Greyhounds Operate On Daylight Saving

Due to recently increased Pacific Greyhound schedules north and southbound from Coquille, many favorable comments have been received on this added, convenient service, it has been reported by William H. Barrow, local Greyhound agent.

Effective June 30, all Pacific Greyhound schedules will operate on Pacific daylight saving time for the summer months, Barrow advised.

With the addition of two north and south schedules, Greyhound now serves Coquille with seven daily trips to Portland, five of which are via the Coast highway, and two via Eugene, and five through schedules southbound to Eureka and San Francisco, in addition to a daily schedule to Roseburg, one to Myrtle Point and one to Bandon.

Crops Poorer in Mid-West, Frank Leslie Finds

"Crops were hurt by the lack of moisture the first part of the season, and now by hail storms," Frank Leslie, former veteran city recorder, said today, after an extensive visit to Kansas, Nebraska, and Colorado. "They expect only a 30 per cent crop," he stated, but also added that bumper crops last year will tide the farmers over for several years.

Mr. Leslie, who returned to Coquille last week after over a month of visiting relatives and friends, spent part of his time visiting his sister in San Francisco. Weather there was fine, nice and sunny, he said. He went to Denver where he visited his sister; to Buena Vista, Colorado, Grand Junction, via car to Topeka, Kansas. He also visited in Beloit, Glen Elder, Neliden, and Benkelman, Nebraska.

One of the early residents of that area, Mr. Leslie was interviewed by the editor of the Benkelman paper, and told of the early days there.

After all his traveling, however, the Coquille citizen said he was awfully glad to be back in Coos county.

Will Visit For Week—Mr. and Mrs. Byron Davis of San Francisco, and Mrs. Davis' mother, Mrs. F. M. Dresser of Lindsay and Huntington and will spend a week visiting Mr. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Davis.

Mrs. Dick Buckles were in town from North Bend on Tuesday.

Returns From Conference — Rev. Lawrence Guderian returned on Tuesday from Portland where he attended the Methodist church annual conference. Mr. Guderian was re-elected conference secretary.
