

Coquille Water Curtailed For Irrigation To One Hour On Set Days

Suburban Area Cut Off For Extra Water

Coquille faced new limitations on water this week with only 46,000,000 gallons left, and no sign of rain in sight.

Taking action Monday night to combat the growing gravity of the water supply, the city council voted to cut off all water for irrigation outside of the city limits, and to limit irrigation in the city to one hour from 6 to 7 p. m. on either Monday, Wednesday or Friday; or Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, according to the present schedule.

It was brought out in discussion that there were still some violators of the water rulings who were using water at times when they were not allowed to, but that most people are aware of the seriousness of the situation.

The well digging at the edge of the city is progressing and the well is down to sixty-five feet. Several cave-ins have occurred, but this was expected, and there is sign of a good supply of water at the well. It is expected that it will yield around 350 gallons per minute which would help the city system greatly at this time.

In anticipation of the new well, the city council oked the proposal to start work on a ten-inch water main on Tenth street. A new two-inch line will also replace a three-quarter inch line on North Schroeder street.

Lumber Market Looking Upward Prices Firming

Lumber and logging outfits contacted in a roundup this week by The Sentinel disclosed that the lumber market is in a good state, and with the exception of poor grades of logs or lumber, prices are remaining steady and demand is comparatively firm.

Outfits dealing with loggers and logging outfits say their accounts are in fine shape, and things look much better.

Girl Scouts Plan Open House Today

Entertainment for friends and relatives will be the feature Thursday afternoon (today) at the close of the six days of Coquille's Day Camp, according to Mrs. Virgil Beaudette, camp director. Open house of the various little camps in Patterson Grove will begin at 1:30 in the afternoon, with the program beginning at 2 p. m.

All of the girls and adults enjoying the fun at this annual Girl Scout camp will participate in the songs, games and dances. All adults and children of the community are invited to the affair.

Farr Addresses Kiwanis Clubbers

"Good Credit Practices For 1949," was the topic of an address given by Donald Farr, local businessman, at a meeting of the North Bend Kiwanis club on Monday.

Mr. Farr stated that credit is based on cooperation rather than competition. Cooperation between merchants of a community and a centralized credit bureau prevent business houses from being victimized by unscrupulous buyers who fail to meet their obligations. He urged that customers who are buying on time be listed with a credit bureau so that a record of their ability to meet their obligations will be known to others who may wish to extend credit at some future time.

Retail credit is important to the economic development of a community, Mr. Farr emphasized.

You Can Have Your Dusty Street Fixed

Want your dusty street "dustless"? You can have it for the small sum of nine cents per running foot. If you want to get your neighbor to go in with you and deposit the money at the city hall in Coquille.

The city street committee with Engineer Joe Kuffler have arranged with the Coos county crew to give oil treatments to all dusty streets in Coquille, and all you have to do is file for the work, make your deposit for the work, and it will be done.

Port Orford Has Two Hold-ups

Port Orford had excitement a plenty Tuesday when a soldier AWOL from Fort Lewis allegedly staged two armed holdups and fled in a stolen Chevrolet coach from Salem which later was wrecked in a thrilling chase on Humburg mountain.

The prisoner in the Gold Beach jail, with a ten thousand dollar bail, is Charles Ray Bass of Texas. He is charged with assault and armed robbery.

He is accused of robbing Mrs. Susie Nicholson at a service station three miles north of Port Orford and then while fleeing of officers, of robbing the Humburg state park caretaker of $200. Taking part in the chase of the soldier were Officer Charles Strawn of the state police, H. W. Herron, Gold Beach police officer, and Officer Chester Case of Port Orford.

Case was crowding the speeding car on Humburg mountain when it went out of control and the AWOL soldier took to the brush.

