride and groom last week in the marriage of Miss Anne Starr to Elmer Meaker, the groom's mother's name should have read Mrs. James Houston. Present at the wedding but not mentioned were also Mrs. Elsie Smith, Miss Anne Starr, and two brothers.

Fortunately this age is one of the revealing biographies. Happy are those who can use the experiences of others as their own, and be instructed by the other man's hopes, trials, decisions, and triumphs!

Each business and professional man must depend for appreciation upon accomplishments rather than any published creed of intentions.
