Roy School Students Celebrate Hallowe'en By Camping All Night in School House

Hallowe'en was celebrated in a somewhat unusual fashion at the Roy school when the intermediate and upper grades with their teacher, Mrs. Cora Mackey, "camped" all night in the schoolhouse. A wiener roast had been planned but the downpour prevented holding it outside. The rain failed to dampen the spirits of the campers, however, and a wiener supper was enjoyed in the room. The school being equipped with an electric plate, dishes, tables and cots, the pupils and teacher remained all night. Some of the girls attended the show in the evening, and the boys, being of a more adventuresome nature, explored the town. The rain and thought of the warmth of the schoolhouse and ice cream brought them back early. Games were played until "lights out" was declared. Breakfast was prepared and enjoyed in the morning before leaving for home. In the afternoon preceding the camping party, a party was given for the Primary grades. Games and refreshments of cider and doughnuts, popping corn and bobbing for apples made the little folks feel happy. It was fun!

Bridge Luncheon At Home Of Mrs. Creager

Chrysanthemums in rich autumnal shades graced the luncheon table when Mrs. Rodney Creager entertained on Thursday. Bridge was in play during the afternoon, prize winners being Mrs. U. E. McClary, Mrs. Ted Foss and Mrs. Mary McKeown. Mrs. Creager's guests were Mrs. U. E. McClary, Mrs. Gerald Stark, Mrs. Dan Fish, Mrs. Dale Elliott, Mrs. Dan Melton, Mrs. Ted Foss, Mrs. Mary McKeown, and Mrs. Lewis Wiltshire.

Masquerade Party Held At Klenz Home

On the eve before Hallowe'en, the home of Mrs. William E. Klenz was the scene of a bewitching masquerade party. The rooms were decorated with autumn leaves and crepe paper in the traditional Hallowe'en colors. Yellow and black streamers hung from the chandeliers, while pumpkins, bats, black cats, skeletons and owls were placed about in weird array.

The witches' black cauldron with the witches' brew waited for the guests to stir with the black ladle to receive their fortunes. Some of the fortunes told the guests to fish at the "Hoot Owl" pool which was a source of much merriment throughout the evening. Mrs. J. S. Barton, Sr., picked the grand fortune prize from the cauldron and Mrs. George E. Oerding pulled from the pool the grand "Hoot Owl" prize.

The guests were so well masqueraded, few were named until prize cards with the last letter of their names written, first were found by each. Masks were removed at which time favors in the form of noisemakers were given each guest.

Oklahoma was played with high prize being won by Mrs. Hazel Hanna. Consolation prize went to Miss Inez Rover, and travelling prize to Mrs. Laura Brandon. After much deliberation announcement was made that the winner of the mask prize was Mrs. Hal Pierce who was wearing a very angelic type mask, devoid of expression, and a long sleeved, high necked striped flannel nightgown.

Guests were Dr. Eleanor Gutman, Mrs. Hal Pierce, Mrs. E. L. Dettleson, Mrs. J. S. Barton, Sr., Mrs. Florence Hallock, Mrs. Alex Mackey, Mrs. George E. Oerding, Mrs. Clarence Barton, Mrs. Iris Elrod, Mrs. Frank Thrift, Mrs. Louis Holimon, Mrs. Laura Brandon, Mrs. T. S. Stevens, Mrs. R. C. Vaughan, Mrs. Tom Dettleson, Mrs. Ned Kay, Mrs. Hazel Hanna, Miss Bess Maury, Miss Ida Oerding, Miss Arlene Robertson, Miss Inez Rover, Miss Elynor Oerding, Miss Wilma Hefner and the hostess, Mrs. Klenz.

Son Born—Mr. and Mrs. Evan Albom received word on Friday of the birth of a nine pound boy, Danny Nils, to Mr. and Mrs. Mel Habberstad of Spokane. Mrs. Habberstad was the former Norma Albom. Before her marriage she was a beauty operator for Alice Roberts in Coquille.

Mrs. R. L. Cochran Entertains At Bridge

Mrs. Ralph L. Cochran entertained at two tables of bridge on Thursday evening. Prize winners were Mrs. Wm. Barrow and Mrs. A. D. Elliott. The players were Mrs. R. M. Fish, Mrs. Wm. Barrow, Mrs. T. K. Foss, Mrs. A. D. Elliott, Mrs. L. B. Gould, Mrs. Rodney Creager, Mrs. T. H. Gremgard, Mrs. Lewis Wiltshire and the hostess, Mrs. Cochran.

Three Links Club Sponsors Dance

Dancing to the Southstone orchestra, was the form of Hallowe'en entertainment chosen for an affair sponsored by the Three Links club and held in the I.O.O.F. hall on Saturday evening. The guests, who danced in a gaily decorated hall, were members of the Rebekah and Odd-fellows lodges.

Refreshments, consisting of delicious pie and coffee, were served during the evening.

Grange Members Have Festive Party

On Friday evening the Union hall was the scene of a lively Hallowe'en party sponsored by the Grange.

The hall was artistically decorated with orange and black streamers, witches and black cats.

Throughout the evening specially arranged games were played.

At a banquet table decorated with gourds and autumn leaves pumpkin pie with whipped cream, coffee, doughnuts and cider were served to sixty-five Grangers and their families.

Juvenile Grange To Be Organized

It has been announced by Master Paul McNair of the Coquille Grange that a Juvenile Grange is being organized. All Grangers with children are urged to bring their children to the next regular Grange meeting which will be held Friday, Nov. 14.

Mrs. George Laird Entertains Monday

Mrs. George Laird was an afternoon hostess on Monday when her guests were members of the Ecadrien club. The afternoon was spent sewing and refreshments were served. Present were Mrs. George R. Johnson, Mrs. Floyd Robb, Mrs. W. E. Bosserman, Mrs. Theo Clinton and Mrs. Earl Nosler.

At Langlois

Miss Roberta Medley Given Bridal Shower

Miss Roberta Medley whose marriage to Mr. Phillip Seeber will take place on Thursday evening at the St. James' Episcopal church, was honored at a pre-nuptial shower given in the Masonic banquet room on Monday evening by the Job's Daughters, of which organization she is a past queen.

In the banquet room, a huge artificial wedding cake, decked with bridal figurines, centered the table. From the cake ribbons were stretched to each girl's place and at the end of the ribbon was a scroll in which was the girl's individual fortune.

Punch and cake were served at which time the fortunes were read. Gifts from the thirty assembled guests were presented to Miss Medley, with many good wishes.

Hostesses for the affair were Misses Joanne Newton, Judy Slack, Patry Dettleson and Gay Cedarquist.

McClellans Return From Eastern Trip

Mr. and Mrs. George McClellan have returned from a month's vacation trip which took them through twenty-four states. In Washington, D. C., they visited Mrs. McClellan's sister, Mrs. Don Barnard, and in Levering, Michigan, they visited Mr. McClellan's great uncle, Frank Byhaw. They saw the Black Hills in South Dakota, and also went pheasant