WOMAN OF THE MONTH

Mrs. Mabel Hughes Honored With Title Of Woman of Month By Legion Auxiliary

A lady who has devoted much of her life to community service has been chosen by the American Legion Auxiliary as July Woman of the Month; we present Mrs. Ed. Hughes. Mabel was born in Sprague, Washington, but moved to Idaho while still a small child. She completed grade and high school and one year at the University of Idaho before moving to Oregon in 1919. She continued her education at the University of Oregon, majoring in Public School Music.

While still living in Idaho she met Edward W. Hughes, whom she later married in Ashland, Oregon, October 4, 1922.

They established their home on Riverbend Farm near Grants Pass in 1923 where they lived until moving to Coquille in 1943.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes have one daughter, Margaret, now Mrs. Philip Alborn of Newport, and two granddaughters, Judith Ann and Janis Harriet. Margaret also attended the University of Oregon and was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta. Margaret's husband was a member of the Armed Forces during World War II and is at present a member of the Oregon State Police.

Mabel joined the American Legion Auxiliary in 1928 and has been a continuous member since that time, holding President, First Vice President, Historian, Treasurer, as well as chairman of various standing committees, and is now president of the Past Presidents' club.

She was very active in other organizations as well, having served as president of the Grants Pass College club; Master of Grange for two years; Pomona of the Oregon State Grange for four years as well as serving as an officer in Josephine County Pomona Grange and the Rotary-Anns of Grants Pass. In still another field of community service Mabel worked with the Josephine County Extension service. She served for five years as president of a local Extension unit, as well as chairman of the County Extension Council and president of the Oregon State Extension council for two years. In connection with this work she served as 4-H club leader for seven of the nine years that Margaret was a 4-H club member. While a member of the Josephine Extension unit she coached two of the winning plays in a county-wide contest, one of which competed in a State Play Festival at Corvallis. At present she is president of the Business and Professional Women's club and a member of Eastern Star.

Ed has also done civic work, his hobby being youth activities. He spent twenty years leading clubs in 4-H and working as Boy Scout leader. For the past five years he has conducted the Coquille Teen-Age club. He has been a member of the American Legion since 1920, a Rotarian since 1927. He attended University of Idaho where he was a member of Phi Gamma Delta. Ed is now manager of the National Cranberry Association cannery in Coquille.

Mabel's mother, Mrs. Marcy, is a retired educator. Her brother, Lloyd H. Smith, is production manager for Jergins Oil Co. in Long Beach. Mabel believes that everyone should have a definite interest in civic affairs and in some way take part in community life.

Someone Wins Every Week

This week, and every week for the next 52 weeks, Coquille merchants are going to see to it that "It Pays to Shop at Home," and if you'll turn to the big page featuring a cartoon by Denver POST Artist Chester Klock you'll find out the whole story.

For there are ten free tickets to ten people good at either the Liberty or the Roxy theatre, and you only pay the federal tax; and believe it or not, a great big case of Royal Crown Cola, by the Nehi Beverage company and an equally big and nice case of Seven-Up given by the Seven-Up company. On these you pay only the deposit for the bottles and you can turn in the empties to get your refund at any dealer's.

From time to time new and greater things are in store for you, the people who make Coquille your shopping center, so don't fail to miss this great new and exciting page in The Sentinel.

Your name may be among the advertisements of the Coquille merchants. If so go to the store in whose advertisement your name appears.

The names are taken from The Sentinel subscription list. If you don't get The Sentinel, phone 358 today and have us put your name on the list. It's only $2.50 per year, and we'll charge your account. You might be a winner, too.

Garden Club Plans Flower Display

A record number were present when the Coquille Valley Garden club met on Wednesday, July 13, at the A. N. Gould home. The members decided to concentrate on flower displays at their first garden show to be held Sunday, July 31, at the Community building, and to defer until next year a vegetable display classification.

Methods of propagation of shrub cuttings were brought out in a talk by Mr. Gould. The favored method is to take four to six inch cuttings of half-ripened wood, and plant to about half their depth in a flat of sand, after removing all but two top leaves on the cutting. Keep the sand constantly wet, but not flooded nor soggy, and the cuttings should root in a short time.

