Mrs. Ann Kamph Complimented With Surprise Wedding Shower

Complimenting Ann Kamph, a bride-to-be, Mrs. Howard Moy and Mrs. "Chuck" Adams arranged a lovely miscellaneous shower Friday night at the home of Mrs. Adams. A large decorated umbrella centered the table covered with gifts, and small umbrellas fashioned the place cards.

After the numerous and lovely gifts were opened and admired, pencil and paper games were enjoyed. Ann Kamph, Marvin Jane Dimmick and Audrey Mattoon won high score prizes and Dorothy Harris, Rhea Burg and Ann Kamph, low score prizes. Refreshments of marshmallow parfait, macaroons and coffee were served by the hostesses.

Invited were: Mesdames Bob Bryan, Lynn Perrott, Wasley Laird, Ray Mattoon, Joe Sayre, Bob Harris, M. O. Hawkins, Tom Dimmick, J. L. Smith, Marlin Brandon, Jack Laird, Rhea Burg, Delbert Driskell, Fred Marineseau, Alton Clausen, Miss Elaine Gray, Miss Colleen Ireland Mrs. Wm. Blakeley of Sutherlin and the honored guest, Mrs. Ann Kamph.

Goes to Portland—Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Cary were business visitors to Portland last week-end.

Seventh Birthday Celebrated

Sunday, Judy Thrift celebrated her seventh birthday with a theatre party at the Roxy. Seven little girls enjoyed the show, the birthday cake, ice cream and hair ribbons, which they received as favors. Young guests were Sharon Cochran, Sally Sturdivan, Bobbie Jean Driskell, Mary Lee Walton, Ann Creager, Margie Shipp and Judy's brother, Dickie.

New At Brandon's—Mary Lou Payton is now working at Brandon's Fountain. She reports she enjoys the work very much.

Business and Professional Women Have Pleasurable Summer of Club Meetings

By Mrs. Cora Mackey
Club Correspondent

This has been a summer of real pleasure to the Business and Professional Women of Coquille. Each meeting has been an outstanding event in itself.

This held true when forty-one members met at the home of Dr. Eleanor Gutman on the Coos Bay highway for a 6:30 o'clock dinner, Monday evening. The main dish, "tamale pie," proved that as a cook Ruth Beyers is a keen competitor of husband-chef Jess. And what would such a dinner be without the unsurpassed Oregon grown watermelon? The Transportation and Telephone committee assisted Mrs. Beyers and Dr. Gutman.

After the dinner a business meeting was held presided over by president, Inez Rover. A special committee was appointed to draw up rules and regulations for the Gift Scholarship the club has voted to give this year to a high school senior. Members of this committee are Hazel Hanna, Florence Barton and Ariene Robertson.

President Inez Rover and District Health Chairman, Eleanor Gutman reported on a board meeting which they attended held at Eugene. They informed the club of the election of our national president, Sally Butler, to the office of international president at the meeting held in Paris. A letter of appreciation from Ida Oerding, secretary of the 4-H Leaders' association, for donations from the club was read. Imogene Cusac was appointed chairman of a committee to be in charge during National Business Women's week, October 5th to 11th.

Leona Bryant extended an invitation to meet at her home during the summer. The next meeting will be held at the Geaney cabin at Bandon August 18th, with a potluck supper. Attending were: Hazel Hanna, Lela Elrod, Ida Owen, Florence Barton, Florence Hallock, Bertha Smith, Viola Newton, Sylvia Ireland, Jessie Kay, Helen Detlefsen, Mabel Lee Johnson, Ariene Robertson, Claire Hultin, Lois Stevens, Mabel Hughes, Clara Bosserman, Leona G. Bryant, Emma M. Pierce, Chrissie Thrift, Marjorie Logsdon, Grace Detlefsen, Gene Cusac, Anna M. Rooney, Ida E. Oerding, Bess Maury, June Simmons, Anna C. Cary, Emeline M. Cole, Eleanor Gutman, Ruth Beyers, Belle Knife, Georgia Richmond, Alice Klenz, Mae Barton, Leah Rover, Hattie Lee Hollimon, Corrine Walsh, Inez Rover, Laura Brandon, Cora Mackey and Martha Purdy.

Writes Cook Book—Lessons on boiling water guaranteed to be sure-fire and successful were a part of a one-page cookbook prepared last Thursday by H. A. Cottengim of the Coos-Curry Electric cooperative for Mrs. Ann Kamph who is to be married this month. According to Mr. Cottengim he labored long and thoughtfully over the cookbook. Edna Robinson and Velma Gibbs were proofreaders on the cookbook.

