Coquille Grange No. 396 Meets Friday, 13th

About 45 attended Coquille Grange February 13th at the Union hall on Second street. There was a discussion on the river flood control to take advantage of the federal aid appropriation for that purpose. Ed Detlefsen gave a good talk on the subject.

Jack Hansell, assistant county agent, gave an interesting talk about weed control in the county.

A short program was arranged by the lecturer followed by a valentine box. Each one read his valentine which caused a great deal of merriment.

The Juvenile Grange met in the basement with a good attendance.

Mrs. Marcum Gives Husband Birthday Party

Mrs. Roy Marcum was hostess at the dinner hour on Monday evening when she entertained at a surprise affair for her husband on his birthday anniversary.

A birthday cake, decorated in blue and white, centered the dinner table, and novelty place cards added to the attractive arrangement.

Contract rummy was played following dinner, prize winners being Mrs. Lon Clark, Mrs. Ernest Smith, Lon Clark and Allen Kellenberger.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kellenberger and Mr. and Mrs. Lon Clark.

Pioneers Name Nominating Committee

A nominating committee consisting of J. E. Norton, Fred True, and A. N. Gould were named Saturday by President J. Albert Matson. This team will nominate officers for the Coos-Curry Pioneer and Historical association.

At the regular business meeting in the Hotel Coquille Saturday noon, twenty-three officers and members were present.

Work on heating the new museum will be done shortly, President Matson reported.

On the drive for shelves, lighting, and heating in the museum, Mr. Matson said the electric range had netted the organization $600.

Emil Peterson of Coos Bay reported on his work being done on gathering material for a history of Coos county, but said the lack of any funds for the purpose made a difficult job. According to officers of the pioneer group, an effort will be made to raise funds to help Mr. Peterson.
