Ernie Wallace Likes Satisfied Customers

"It is our wish to make every customer a satisfied customer," says genial Ernie Wallace, proprietor of Jim's Market, which is located in Henninger's Grocery on the corner of Taylor and Second streets.

Ernie's customers will tell you that you will always be greeted with a smile at Jim's Market, and you will be assured of prompt and efficient service.

Mr. Wallace was initiated into the butcher business while he was still a youngster. His first job was in a Medford meat market. He has lived in Oregon the greater part of his life, though his native state is Idaho. He attended school in Lakeview, Oregon.

He came to Coquille in 1938, and for a number of years worked for Thrift's Grocery. In 1941 he married a Coos county girl, Harriet Danielson. The Wallace's now have two children.

Ernie purchased the meat market from Jim Harra six years ago and since that time has built up a reputation which is enviable.

Working with Ernie is Harold Dey, who like Ernie is always ready with a pleasant word. Harold has been with the firm since his discharge from service on April 1, 1946.