Will Move — Mr. and Mrs. Ernest James and family will move to the Gage apartments this fall. They formerly lived in the house belonging to J. P. Beyers.

Peaches Are Ripe—Several groups of Coquillites drove to the Willamette valley and to the Umpqua valley last week-end to buy orchard fresh peaches. Some say by the time they paid for their trip they broke even. Peaches are two weeks ahead of schedule in the Willamette valley with Elbertas due the 10th of August.

Compliments Town — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moore of Salem were visitors to Coquille this week-end, and did a lot of shopping here. They remarked about the fine full stocks, and fair prices, and said Coquille was to be complimented in being one of the last towns in the state to be free of parking meters. In Salem they said they are now even in front of some churches, and the people aren't too happy about them.

Mainly About People

Move to Rink Creek—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lundy have moved this week to their new home on Rink creek. They formerly lived in Coquille in the Hallingstad apartments. Their new home will be quite a bit closer to their business, the Ward and Lundy Implement company which is on the Coquille-Myrtle Point highway.

Plans Cranberry Planting—Ivan Smalley, formerly with the Internal Revenue department of the U. S. government, and now a practicing accountant with offices in the Laird building, is planning a cranberry bog in the Bandon area. His brother-in-law and father will have an acre planted this year. Mr. and Mrs. Smalley plan on moving to Coquille as soon as they find housing. At present, Mr. Smalley is commuting from his home in Coos Bay.

To Open Office Here—Paul Lance, graduate engineer and geologist, who has returned with his family to Coquille after a year's graduate work at the University of Texas, will open an office here.

Takes Vacation In South—Louis Felsheim, Jr., editor of the Western World at Bandon, is off on a two weeks' vacation to Southern California and San Diego in particular. Louis who has been out of the navy for the past year or more in which he was an officer, will be relieved by his father, Judge Felsheim, in the editor's seat and no doubt at the composing stones.

Visit Sentinel Writer — Three state game officials conferred with Leneve, Sentinel columnist this week, and told him that some changes would be made in the various new laws which are raising the ire of many fishermen and hunters this year. The Leneve's now own and operate the Remote postoffice and general store.

Sold On Fishing—Joe Sayre was busy this week telling the stay-at-homes how much fun he had on the charter fishing cruiser of Ray Self's at Coos Bay. He went out with a group of friends and they all came back with salmon. The ocean, says Joe, was smooth and just like a lake.

People Are Different—Eddie Neufeldt of Safeway says people are getting a little different in their shopping habits. Formerly, he says, you could tell when there was a payday, now it doesn't make much difference. They buy all through the month with no big payday plunges. However, Manager Neufeldt says it isn't cutting his business. The local Safeway store is breaking all records for gross sales.

Directors Meet — Directors of the Once-in-awhile club met last week at the Coquille Electric, it was announced today by Sig Peterson, one of the directors. Business was transacted and dues collected from members in the "red."

Posts Property—Bert Gould has posted his property with the sign that any person crossing is in danger of being hurt by elk and deer. Who says the days of much game are past.

Enjoys Concert — Mrs. Ruth Beyers reports that she enjoyed the concert at the Pioneer Methodist church Friday night. She said the artists were very talented. Miss Ilo Elizabeth Allen, 16 year old pianist, was outstanding, she said.

Roads Dusty—Mr. and Mrs. Van Spores say the Coos Bay highway is pretty dusty these days as the highway maintenance crew finishes their work on it. New shoulders are being added with an oil-topping being placed on them. Cars in the one-way traffic lanes sometimes form a procession of two miles in length.

Go To Curry County—Mr. and Mrs. Lucky Mobley drove to Curry county this week on business.

On Vacation—Bud Griffin is on vacation from his duties as salesman for Crown Mills. He and his family have been fishing, picnicking, and having a restful time.

In Coquille Saturday—Representative and Mrs. Ralph Moore were Coquille visitors Saturday. They were visiting Mrs. Moore's mother at the Timmons' Rest home. Mrs. Moore's mother is in her 80's.

Proud of Machine — Manager Lewis Wiltshire of the First National bank is pretty proud these days of his new National check machine which adds 'em up, sorts 'em, and even files the checks away. It is a remarkable machine he says, even if it does cost plenty of moola.
