DON'T GO INTO DEBT BEYOND YOUR ABILITY TO PAY

It is difficult to judge conditions too far in advance, for which reason abnormally long terms are not sound, and are unfair to you, the customer.

While a six per cent carrying charge is reasonable, the cost increases in proportion to the additional time you are granted for payment of the obligation.

Installment credit is a convenience, but should be properly used. Terms on most purchases of durable merchandise should not exceed fifteen to eighteen months. Down payments of 20 per cent to 25 per cent of the purchase price are advisable, and only in exceptional cases should smaller down payments be considered.

Don't go into debt beyond your ability to pay. Limit your purchases to an amount that you can conveniently pay out of income.

BUY WISELY—PAY PROMPTLY.
