

Church Man Will Conduct Services

Dr. S. Raynor Smith, superintendent of the Southern District of the Methodist church, will be in Coquille on Wednesday, October 27, to hold the first quarterly conference of Pioneer Methodist church.

Dr. Smith, who now resides in Eugene, is holding similar conferences in the churches at North Bend and Coos Bay prior to coming to Coquille. At this conference the plans and procedure of the work of the church for the fall season will be presented and discussed.

All Methodist churches are asked to raise World Service giving, giving to the mission program of the church, one-third over last year. This matter, along with the Reserve Ministers' Pension fund of the church, will occupy some of the attention of the conference. Delegates to the Missionary Conference of Protestant churches to be held in Portland Nov. 8-9, will be elected during the local church conference.

Dr. Smith expects to hold a conference at the Myrtle Point church on Thursday following the Wednesday meeting here.

C. C. Farr Heads County Gideons

C. C. Farr of Coos Bay was elected president of the Coos County Gideons at a luncheon meeting held at the Coquille hotel on Sunday.

Other officers elected were Roland James, North Bend, vice president; Neil Kyne, Coquille, secretary; Walter Parker, Coquille, treasurer, and Everett Russell, Myrtle Point, chaplain. The installation of officers was conducted by Rev. George Wheatley. Donald Farr, evangelistic secretary for the group, reported that during the past year twenty meetings had been held in the various churches of the county.

John Shilling reported that 173 Gideon Bibles had been placed during the year, making a total of 987 placed by the County group, and 2119 youth testaments distributed to school children, making a total of 3479 placed by the Coos county society.

Guests at the meeting were Rev. and Mrs. Earl Soward, Rev. and Mrs. Ray Harrison, Rev. and Mrs. Howard May, Rev. Lawrence Guderian and Rev. and Mrs. George Wheatley.