Transplant to individual pots or to larger bed when the cutting is well started. Also brought out by Mr. Gould was that this is the time of the year to transplant wild azaleas. An adequate planting hole should be prepared with sand and leaf mold mixed in the bottom before the wild plant is dug. Fertilize sparingly with an acid type fertilizer. Keeping the plants wet is an essential factor in getting them started, he emphasized.

Beeson Resigns County Ag Post

Kenneth Beeson resigned this week from his position as county extension agent. Mr. Beeson's father passed away recently and he will go to Clatskanie, Oregon, to manage the home farm. Taking Mr. Beeson's place temporarily is William Furtick, a recent graduate of Kansas State Agricultural college. Mr. Furtick majored in livestock and dairying and has had experience with 4-H club work. He will assist with the 4-H summer camp in Coos county, scheduled to commence August 1.

Rotary Family Picnic On Sunday

The annual Rotary club family picnic is scheduled to take place at Croft lake on Sunday, July 24, according to Lud Scharfer, who is chairman for the event. The potluck picnic dinner has been planned for 1:30 p. m. and an interesting program of water sports has been arranged. Coffee, ice cream and soft drinks will be furnished by the club.

On Mr. Scharfer's committee are Howard Leatherman, Dick Slater, Noble Chowning, Ralph Cochran, William Fortier, Tom Stevens, Wasley Laird and Don Farr.

REA Approves $165,000 New Loan To Coos-Curry Electric Cooperative

The approval of a new R. E. A. loan of $165,000 to the Coos-Curry Electric Cooperative, Inc., Coquille, was announced today by Ivan Laird, president of the board of directors. The new loan will be used for the new headquarters building in Coquille, 2-way radio and deficiency on previously approved construction due to increased construction costs.

Kiddies' Circus Set Friday In Playground

The Circus is coming to town! Clowns! Wild animals! Side shows!

This kids' circus will be staged in Myrtle grove, behind the Community building by the boys and girls of the Park Commission's Summer Playground under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Peery.

Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. favorite dogs, cats and chickens, will become fabulous lions, tigers and bears. All small pets should be brought in a cage and large dogs on a leash. Prizes will be awarded for the cutest pet, the most unusual pet, and the best tricks by a pet.

But what is circus without clowns? Anyone is eligible to assume this role and add the sparkle and humor of clever capers, as well as cop the prize as the best clown.

Of course, it takes a lot more than this to make a circus, and the committee made up of Claude Liday, Marcia Mauney, Don Fish, Jimmy Meadows, and Nancy Ferritt are the ones who will advise how various talents may be employed. More prizes will go to the best side show attractions, the best performance by an entertainer, and lots of others.

Everyone in town from 5 to 18 is eligible to participate, and absolutely everyone is invited. There is no charge for admission. Side show starts at 2 and the circus at 2:30 Friday afternoon.

Flowers Urged From Out-of-Town Garden Lovers

Flowers from out-of-town gardeners were urged today in an S.O.S. sent out by the Coquille Garden club heads who met Wednesday night to plan for the Garden Show at the Coos-Curry Pioneer and Historical Association annual picnic Sunday, July 31st.

The drastic water shortage and hot weather has played havoc with local flowers, the club said, and all flower lovers in Coquille or outside of the city, whether or not they are members of the Garden club are urged to submit flowers for the show.

Meeting at the home of Mrs. James Richmond last night were Mrs. Myrtle Clausen, Mrs. Ed Detlesen, Ed Hughes, Ralph Cochran, Bert Gould, Dr. and Mrs. Richmond and Mrs. Bob Bailey.

Rotary Official To Visit Here

District Governor, Charles Cooley, Grants Pass, will pay his official visit to the Coquille Rotary club on Tuesday, July 26. An evening assembly to be held in the Cedar Room at the Coquille Hotel has been planned, at which time local Rotary committee chairmen will present their reports.

Committee chairmen will be meeting at noons each day until the assembly at which time President Farr and the chairmen will work out reports to be given.
