Fairview School Has Busy Fall

BY DICK LEFORGEY

The Fairview school has 64 pupils enrolled this year, with three teachers. The present classes are as follows: first grade, 11 pupils; second, six pupils; teacher, Mrs. F.

McKinley

Monday, Oct. 24, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Grenske of Myrtle Creek stopped at the Clarence Churchill home for a few days' visit.

Oct. 31 Mrs. Hilda Brown went to the school house and organized her 4-H sewing club.

Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Zeigler, Jr., Fred Zeigler and George Armstrong recently made a trip to Seattle, Wn. of a few days.

Friday, Nov. 4, the McKinley Home Extension unit met with Mrs. Ben Hudson. Mrs. Ella Winkels, the county home extension agent, was out and gave a very interesting demonstration on vegetable cookery.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cress are the proud parents of a baby girl, born Tuesday, Nov. 1, in the Mast hospital. Mrs. Cress and baby were brought home Sunday. Stanley Cress has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. H. Hall and Ronald has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cress.

Dungey. Third grade, ten pupils; fourth, eight pupils; fifth, five pupils; teacher, Mrs. J. Kinsfather. Sixth grade, 11 pupils; seventh, six pupils; eighth, seven pupils; teacher, Mrs. R. McCuskey.

We have recently adopted a plan to have sewing and wood-working classes every Friday afternoon. Mrs. McCuskey teaches sewing and Mrs. Kinsfather has the boys for woodworking. We had a popcorn sale to raise money for tools for the boys' class.

The upper grades have had two cookie sales to raise money for the school fund. We are ordering films for the moving pictures with some of this money.

The school plans to give a pie social and party on November 19th. Watch notices for the place where it will be held and for full particulars.

All three rooms had Halloween parties. Plays were given and refreshments were served. Everyone had a good time. The fact that there were not "tricking" in the evening on the school grounds shows that the children have a growing respect for public property.

Little Billy Briggs has acquired a lot of new friends since he moved into town! His father now operates an ice cream factory.

Danny Schneider who brought a book on C. V. A. progress to school, found it the other day after it had been lost, and innocently exclaimed, "Mrs. McCuskey, I found that Dam Book!"

There were a lot of happy (?) faces Tuesday when report cards were given out. Mrs. McCuskey reports the following perfect attendance for the past nine week period: Grade 1: Alice Enyart, Claudia St. John, Morris Hulsey, Terry Middleton, Frankie Wier. Grade 2: Elaine Hatcher, Karen May, Peggy Nicholson, Kay Springstead, Jack Hill. Grade 3: Ruby Kilpatrick, Kathy Schrag, Linda Roady, Melvin Jensen, Lyle Springstead, Mike Wilson.

Grade 4: Bobby Webb, Fred Wigington. Grade 5: Ronald Gasner, John Hulsey, Larry Nicholson. Grade 6: Janice Gasner, Charles Chapman, Jerry Jensen. Grade 7: Monte Webb. National Education Week last week was observed by special invitations extended to the parents to visit school. The holiday on Armistice day was enjoyed.

How GROUPING mills helps all of us

PROSPEROUS communities are based on profitably operated industries that offer steady employment. In such industries a big share of the money coming in from all over America through the sale of products is used to pay steady wages. Steady incomes make it possible for people to build homes, for merchants to build businesses, and for government (through taxes) to maintain schools, libraries, roads and other public needs.

This company's objective is permanent logging and mill operation. Our system of tree farms is aimed toward providing an endless supply of raw materials. Our program of diversified manufacturing and plant integration (grouping of plants on one mill-site) is aimed toward making more products from less timber by increased utilization. This is made economically possible by more efficient operation—as a result of savings in material handling, centralized power source and administrative costs. These programs, coupled with development of new products and expansion of stabilized markets, are important steps toward a permanent and profitable forest industry for all of us.

R-U-AWARE?

We're not sticking our necks out when we urge you to come to us for auto service. After last summer's hot and dusty mileage, your car is tired and rundown. It doesn't have the spring in its joints it had last May. It's time to bring it to the COQUILLE SERVICE STATION.
