North Bend Woman To Lead R. N. A.

Elected oracle at the Royal Neighbors county convention held in Coquille Wednesday was Mrs. Mildred Stark of North Bend. Other officers elected include Mrs. Beatrice Osborn, Coos Bay, vice oracle; Mrs. Sarah Slagle, Coos Bay, recorder-receiver; and Mrs. Jane Torrey, Coquille, chancellor. Mrs. Belle Belloni, Coquille, is the past oracle.

Mrs. Mae E. Logan, state supervisor, of Portland, was present and conducted the installation ceremonies. Assisting her were Ann Montgomery, Coos Bay, who acted as ceremonial marshal, and Elsa Walker, Medford, as chancellor. Twelve members from Myrtle Point acted as escort.

Five candidates were initiated during the afternoon session of the convention, namely Ona Gilbert and Florence Sell, Myrtle Point; Catherine Aber, Powers, and Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, Coos Bay.

Following the banquet served in the I. O. O. F. hall a program was presented with each participating camp taking part. A tribute drill was given by the Coquille group to the state supervisor, Mrs. Logan. Myrtle Point members gave a fancy drill, and stunts were put on by the Powers and Coos Bay camps. A doll dance was given by Leota and Louise Johnson, Coquille, and a Hawaiian war dance was performed by Irene and Gay Cedarquist of Coquille. Speed Anderson, Langlois, impersonated famous piano players.

North Bend will be the meeting place for the next convention.

Clyde Haga - Dorothy Lapp United

A lovely wedding of Easter Sunday in Coos Bay, was that of Miss Dorothy Lapp and Clyde Haga, who exchanged wedding vows at three o'clock in the afternoon at the candlelight altar of the First Baptist church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Lapp of Coos Bay and the groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Haga of Arago. Rev. Cecil W. Brown performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of many relatives and friends of the young couple. Tall standards of white stock and potted Easter lilies, together with the lighted tapers in tall candelabra, formed the altar setting.

The bride's white slipper satin gown, made by her mother, was fashioned with a net yoke, ruffles of satin at the shoulder and waist lines and a full gathered skirt made en train. Her fingertip veil of net edged with wide lace was held in place with a Mary Stuart cap trimmed with simulated orange blossoms. She carried an all-white bridal bouquet of carnations, snapdragon and stephanotis centered with gardenias. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Kenneth Daugherty was matron of honor. She wore a gown of yellow taffeta. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink snapdragons centered with gardenias and having streamers matching her gown.

Miss La Verne Frakes and Mrs. Marvin Howley were the bridesmaids. Miss Frakes' gown was of blue sheer over taffeta. They carried colonial bouquets similar to that of the matron of honor, the bouquets having streamers matching their respective gowns.

Linda Yates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Yates of Roseburg, was the flower girl. She wore a floor length gown of yellow organdy, with a lavender head-dress and carried a basket of yellow flowers. Little Jerry Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Jordan, was the ring bearer.

Marvin Howley was best man for the groom and ushers were Chester Lapp, the bride's brother, and Kenneth Daugherty. Mrs. Berl Cox, wearing an aqua gown of taffeta and net and a corsage of deep pink carnations, played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Marjorie Cox who sang "At Dawning" and "Because."

Miss Cox wore a pale green brocade taffeta gown with matching mitts and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Louise Lapp, sister of the bride, and her cousin, Janet Smith, wearing identical gowns of dainty flowered material, were the candlelighters.

At the large reception which followed in the church social hall, Mrs. Don Smith, aunt of the bride, cut the wedding cake, after the newlyweds had in traditional fashion, cut the first piece. Mrs. Ralph Allen, another aunt of the bride, served the coffee, and Mrs. Homer Stokes, aunt of the groom, presided at the punch bowl. Miss Lois Frakes was in charge of the guest book. Others assisting were Joan Harrington, Alice Smith and Delores Couty.

Following a wedding trip up the coast, the couple returned and will make their home at Arago. For traveling the bride wore a two-piece aqua dress with an off-

Defeat Spring Fever With Right Foods For Spring As A Real "Tonic"

That "tired feeling" which occurs around this time of year, is often called the result of imagination and the weather. In the light of newer knowledge in nutrition, however, it is now understood that there is a real cause, and that the right kind of food is important in maintaining our energy and sense of well being.

For example, one of the food elements which may be lacking in the diet is iron. Iron is essential to the formation of good red blood. Lean meat, especially liver, is a valuation source of iron, says Reba Staggs, home economist, and she recommends that it be served regularly in the diet, to insure an adequate supply of this mineral. Especially is this true in the case of children.

Liver is easy to prepare. It can be sliced and broiled or braised. If it is a large piece, it should be braised. It can also be ground or chopped and broiled in patties, baked in a loaf, or combined with other foods to make a variety of tempting spring dishes.

An unusual recipe for a liver dish that will be appetizing as well as beneficial to children is Liver Rolls with Sausage Stuffing, suggested by Miss Staggs:

Liver Rolls with Sausage Stuffing
6 large slices liver
6 to 8 links cooked pork sausage
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 small onion, grated
1/2 cup hot water
Salt
Pepper
6 slices bacon

Pour hot water over the liver slices. Sausage left over from breakfast may be cut into pieces for sausage stuffing. If no cooked sausage is on hand, brown and partially cook the sausage first. Combine with bread crumbs. Season with grated onion, salt and pepper and moisten with hot water. Pile a teaspoon of bread dressing on each of the scalped liverslices. Roll and wrap a slice of bacon around the outside. Fasten the ends with toothpicks. Place in a baking dish. Add one-half cup hot water, cover and cook slowly in a moderate oven for forty-five minutes. Remove the cover during the last fifteen minutes in order to brown the bacon.
