Fairview Hall Scene of Lovely Wedding Sunday When Madeline Croy Becoms Bride

Baskets of calla lilies before a bank of azaleas and pink rhododendron with candles in candelabras decked Fairview Grange hall Sunday, June 6th, for the wedding of Miss Madeline Ann Croy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fanno, to Harold C. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller.

The Rev. Jacob Moornaw officiated. Coming down the aisle on her step-father's arm the bride wore a white satin gown with brocade yoke and mitts. Her net fingertip veil was held in place by pink rosebuds and she carried a white Bible with single lily and pink rose buds on satin streamers.

Mrs. Bud Fuller, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor in a pale yellow gown of sheer rayon and lace. Miss Delores Fanno, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles and Patricia Milled, sister of the bridegroom was flower-girl. The two girls were dressed as twins in pink ruffled organdy floor length dresses with wide ribbon sashes.

Lawrence Bay cousin of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Duane Frye and Ivyline Frye were ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the grange dining room, where Mrs. Fanno, mother of the bride, cut a large wedding cake. Friends helped serve the 75 guests present with cake and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are now at home in Fairview after a week's and with aunt of the bride at Phoenix and Myrtle Creek.
