"Egg and I" Slated For Roxy Theatre Sunday Through Wednesday

"The Egg and I," the movie version of Betty MacDonald's best seller which has been read by more than 25 million persons, comes Sunday for four days to the Roxy Theatre, with Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray in the starring roles of Betty and Bob.

One of the most hilarious pieces of Americana ever concocted, the picture recounts the adventures of a honeymooning couple who try to wrest a living from a mountain-wilderness chicken ranch.

Miss Colbert discards her trademark glamour and literally goes back to the soil, even to the point of dunking herself in the odoriferous mud of a pigsty while she wrestles with "Cleopatra," the temperamental sow.

Exactly Tailored Role

MacMurray, as the slow-witted, pre-occupied husband who is unable to recognize the fact that his wife is working herself to death in a struggle with yesteryear's inconveniences, has a role exactly tailored to his style.

The book has been produced by Universal-International on a lavish scale. A spectacular forest fire which burns down the ranch just when the honeymooners think they have won their struggle is one of the highlights.

Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride play Ma and Pa Kettle, the earthy, shiftless, prolific neighbors whose doings are a constant succession of king-size laughs.

Story Line Added

The screenplay by Producer Fred Finklehoffe and Director Chester Erkinne follows the book with commendable fidelity but manages added suspense by the addition of a story line, in which Louise Albritton plays the other woman with designs on MacMurray.

Telephone Manager Now In Area

A recent arrival in Coos Bay is George Nelson McBride who will be district manager for the Marshfield district of the West Coast Telephone Company, according to Ray Dalton, vice-president and general manager of the company. Mr. McBride will replace Harry C. Chapman, who has been promoted to the general staff of the company in Everett, Washington.

Mr. McBride, who was born in Omaha, Nebraska, has a background of wide experience in the various phases of telephone work. After several years at the University of California, he entered the West Coast Telephone company's service in 1937, as a clerk in the Everett, Washington, office. During the past seven years, he has served variously as groundman, lineman, switchboardman, commercial engineer, gaining a thorough practical knowledge of telephone construction and maintenance. For the past four years he has been assistant district manager of the company's Everett, Washington, district. He has been active in Junior Chamber of Commerce affairs and other civic and community goings.

Mr. McBride intends to make Coos Bay his permanent home and he expects to be joined shortly by Mrs. McBride and their three children, Linda, George and David.

Charlotte Wornstaff is working at Farr and Elwood's after several weeks illness.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shilling spent the week-end at Medford.

Earl Benham and Jim Bunch spent the week-end at Eel Lake fishing.

Open To Veterans

Captain G. Raymond Meyers of the local army recruiting station announced today that a limited number of veterans may now re-enlist for the occupation forces in Europe.

Competition for these vacancies is expected to be keen, Captain Meyers pointed out, since they offer an unusual opportunity to veterans to visit in peace time when they have the leisure to enjoy its scenic grandeur. Thousands of veterans have been waiting this chance, he said. He urged all those who are qualified to apply at the Army Recruiting Station without delay.
